West Bay, passed up the bay yesterday, Sch. Maggie Lynds is still ashore at Black Point, where she is likely to remain till the next high tides. On Saturday oil barrels were attached to her with the hope that she would float, but no good came of their use, despite the fact that the tugs Storm King and Neptune had a pull at her. The water has fallen off two feet since she went ashore, and the chances of getting her off at the present time are becoming have been seriously damaged.

Ship Baracore, Capt. Yeo, arrived from New York yesterday afternoon. She was 10 days coming down. On the 7th and 8th she met a gale from the eastward and was driven some distance to the leeward. A wreck was sighted about 30 or 40 miles to the south of Nantucke Shoals. She looked like a vessel of 400 or 500 tons. She was on her beam ends with her fore-mast standing. A portion of her starboard bow was out of water. The hull was painted black and the thick wood was painted white. It was im possible to make out what vessel it was. The weather experienced by the Baracore was thick all the way through. The sun was not even seen for six days. She entered the bay on Friday morning. The tugs Dirigo and Neptune brought her up from Mus-
