

FROM ALL OVER THE MARITIME PROVINCES

ROTHESAY.

Rothsay, Nov. 19.—The missionary address given by Dr. Mabel Hinington in the Sunday school house on Monday evening attracted a good audience and was most interesting. Miss Hinington has spent five years in China as a missionary and gave much valuable information regarding the extent of the country, the condition of its people and the difficulties to be met with in missionary work. Miss Hinington hopes to return to her work at the end of her visit home and to be able to arrange for the building of a much needed hospital in the Chinese town, where she is located. Many interesting photographs were shown and explained. A vote of thanks was moved by Rev. Mr. Hibbard and seconded by Mr. W. T. Peters. Mrs. Davidson presided at the organ and several hymns were sung. The meeting opened and closed with prayer by the rector, Rev. A. W. Daniel.

Miss Jessie Armstrong and Miss Campbell were visitors from the city on Saturday. Miss Lou Peters, of Gagetown, who has been visiting among Rothsay friends, was home on Tuesday. Mrs. Charles Giles, of Kingsclear, spent Tuesday and Wednesday with the Misses Ballentine. Among those who went to the city on Tuesday to attend the reception given by Mrs. Joseph Allison, were Mrs. Daniel, Miss Daniel, Mrs. Steves, Mrs. T. E. Moore, Miss Donville, Mrs. Thomas Bell, Miss Thomson, Miss M. Fairweather, Miss F. Gilbert, Mrs. Brock, Miss A. Brock, Mrs. D. Pugsley, Mrs. P. Pugsley, Mrs. Davidson, Miss Davidson, Mrs. Turnbull and Miss Fraser. The weekly meetings of the W. A., which are held at the home of the president, Mrs. Daniel, have the appearance of preparation for a fancy sale, as the members are busy making up little gifts for the Christmas packages which are sent out from the Church of England Institute to different sections of the home mission field. Miss Lillian Brown is the energetic Dorcas, superintendent, and has always a supply of pretty and useful articles ready to be made up. The box from Rothsay Branch Society is to be packed on Monday, December 8.

There is a general sympathetic interest here in regard to the illness of Mr. H. F. Puddington at the St. John Hospital and the encouraging reports were thankfully received. Mrs. Morris Robinson and Miss Norah Robinson were week-end visitors from the city. Mr. Jack Davidson left on a business trip on Monday. Miss Ruth Gilbert, of Bathurst, has been spending a short time here with relatives. Dr. D. A. Pugsley and Mrs. Pugsley expect to close their home at the end of this week and go to the city for the winter months. Mrs. Henry Colburn returned home from Sackville on Saturday, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. E. B. Pugsley. Rev. David Lang, of St. John, spent part of Monday in Rothsay. Dr. Mabel Hinington is the guest of Mrs. Brock and family, "Blairgowrie." Mr. I. J. Olive, of St. John, was here on Tuesday, dining at the Kennedy House. Mrs. Vail, of Sussex, is visiting Mrs. Avery, College Hill. Miss Frances Givran, of Bathurst, has been a guest for a few days at the home of Mrs. G. G. Gilbert. Mrs. James Jack and Mrs. Roy Campbell, of St. John, were among Rothsay friends on Saturday. Colonel Ogilvie passed through here on Tuesday, going on to Clifton on government business. Mr. Rupert Turnbull has erected a large boat house on the shore and is having a pleasure yacht built. Mrs. Murphy who has been visiting her daughters, Mrs. Avery and Mrs. Steeves on College Hill went home this week. Mrs. C. A. Stockton has been the guest of Mrs. Gower this week. One of the signs of Christmas was the shipment yesterday of the St. Paul's Sunday school boxes, promises to be up to the usual condition of attractiveness.

HAMPTON. Hampton, N. B., Nov. 18.—Mr. and Mrs. W. Thomas Conroy, of Hampton Station, celebrated the silver anniversary of their wedding on Monday. They were accompanied by their six sons and one daughter, when all present, together with a large number of invited guests, to offer congratulations, present their gifts and accept the hospitality so warmly offered them. The residence of Mr. and Mrs. Conroy was tastefully decorated for the occasion, also, was that of their son, Mr. Michael J. Conroy, adjoining, both houses being brilliantly lighted, and rows of Chinese lanterns were strung on the roof. Mr. William Thomas Conroy led to the altar of the church of St. Alphonsus, at Hampton Station, Miss Margaret Conroy, being the first marriage ceremony performed within the sacred edifice. The celebrant was the Rev. Father Collins, now in charge of the Roman Catholic congregation at Fairville. The groomsmen was Mr. John Desmond, who was present on Friday evening last to renew his good wishes. The bridesmaid was Miss Lizzy Curran, now living in the United States. As already stated, the family now consists of Mr. and Mrs. Conroy, and their six sons and one daughter. These are in order: The Rev. Edward J., parish priest at Moncton; Michael J., of the C. P. R. telegraph station at Fairville; Thomas J., of St. Joseph's College, Memramcook; F. Louis, St. John; Walter A., Ouseley, and J. Clarence and M. A. Geraldine at home. All were present on Friday, offering their congratulations and welcoming the guests of the day. Among the silver jubilee presents was a handsome silver tea service from the Rev. E. J. Conway. On Saturday evening Mrs. Theodore Purdy gave a party including a number of relatives and immediate personal friends, at her home on Dominion square, Hampton Station, in honor of her sister, Miss Bessie Boyd, who returned to Boston today, after a visit to her former home since early in July. A few pleasant hours were spent in social converse, with games and refreshments, and the expression of many good wishes for the health, success and happiness of the guest of honor. On Monday the party of Miss Annie Vaughan, youngest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Vaughan, of Hampton, who died in the General Public Hospital, St. John, on Sunday, was brought home and interred in the churchyard of St. Paul's, Lakeside, after service in the church, conducted by the Rev. H. F. Whalley, rector of the parish. Deceased leaves one son, William Vaughan, of Hampton, and three sisters—the Misses Amelia and Sadie, of Hampton Station, and Jane, of St. John. Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Slipp closed their residence at Hampton Station last Saturday and returned to St. John for the winter months. Miss Robie Spruell, who has been taking a course of nursing near Boston, was taken down with an attack of appendicitis, for which she had to go through a surgical operation, which, however, proved successful. She will probably return home as soon as her strength is equal to the strain of travel, and rest for the winter. Miss Hopper, of Dawson Settlement, is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. W. H. March, Hampton Station. Mr. William McDonough, Hampton Station, has secured a position in the I. C. R. train separator office, Moncton, and leaves on Friday last to enter upon his duties.
