CARLETON CO. HONORS HEROES OF THE WAR

One Thousand Persons Attend Unveiling of Splendid Memorial at Woodstock—Unveiling by Burdette Harmon

A thousand persons were at Woodstock on Monday when the beautiful memorial to Carleton county's sons was unveiled by Little Burdette Harmon, daughter of Burdette Harmon, who gave his life in the big conflict. Two hundred veterans under the command of Major J. J. Bull took part in the ceremony.

The monument is of grey and black granite and is perhaps one of the finest memorials erected in the maritime provinces. The bottom base is nine feet square. On the front of the second base is cut in large letters "Carleton County 1914-1918." A highly polished black die has eight raised panels on which are cut the names of 144 of Carleton's brightest young men who made the supreme sacrifice that civilization might endure. The inscription is "In honored memory of the men of Carleton county who laid down their lives in the great war."

"Their name liveth forevermore." Surmounting the monument is a life size statue of a typical Canadian soldier. This massive and beautifully designed memorial is twenty-four feet high and weighs forty tons.

The contract was given to H. McGrath & Sons, of St. George, whose quarries produced the stone which was manufactured in their big plant at St. George and the erection was carried out by their workmen.

Warden Melville presided at the unveiling and on the platform were members of the county council, Col. Lauchlin, of Milltown; Rev. M. E. Coonan, Col. W. W. Melville, Judge Carleton, who delivered the oration; J. C. Hardey, county secretary, who read the names inscribed on the monument; R. E. Armstrong, of St. John, and H. A. Powell, K. C., who made a brief address.

Beautiful wreaths were laid on the monument by Mrs. S. L. Lynott, for the G. W. V. A.; citizens of Woodstock, by Mayor E. W. Mair; Women's Institute, by Mrs. C. Comben; I. O. O. F. by P. Fillmore; Rebekahs, by Mrs. H. V. Dalling; Pythias Sisters, by Mrs. H. V. Moore; Knights of Pythias, I. O. O. F., by Mrs. F. H. Dibble; county G. W. V. A., by Major J. J. Bull; Miss Marion Rankin, Nat. Bouquet; Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Young, St. John, and Miss Kathleen Lynott, poppy wreath.

The 67th Regiment Band furnished a select programme of music. A salute by the firing squad and the last post by the bugler concluded the programme.

The monument is erected on the count house grounds.

The visiting veterans were entertained in the evening by the local G. W. V. A.

LIQUOR CHARGE DISMISSED

The postponed enquiry into the "rum running" charges which involved two well known local young men came up for a final hearing in the police court Tuesday. There has been considerable street comment over this matter but as no one appeared at the final hearing there was no course left but for Police Magistrate Kelly to discharge the case in question. No evidence was available to substantiate a charge of rum-running or peddling.

ORANGE LODGE

Those most active in promoting the re-organization of L. O. L. No. 41 met in K. P. hall last Friday evening. The principal business transacted at this meeting was to make the final arrangements for renting the K. P. hall as a meeting place and to plan for a regular lodge meeting for tomorrow night. Prospects are said to be excellent for a live lodge.

LOST HAND IN MILL

William Bernier, a young Grand Falls lad, employed in a lath mill at Juniper had his right hand badly mangled while working at the boiler Wednesday morning. He was brought to Bristol and went to his home on the express.

PRIVATE GREETING CHRISTMAS CARDS

Not Exactly a New Fad but One More Than Ever in Favor This Year—Beautiful Cards Being Printed at Observer Office and Solicitors Will Make Calls—But Don't Wait for Them! Call at the Office.

A few years ago someone conceived the idea of private greeting holiday cards and the fad sprang into immediate popularity. This year indications point that the sale of this novelty will be greater than ever, and the samples that are being shown by various houses are real works of art. Hitherto agents have canvassed the country for these cards and sent the orders to Toronto houses, where they were printed on lithographed blanks imported either from the States or from Europe. During the year the manager of The Observer has investigated the greeting card industry with a view to keeping as much of the trade home as possible. The result is that he has secured an all-Canadian line of lithographs and the cards are printed right in The Observer office, giving work to local people and keeping the bulk of the money in circulation right here.

The cards being shown are of many designs, but none of them of the gaudy, chrome and tinsel type. Each design is a work of art, and the really most artistic—from The Observer's viewpoint, at least—are the cheaper varieties, delicate little cards and folders the wording on which may be the customer's own selection. These are as cheap as $2 a dozen, and larger still if the quantity taken is larger. There are also beautiful folders as high as $5 or $6 for a dozen.

Bankers, professional and business men will find exactly what will suit their needs—delicate creations for the New Year Greeting. These can be supplied at $5 per 100, each card in its own envelope ready for mailing. Think! You can convey your greeting and pay your respects to 100 friends at an outlay of only 5 cents and a stamp for each!

Merchants and manufacturers are asked to give our representative an attentive hearing when he calls. Every one of them should send a greeting card to their customers and clients, and we have a line that is designed especially for this purpose.

Special rates will be quoted to clerks, who desire to order in large lots for greetings to their parishioners and friends.

It is very important that orders be placed so that delivery may be assured early in December.

Our Mr. Shaw will call on the business houses, the bankers and professional men, clergymen and others, but for house to house canvass we require to secure immediately several wideawake young people who would like to make good money for a few weeks.

PREPARING A SKATING RINK

An association has been formed to carry on an open air skating rink, and the base ball diamond is to be utilized for the purpose. The association has for officers, Mayor Kelley, president; S. S. Miller, vice president; G. N. Stevens, secretary-treasurer, and a committee comprised of K. W. Keith, W. P. Telle, V. W. Simms, G. F. Hatfield, while Will Carr will be manager. There are being erected caissons for ladies and for gentlemen, and the skating surface will be 75x175 feet. It is hoped that a hockey club will commence practice soon as hard freezing comes and there are likely to be some good games here and elsewhere during the winter. An ice carnival or two is likely to be held, also. It is suggested that Saturday afternoons the school children will be allowed the use of the rink without charge. A sufficient sum has been already subscribed to assure a good start of the rink.
