

The Silver Cradle in the Isle of Man.

His Excellency Henry Brougham Loch, Esq., Lieutenant-Governor of the Isle of Man, has earned the good opinion of Manxmen generally, though his earnestness for the good of the island sometimes betrays him into an ebullition of feeling which would be better avoided; still, with all his faults he is esteemed as the only governor who has done anything at all in the way of progress for Allan Vannin. No less is the respect entertained for his amiable lady; and a short time ago, when she gave birth (after nearly twelve years of married life) to her first child, and that a son and heir, a subscription was commenced for the purpose of presenting Mrs Loch with a silver cradle, in commemoration of such an interesting event in her domestic life. Subscriptions rolled in freely, until at last £300 were raised—a very large sum for the Isle of Man. The other day the form of the presentation was agreed upon. It consists of a solid silver centrepiece, raised centre plateau, with four highly chased figures, representing Europe, Asia, Africa, and America, supporting the centre dish of silver and richly engraved glass. The base of the plateau is chased, and pierced with rose, shamrock, and thistle entwined, and at each end of the plateau are smaller figures of Spring and Summer supporting dishes. Silver shields, on which are engraved the "Loch" armorial bearings and the presentation inscription, complete the centrepiece. There are also four fruit stands designed to match, with figures representing Earth, Air, Fire, and Water, each holding fruit dishes. The entire service is manufactured by Messrs Elkington & Co., of Church-street Liverpool, and fully maintains their high reputation as art workers in silver.

The venerable Mrs. Thomson, the last of the family of the poet Burns, died on the 13th ult., at her residence in Crossmyloof. She was in the 84th year of her age.

The Reserve Dividend

Is one more step in the march of progress. Presented only after mature thought, it invites the test of the severest scrutiny. Its chief merit is its PERFECT ADAPTABILITY to the wants of insurable lives. THE RESERVE DIVIDEND and RESERVE ENDOWMENT POLICIES originated and published by the Company's Actuary, under copyright in 1869. The principle involved renders every form of insurance a provision in life. It converts an ordinary life Policy, otherwise payable only in the event of death, into a CASH ENDOWMENT, MATURING EVERY TEN YEARS.
