We the undersigned, named to take charge of the ballot box and make the final count of votes in the St. John Standard's $6,000 prize contest, were present and took possession of the ballot box at 8 p. m. Saturday, June 8, the hour named for the closing of the contest.

The count was completed at a late hour, and the contestants named above are the winners, with the total vote cast for each.

(Signed) C. F. SANFORD,
ANDREW W. ROBB,
ROY L. SUPRELL,
L. R. THOMPSON.

The great $6,000 prize circulation campaign of The St. John Standard, which has waged for the last eight weeks, went into the history of success last night.

When it was first announced that The Standard would give away prizes aggregating over $6,000, it was considered a stupendous undertaking, and it was hard for some to realize the splendid opportunity offered to the residents of St. John and vicinity to secure these valuable prizes for a little effort put forth securing subscriptions to The Standard. The Standard's faith in the public of this city and province, however, was not for a moment undiminished, and the campaign has been the biggest ever held in St. John.

The winners of the four Ford Automobiles, eight $400 Willis pianos, eight diamond rings and eight gold watches are published today and the total vote of every contestant is also published. The fight put up by every contestant was gallant and persistent and every contestant deserves the highest praise. They all feel very grateful to the host of friends who loyally supported them. The contest was as spirited as the contest that the air was surcharged with excitement as the close drew near. The award of the judges was made wholly on the basis of the number of subscriptions and votes turned in by the various contestants. The most successful contestants won the prizes.

The Standard takes this opportunity to publicly thank the contestants for the splendid success that crowned their efforts, and also to thank the thousands of citizens who took an interest in the various contests and made their success possible. Appreciation is also expressed for the careful and painstaking work of the judges who accurately and expeditiously compiled the final figures.

Full tabulation of the votes and every ballot cast is at this office for the inspection of any contestant who so desires.

SUMMER

GIRLHOOD and simplicity should be synonymous in the mind of the planner of dresses for the young lady of the house. From 14 years the young lady is apt to be inappropriately dressed. Either young or too old will be the lines of decoration and the cut of the frock. If mothers will remember that comfortable looseness of line is preferable; if they will use simple trimmings and not overly ornate materials the suits will be satisfactory, especially the sewing be guided by the hips.

You will see a reduction of old fashions in the models, but a modification that simplifies is the feature. In parts there are certain notes that dominate fashions for growing girls. Blouses of frocks show long outlines; there is a narrow girle at
