> Guatemaia's Queer Indians. In Guatemala a race of Indians, the Nahuilas, numbering 30,000 the Nahuilas, numbering 30,000 souls, live in a gigantic caldron scooped out of the mountain, as it were, in the midst of the Cordillera, Four centuries ago, at the time of the Spanish conquest, they met Alvarado's army outside of their rocky, basin and gave it battle for an entire day, after which both they and the Spaniards appear to have been willing to treat for peace, and terms were agreed upon by which the Nahuilas promised to recognize the Spanish sovereign, the Spaniards on their part agreeing to leave the Indians alone in the future. And they have been pretty well left alone. They do not allow any stranger from the outside world to reside in their principal city, Santa Catalina, which is at the bottom of the bowl-like country, and they look with suppliers and the same the same and they look with suppliers and the same the same and they look with suppliers and the same and they look with suppliers and the same and they look with suppliers the same a like country, and they look with su-spicion upon any one passing through their domain.
