ANNUAL MEETING OF PRESBYTERIAL OPENS IN ST. JOHN

Delegates Welcomed To This City by Mrs. R. C. Cruikshank.

WOMENS GATHERING Committee Will Present Their Various Reports On Thursday.

The twenty-sixth annual meeting of St. John Presbyterian, the women's gathering for the Presbytery of St. John which embraces the Maritime Provinces was opened last evening in the St. David's church.

The executive met this morning and this afternoon. Those present included the president, Mrs. C. T. Purdy of Moncton, Mrs. J. H. Thomson of Roby, Mrs. R. C. Cruikshank and Mrs. R. A. Jamieson of St. John, with Mrs. A. W. Thompson of Pictou, Mrs. Blackwood and Miss Wallace of Halifax, representing the general organization of the synod district.

The meeting opened last evening with devotional exercises, led by Mrs. J. H. A. Anderson.

An address of welcome was given in a very feeling manner by Mrs. R. C. Cruikshank in which she welcomed the delegates to St. John. A very charming reply was made by Mrs. Stephens of St. Stephen on behalf of the visiting members.

The appointment of committees followed next which resulted in the following: Nominating committee—Mrs. J. H. Thomson, St. John, convenor; Miss Stephens, St. Stephen; Mrs. Jas. Ross and Mrs. J. E. Anderson.

Finance committee—Miss Josephine Campbell, St. Stephen; Mrs. M. H. Marcell, Florenceville.

Resolution and courtesy committee—Mrs. Millar, McKensie Corner; Mrs. R. D. Ross, St. Stephen.

These committees will act during the session and will present their reports at the close of the session on Thursday.

In the secretary's report which followed, the secretary, Miss B. Walker, emphasized the spiritual side of the work and loyalty to our own undertakings, loyalty to the King of Kings and loyalty to our own women. It was a very excellent report and contained many practical suggestions.

Mrs. A. W. Thompson, Pictou, N. S., president of the general society, gave an address and in the course of her remarks spoke under four different titles as follows: Social influences, educational side of our own work, benevolence, and the scope of missionary work and the spiritual element in it.

Mrs. Thompson's address was excellent and she urged the members to bear in mind all the practical suggestions given in the reports and addresses.

The programme for the session is as follows: Wednesday, June 16th, at 9.30 a.m. Devotional exercises, led by Mrs. George McFarlane; minutes; reports of county vice-presidents; report of Home Mission secretary; deaconess report; discussion; paper, Mrs. A. R. Melrose; third session.

German Diary Says Canadians Will Attack And May God Help Us

That the soldier boys from Canada and especially from St. John are not given much to worry while fighting in the trenches against the Germans can be readily judged from the tone of the letters that they send home to friends. They all thoroughly understand that their position is most dangerous, but they have been well trained, have proven themselves equal to the seasoned fighters and are taking their work at the front as a matter of course. They are not afraid to fight, and now that they have well received their baptism of fire, it is a case of do or die with all of them. Many of them write home, telling about the horrors of war, of the hard times that they are having, etc., but there are others who mention the war as a secondary consideration and despite the fact that their comrades are being wounded or killed by their side and the shells are bursting all round, these soldiers are thinking of what is looking on in their old home town. For instance, a few weeks ago Gunner Harry Pike, who is fighting with the heavy artillery, under the command of Major Magee, merely mentioned that he was having a hot time of it and then asked for information. "If there was any baseball played in St. John this summer?" Yesterday afternoon a member of The Standard staff received a letter which is not only interesting but rather amusing from "Sapper" Leo G. Quigg of Fairville. "Sapper" Quigg is attached to the second brigade headquarters of the signal section, first Canadian division. He writes from France on May 29th. He does not get any of the fighting, but is anxious that he and Corporal George F. Craft, also of Fairville, are not being wrongly judged by the fair sex in Fairville or St. John. He is not looking forward to being killed but expects to be home again before many months, so any lady friends might read his letter with interest and take it for granted that the Fairville boy is happy and contented. He is being constantly in the greatest danger of losing his life. The letter received is as follows:

Dear Will:— I met Bruce MacKinnon at the firing line and got my address from him. He has a home in Fairville. It is rumored around there that George Craft and myself got married in England. Don't you think that this is hurting our reputation with the ladies in the village and St. John? We wish that you could deny it for us in the columns of your paper, for it is not true. We are certainly giving it to the Germans now and we expect to be back home by Christmas. Please straighten out this little matter for us, and if we can do anything for you we will with pleasure. Thanking you in advance, we remain, yours truly, Spr. Leo G. Quigg, Corporal George F. Craft.

The letter is written on paper supplied by the W. M. C. A. with the words printed on the envelope and paper. "On active service with the British expeditionary force."

The Standard is very glad to inform all the young ladies in Fairville or St. John that the two soldiers mentioned are still single and hope that Sapper Quigg's prediction that he will return home safe and sound for Christmas will come out true.

Mr. William M. Campbell, care of Customs House, St. John, N. B., Can., Dear Will:— Received your letter of May 3rd about one week ago but have just got around to answering it. My opinion of the war is this: The Germans are being driven back slowly but surely and the war will end just as soon as the Kaiser gets it pounded into his noodle that he can't capture anything we hold and that in time we will be in Germany. By all accounts there are very few troops in front of us but a machine gun can very soon get a charging battalion so you see we can't advance rapidly and have a little can't get through our lines for practically the same reason. The only way we have them licked in my opinion is with the bayonet and our boys love nothing better than to give the Germans a good licking. I am enclosing some letters which I picked up last night in the trench which the Germans were in all winter. You most likely can get someone to translate them for you and they might be interesting. Don't worry about me being in the thick of the fight. My work is just on the spot where the shells are dropping and I don't think anyone in the whole army has such a nerve-racking job as a line man. The infantry charging and not subject to shell fire, despatch riders rush past all bad spots and the same with ammunition wagons but our poor beggars are always in the places where the shells are dropping as there is where our wire is cut. The Canadian Signal Company has been awarded six D. C. M.'s and there may be more. Those who deserve them most are the ones who do not get them. It seems Corporal Cassells of Montreal in No. 1 Section who worked on the line I was on has been given one and he did not do half as much work as some of us but the Brigadier saw him. Of all the line men who worked on the line another lance corporal and myself are the only ones who came out the first night, April 22, and stayed till Tuesday morning, May 4, without a rest except what we could snatch between breaks. The rest were either killed, wounded or lost their nerve and any of them whose nerves went cannot be said to have white livers as my nerves went more than once but I stuck. The poisonous gas is nothing. The Germans crucified a sergeant in the 48th Highlanders to the door of a barn with their bayonets and I know because my chum in the 48th saw him. The draughts that have come to us are trying to make people think that the fighting here is worse than Ypres but it is not one-tenth as bad. I guess they want people to think they have seen the worst but when 120 shells drop on about one and a half miles of road in one minute, and that was the road I was on all the time, and here about 120 per day you may be as sured it is here there will be another battle as terrible again during the war. I suppose you have heard before this that Harry Adams of Millidgeville avenue was penned in a house and a C. M. I do not know exactly what for, but he did not skulk around like a lot of them when the Germans were only 50 yards from them and shells flying thicker than hail, that's not exaggeration either for he was penned in a house and a hole in the brick wall of the room he was in he would have been burned alive but he did not get scratched. These narrow escapes are nothing, I have lost two horses since we got in France, one in St. Jean, just beyond Ypres, and the other down here. I was working in the field and the horse was standing under a roof on one side and a hundred pieces of shell in him and I got none. Well, I must stop and go to bed. I have six more letters to answer. I have this minute been told that a diary was found on a German with this on it: "I have been fighting in the trenches since we got in France, one in St. Jean, just beyond Ypres, and the other down here.
