Sent From Toronto to New Provincial Legislature.

The mace for Saskatchewan's legisla tive chamber, sent recently from Toronto to Regina, is a remarkably beautiful specimen of the metal-worker's art. The rod with its surmounting crewn measures four feet in length and is of heavy brass, plated with gold. The rich hand chased and appliqued decorations in-clude such national and imperial symbols as the maple leaf, beaver, wheat sheaf, rose, shamrock and thistle. Upon the top of the crown is a large seal, the craftmanship of which could not be assed for its acuracy and artistic

CURES THE MOST EXTREME CASES

Stone in the Kidneys Cannot Stand Before Dodd's Kidney Pilis.

Mr. S. A. Cassidy, of Ottawa, Permanently Cured After Years of Suffering by the Great Canadian Kidney Remedy.

Ottawa, Ont., March 26 .- (Special) While all Canada knows that Dodd's Kidney Pills are the standard remedy for all Kidney Complaints, it may surprise some people to know they cure such extreme cases as Stone in the Kidneys. Yet that is what they have done right here in Ottawa.

Mr. S. A. Cassidy, the man cured, is the well-known proprietor of the Bi-jou Hotel on Metcalf street, and in an interview he says: "My friends all know that I have been a martyr to stone in the Kidneys for years. They know that be-sides consulting the best doctors in the Value of High Ideals.

Value of High Ideals.

This republic of ours can never abrogate its obligation to provide a high standard of education for its citizens. Intelligence must always go hand in hand with good government. And the true education which the republic must provide for its citizens must go beyond the sphere of arithmatic and all the other R's in the old-school curriculum. High moral training as well as high intellectual training are necessary to insure the stability of a popular form of government. High ideas must be set before the minds of the youth of the country and they must be taught to order these high ideals to anything else that like can bring them.

Control of Eastern Asia.

Control of Eastern Asia.

For many centuries while both Japan and China were lett in their own resources, physical and mental, the nation which was far the greater in bulk was also much stronger in war. Then Japan was more than once in peril of invasion and possible conquest by armies from China. There is no chance that China could be sublugated by Japan. What reason is there to doubt that if the Chinese turn their faces resolutely towards their precent needs and adopt western ways, at least in military matters, they can restore their old supremacy in eastern Asia? If eo, what will thet mean to the world? This is the great overshadowing problem of China.

A CHILD'S PATHETIC STORY.

Seven-year-old Boy Tells of the Murder of His Mother.

Rochester, March 22.—A pathetic scene took place yesterday in the Su-preme Court, where Vincent Love is on trial, charged with murder in the first degree for stabbing his young wife, when their seven-year-old son was put on the witness stand and told the story of the tragedy, which occurred in his presence. He did not have a clear idea of the nature of an oath, so was not sworn. He gave a straightforward ac-count of the affair which the cross-examination could not shake.

It made a deep impression on all who leard him. It was on a Saturday night hat the woman was killed. The child that the woman was killed. said she went to the market after supper to get the Sunday meat. When she returned she went into the front room to light the lamp. His father came in from the kitchen and blew out the lamp and stabbed her in the side.

The little fellow took a diagram of the house and showed where the stab-bing took place. He said he put some rags on her side and covered her up. His mother told him to go for a doctor. "I told my father," he continued, "to lift her up and put her on the bed, and he lifted her up and dragged her into the dining-room." The child got a quilt and pillow and covered her up and then went for the doctor. His nother was dead when the doctor ar-

The Fruits of the Rose.

Among the fruits of the rose family are apples, pears, peaches, plums, cherries and quinces, as well as our strawberries, raspberries and blackberries. The apple is a fruit of long descent. Among the ruins of the Swiss lake dwellers are found remains of small seed apples which found remains of small seed apples which show the seed valves and the grains of fiesh. The crab apple is a native of Britain, and was the stock on which were grafted the choicest varieties when brought from Europe, chiefly France. Apples of some sort were abundant before the Conquest, and had been introduced probably by the Romans. Yet often as Saxon manuscripts speak of apples and cider, there is no mention of named varied before the thirteenth century. Then we read of the pearmain century. In the roll of household expenses of Eleanor, wife of Simon de Montford, apples and pears are entered. In the year 1286 the royal fruiterer to Edward I. presents a bill for apples, pears, quinces, medlars and nuts. Pippins believed to be seedlings, hence called from the pips or seeds, are said not to have been known in England before 1525. The ex-act Drayton, writing of the orchards of Kent at that pariod, can name only the apple, the orange, the russean, the sweeting, the pome water and the reinette.

John Winthrop is usually held responsible for the introduction of the apple into the New World. But as a matter of fact, when Winthrop anchored off Cape Ann the recluse Blackstone already had apple trees growing about his cabin at Shawmut Neck. Some of the best of our American apples were brought over by the Huguenots, who settled in Flushing, L. I., in 1660, and planted there among others, the pomme royale or spice apple.
