The "De Luxe" in Office Equipment

THE first purpose of office equipment is utility. Unless it serves as a means toward quicker and better work, it loses its value as a profitable investment.

Appearance follows utility as a required qualification in office equipment. By combining utility and appearance, Office Specialty Equipment has taken its place as the Equipment "De Luxe" for the modern office.

Call at our showrooms, or outline your requirements to one of our representatives, who will call at your request.
