United States Customs Authorities Trying to Get Possession of the Person of William Kelly of Debec, Who_Swatted a Yankee Officer.

WOODSTOCK, N. B., June 9 .- This week will see a most interesting treat in Woodstock. It is probably the first time in the history of the place that a hearing will take place before a judge, in the matter of a man charged with an extradition crime. Toward the latter part of April word was received in Woodstock that Wil-liam Kelly of Debeo had been stopped on or about the boundary line, while over with a lead of potatoe and had had a scrap with a U. S. cus-toms official, and that he had been seriously wounded by a pistol shot. Dr. Hand was summoned from Woodstock to attend the injured man.

On the Sunday following the affair Sheriff Hayward went down to Kelly's home in Debec and arrested him on a warrant issued by Police Magistrate Dibblee, on the information of Martin Lawless, deputy sheriff of Aroostook county, Me., the warrant alleging that Kelly had assaulted one Frank W Burns, with intent to do bodily harm. at a point on the Canadian side of the boundary line and also on the Ameri can side. On this warrant Kelly came without any attempt at resistance, to Woodstock with the sheriff and was placed in jail. His head was tied up, although a bullet which had struck him in the neck had been successfully extracted. The bullet had escaped the large jugular vein within a hair's hreadth

At a hearing the next day the magis trate refused the application, by Frank B. Carvell, the prisoner's counsel, for bail, and adjourned the case. In the meantime the circuit court met here, Chief Justice Tuck presiding. An application was made to him for a war rant, under the provisions of the extradition act, and the judge being sat isfied with the depositions, issued a warrant for the apprehension of Kelly, the information in this instance alleging an assault with intent to kill. The magistrate subsequently dismissed the first charge against the prisoner. Kelly has remained in jail ever since He has been given as much liberty as possibly could be -allowed under the oircumstances, although of course that has only consisted in his being permitted the freedom of the large corridor. His wounds healed quickly and in a very short while he was a physically well man. Various rumors were afloat abcut

the extradition of Frank. W. Burns, the erican customs official. The Hculton people reported him to be in a dying condition from the injuries he eived at the hands of Kelly. On the other hand, it was said that his injuries were not so serious as re-ported, and that his sympathisers were one, as has been said, hitting Kelly in the face, the other bullet being turned by a button. Burns was badly ham-mered, and Kelly got back to his home, team and potatoes. A peculiar feature of the case is that BEAUTIFUL GIRLS SUICIDE ON A the first report of the affair, which must have come from Burns, and BED OF FLOWERS IN PARIS. which appeared as a newspaper spatch from Houlton, spoke of the

She came from Orleans, she said, and was seeking work in Paris. On Tuesday last another girl came to the hotel, named Angele Kelly should never have been arrested, and that mob law would preven his being taken across the boundary, that if he did get into the tende Frenier, also a dairymaid. She had clutches of the U.S. authorities his come, she said, to live with Madeleine, fate would be awful, perhaps almost whom she would never leave in this world. Custom house officials are not the most popular of persons on either side of the line. It is no more popular in Houlton than in Wood stock to have too keen an eye in the official head. Little pleasure parties who go on buckboards to Houlton are welcomed by the Houlton tradesmen who are not at all anxious that as an outcome of the Kelly case the distinc reciprocity treaty between Woodstock and Houlton should be determined Again, should Kelly get clear there will be rejoicing in the county and particularly among his neighbors and the tragedy. fellow free-traders of South Richmond Kelly has a good farm in Debec, an
