The Shanghai correspondent of the Daily News, wiring yesterday, says:

"United States Consul Goodnow strong by opposes Admiral Seymour's intention to land 3,000 troops on the ground that such an act would not be warranted by the circumstances and would be likely to create trouble. M. Besaure, the French consul, agrees to the arrangement, but says that, if the British land forces, the French will do likewise. The Austrians also will land men. My personal opinion is that the landing of troops here at the present moment would be a grave mistake."

What should be done for the immediate rehef of the ministers is the problem now confronting the administration and is the subject of anxious conferences between the officials in this city and telegraphic correspondence with the president at Canton and the secretary of state at Sunappee. N. H.

Acting Secretary Adec received a cable-gram this morning from Consul Goodnow at Shanghai, giving the latest information in China. It was referred to the secretary of war and was not made public.

London, Aug. 9, 4 a. m.—Beyond the official news given out yesterday, the morning papers contain no direct information of importance from China. Thanks to the despatches of Sir Claude MacDonald and Reaf Admiral Bruce, there is a general disposition to take a more hopeful view of the situation. The report of the appointment of Field Marshal Count Vor Waldersee as commander-inchief of the international forces meets with general approval.

The Americans Took No Part in the Attack on Peitsang.

Washington, Aug. 8—The gravest apprehensions are felt here in official despatches from the Italian ministers in Pakin. Marquis Salvago Raggi, asserting that he left Pekin on July 31, presimably for Ten Tsin. This, however, is so utterly at variance with the action and intentions of the other ministers heard from that it seems almost incredible. If true, it opens up an interesting field of speculation concerning the fate of the Italian representative.

This despatch gives a somewhat different aspect to the battle at Peitsang on the fifth, as it indicates that the American detachment took no part in that engagement, not having arrived until after th Japanese forces had effected the capture of the city. Admiral Remey confirms General Chaffee's statement that Yang Tsun is the next objective point of the

"In the south of China the people grow rich through trade or service with 'foreign devils,' and they have learned the tolerance which commerce always brings. In the north bigotry has freer sway. In view of this, a prominent American in Pekin said last winter that anything might happen in China, which might come at any time. The time seems to be now.

"More potent toward immediate trouble has been the invasion of railway and mining engineers, who wander about the country, often reckless of native customs or prejudices, asking nobody's leave and heeding nobody's objections. The Chinese do not want railroads. Still less will they consent to have them run through their grandfathers' graves, and almost every foot of lamd is somebody's graveyard. They do not like mines, least of all those conducted by 'foreign devils' in sacred hills, and they are incensed when samples of ore are knocked off from their tombs or their temples.

Jurisdiction Versus Ownership.

Everywhere are found agents of syndicates eager to secure concessions, often doing nothing with them save to hold them for future speculation. The European nations forgot sometimes that jurisdiction and ownership are two different things. Jurisdiction is costly, and unless it is in full accord with the will and customs of the people over whom it is exercised it is ineffective and unprofit-

Monoton, Aug. 8 - (Special) - Fred. Bourque, who was committed for trial for ourglary in the American hotel yesterday, led Chief Tingley an exciting chase while en route to Dorchester this morning on the Maritime express. While the train was running about 35 miles an hour between Memrameook and College Bridge, the prisoner, who had been relieved of his handouffs, made a daring dash for liberty. He jumped from the rapidly moving train and Chief Tingley, with a plucky deter-mination not to be outwitted by his man, also jumped off the train at the risk of his also jumped off the train at the risk of the life. Strange to say neither prisoner or officer sustained any injury beyond slight scratches. Bourque, however, had quite a start of the officer and made for the woods. Chief Tingley outsprinted his man and cut off his escape to the woods. The prisoner then made for an old barn, under which he crawled. The officer got assistance and finally drove Bourque out of the hiding place, recaptured him and landed him safely in Dorchester jail by the next

About two years before Mrs. Rusie had begun proceedings for divorce, charging the big ball player with inhuman treatment. On Amos' promise to "be good" in the future Mrs. Rusie relented and continued to live with him until last April.

At that time Rusie went to New York to join the team there, taking his wife with him. She suddenly left that city for Muncie, and in a few days Rusie left also and gave no reason to his employers for his departure. The suit for divorce made everything clear to the wondering managers of the New York club, and a black eye that Mrs. Rusie prought home with her was evidence of a dainty de jeuner was serviced.
