Buy Your Navy Serges Now

The demand for serges this Fall will be greater than ever. It is always so when a material is scarce. Wool materials, on account of the war, are very hard to get, and the prices have advanced enormously. If the general public would take our advice, they would buy dress goods early. Today many of our lines are at the old prices; later on you will be paying higher prices for union goods than you can buy the all-wool at today. Below we give you a list of serge values it would be impossible for you to duplicate:

40-inch all-wool hard finished Bradford serge, indigo dyes; per yard 65c	50-inch Cheviot serge, in navy blue only; heavy quality, at per yard $1.25
40-inch all-wool suiting serge, hard finish; comes in cream and black; per yard 65c	Black and navy hairline serge; this has been a very popular number; 30 in. wide, yard ... 85c
40-inch all-wool suiting serge, makes up well for children's school dresses; a special number for, per yard 69c	Devon serge; a rough finished serge; a popular number for ladies' suits, also used for boys' suits and little girls' coats; come in navy and cream; 54 in. wide; per yard $1.50
40-inch all-wool English serge; a nice fine dress serge for, per yard 90c	50-inch fine twill navy serge; indigo dye, at per yard $1.55
42-inch indigo dyed dress serge, in fine twill; a good number for, per yard $1.00	57-inch Ripley scoop shrink fancy twill serge; extra fine quality; per yard $2.00
