PROVINCIAL POLITICS The Liberal party in this province is preparing with confidence for the trial of strength in the provincial election. This spirit of confidence has been growing steadily, because of the failure of the Fleming government to adopt a progressive policy, and because of the revelation of incompetence and the squandering of money on political favorites.

ON SAME TERMS. He was a long-looked tragedian, and at last he had obtained a speaking part. But it was only four words he had to say. "The queen has swooned!" Quite simple! It was the first night, and he had invited his own particular pals to come and cheer him.

REAL PASSION. The great soprano was singing at Bunsford. Her desire was to finish up the concert in time to take the train back to Melbourne, and, at the last moment, her voice broke, and she gave way to a flood of passionate tears, and staggered from the platform. "Now," she said, "drive the blues for that strain!" Sydney Bulletin.

THE MILLION FOR MANITOBA LEAGUE was organized in Winnipeg in January. Despite the fact that there is so great a stream of immigration pouring into the western country, the province of Manitoba is not receiving what it regards as a fair share of farm settlers. The purpose of the new league is to get more people upon the land in that province, and to encourage the development of mixed farming.
