

TREMENDOUS SLAUGHTER

in Prices of
Ladies' White Muslin and White
SILK BLOUSES
AT BLAIR'S.

SALE! SALE! SALE!

Right now at the beginning of the Season when the Goods are in strongest requirement we are making this wonderful Clearance Sale of Blouses. Some of these Goods are Jobs, and some of them are higher priced Goods that we are desirous of getting a move on. To do this the price has simply been cut in halves, and in the case of the higher priced Silk Blouses, cut to one-third, to bring them down to a Low and Popular Price. The White Muslin Blouses are mostly American make and cut, and come in Long Sleeves and Three Quarter Sleeves both.

White American Muslin Blouses, regular price $1.60, are offered at 90c. each.

Other Prices offering in White American Muslin Blouses are $1.00, $1.50 and $1.90—these being away under the usual prices.

Special Lot of White Embroidered Cambric Blouses, offered this week at the marvellous price of only 60c. each.

Ladies' White and Cream Japanese Silk Blouses and Shirt Waists, handsomely trimmed, at $2.25, 2.50, $2.90, 3.00, 3.50, 4.00 and $5.00 each.

These prices are in every case at least one half of what regular prices would be.

HOUSEHOLD NOTES.

Milk jars in which milk has soured can be most quickly cleaned by putting first under a hot water spigot, then filling with cool water in which has been dissolved a liberal quantity of washing soda.

In spite of printed directions on cans, it is never perfectly safe to put a sealed can in hot water to heat. It is best to turn the contents out in a saucepan, otherwise an explosion is possible.

To make delicious oatmeal gems, mix a cup of oatmeal in a cup of sour milk, let soak over night and then add one teaspoonful of soda, a well-beaten egg and half a cup of sugar. Stir in flour enough to make a batter.

To soften and perfume the bathing water, mix together four ounces of alcohol, one half ounce of ammonia, and one dram of oil of lavender. A few drops of the mixture is sufficient for a bowl of water and is very refreshing.

If a glass stopper sticks, put around it a little olive oil and in an hour or so, if it still sticks, place the whole bottle in warm water and tap the stopper gently on either side. It is sure to come out.

A creamy-coffee custard can be made by stirring a pint of hot strong black coffee into a quart of custard still warm. Beat hard and serve in glasses with or without whipped cream on top. Cool the custards on ice.

For green corn fritters, cut the kernels from a dozen ears of corn and scrape the cob. Add two table-spoonfuls of flour and the yolks of three well-beaten eggs. Season with salt and pepper and fry in deep fat or butter.

To use up the dry ends of American cheese, grate them or run them through the food chopper, season with salt, pepper and paprika, and then moisten with cream, sweet or sour. Let it stand a day and use like cream cheese.

When doing fine embroidery it is better to baste the goods tightly against a piece of white oilcloth than to use embroidery rings. There will then be no fear of stretching the material and the work may be handled easier.

The Russian plan in making iced tea is first to pour the hot tea over the grated rind of a lemon, then to pour it, still hot, over a large lump of ice, and to serve it in glasses half filled with finely shaved ice.

A Dutch supper may be made very attractive by using yellow tulips in a blue jar for a centerpiece, wooden shoes to hold the salted nuts, Delft blue shoe-shaped place cards, a bare table with blue d'oyleys, and brass finger bowls.

If it is desired to cook rice so that the grains will remain separate, wash it thoroughly, toss it gently in water that is at a galloping boil, remove it at the end of 40 minutes, drain it, cover it in a dish, and finish the cooking in the oven.

Marry Prince of Wales to German Princess.

Berlin, June 27.—It is rumored that the Kaiser and Kaiserin wish to marry their only daughter Princess Victoria Louise of Prussia to the eldest son of the King and Queen of England.

The Princess will be 18 in September, and is one year and three-quarters older than the Prince of Wales, but the Kaiserin is several months older than the Kaiser, and their second son is married to a Princess nearly three years older than he.

Potsdam court circles hope that the Prince of Wales will accompany his royal parents on their first official visit to Germany, and that he may then meet his third cousin, the Princess.

The European princes most eligible for the hand of the Kaiser's daughter are Roman Catholics, and the Kaiserin, who has brought up her daughter as a Protestant, would rather see her marry even an obscure Protestant prince than a Roman Catholic king.

The union with England's future King would probably go a long way to prevent hostilities between the two countries.

Robber on Bicycle.

Attempting to Escape, Kills a Boy and Shoots Himself.

Friedberg, Hesse, June 22.—A desperate attempt at robbery which occurred here late to-day resulted in two deaths and the wounding of several persons. A bomb was exploded at about half-past four o'clock in the hall. In the meantime a black masked robber entered the adjoining branch of the Imperial Bank and attacked the manager, who resisted. The robber then drew a revolver and shot the manager in the neck. He seized a quantity of bank notes and some gold and fled. Having gained the street he mounted a bicycle and dashed off. A great crowd, attracted by the explosion, pursued the desperado, who fired repeatedly. One boy was killed and two others were injured. The police jumped into an auto and sped after the man, finally overtaking him when he fired his last shot into his temple, falling dead in the street. He was recognized as a chauffeur named Barnstein.

The Flag of Denmark.

In the year 1219, King Waldemar of Denmark, when leading his troops to battle against the Livonians, saw, or thought he saw a bright light in the form of a cross in the sky. He held this appearance to be a promise of divine aid, and pressed forward to victory. From this time he had the cross placed on the flag of his country and called it the Dannebrog, that is, the strength of Denmark. Aside from legend, there is no doubt that this flag with the cross was adopted by Denmark in the thirteenth century, and that at about the same date an order, known as the order of Dannebrog, was instituted by which only soldiers and sailors who were distinguished for courage, were allowed to belong. The flag of Denmark, a plain red banner, bearing on it a white cross, is the oldest flag now in existence. For three hundred years, both Norway and Sweden were united with Denmark under this flag.—The Housekeeper.

Killed Two and Perished in Rush.

Ocella, Ga., Man Barricaded in Home, Fires on Sheriff's Party—Troops Ordered Out.

Ocella, Ga., June 27.—Barricaded in his home near here, W. S. Bostwick, who last night killed the two officers and seriously wounded three others, was himself killed in a rush on his house to-day.

With Bostwick in the house were six of his children, all small and some of them girls. Four officers were sent last night to arrest Bostwick, and he opened fire on them as soon as they neared his home. Steve Davis, the Ocella chief of police, and Deputy Sheriff Sheffield were instantly killed. Chief Joseph McInnis was fatally wounded and Deputy T. C. Bass was shot and seriously hurt. Troops were ordered out and surrounded the house. The children were taken unhurt.

Baseball Kills a Policeman.

New York, June 23.—Gregory Darcy, a Staten Island policeman, is dead from injuries he received two weeks ago when he was struck in the stomach by a pitched ball. Darcy was catching. A pitched ball went through his hands and struck him in the pit of the stomach; he fell to the ground unconscious, but recovered temporarily and went on with the game. Two days later he reported sick and grew steadily worse.

Tests in Paper-Making

House Authorities Government to Seek to Find New Methods.

Washington, June 4.—An appropriation of $30,000 has been made by the House to enable the Secretary of Agriculture to conduct experiments in making paper from various plants and woods. This provision was made in an amendment to the Sundry Civil Bill.

Under this provision the Secretary is to "test such plants and woods as may require tests to ascertain if they will be suitable for making paper."

Politics in Pyrenees.

"One day," said a Parisian, "I arrived with my wife at an inn in the lower Pyrenees. It was during an electoral campaign. The place pleased me. Two days passed. At the moment of my departure I asked for my account. The innkeeper responded: 'You owe nothing. The Count de V., who is the candidate, has paid everything in this district for fifteen days. So I remained at that inn fifteen days without paying a sou.'—(From 'Cri de Paris.')"

The Topsail Attractions

"Germain" Replies to "Tim."

Editor Evening Telegram: Dear Sir,—In looking over the Telegram on Wednesday night I saw an article by your local writer, Tim Shaughnessy. Well, I don't know what possessed Tim to come to Topsail. I don't think he was invited by any of us solemn looking maids. But, as Tim says, when you come face to face with hard facts, anyone who, after the rush, bustle and amusement of a week or month in town, comes to Topsail for a little change and fresh air and wants to be amused during the few hours they are here—well, they must be amusement struck, that's all. Tim overlooked the fact that our "hotels" and some of our private houses have either organs or pianos (not on the instalment plan, either). So if Tim or Mrs. Tucker could play or sing there need be no lack of amusement. Anyway, Tim, if you don't see any amusement here, we do—lots on excursion days. As to cold ham and half-warm tea, why I've heard some of the town "trying to be just so's" saying, after eating cold beef and ham, pies, good bread and butter, preserve and cream, washed down by good hot tea, "That the first good square meal I had the summer."

The twelve month Yankee—well, Tim, I don't think you wanted to come to Topsail to meet him. I think you would see him nearer than the South Side Hills even. That little remark re father and mother enlarged looking fierce, we'll excuse you, Tim, as you were reared in the city where I think I heard a while ago that "Honour thy father and mother" was changed to ridicule them; of course there's exceptions.

If you can't see nothing to enjoy, Tim, in the view and quiet of an afternoon spent in the fresh air of Topsail, well, I think you are right, you had better take to Signal Hill and don't trouble us solemn looking maids any more.

Local Fishery Poor.

The past week there has been very little fish taken by the boats on the local grounds, and traps, except in two instances, have done nothing. There is no caplin to bring the cod along, though Saturday afternoon big schools of codfish were noticed making shorewards, the fish "breaking" as it came in. Trappers say there is yet ample time for a good voyage, and point to last summer when absolutely no fish were trapped until the 17th July. Taken all round, however, there is more fish caught up to date this year than last.

The Susu's Report.

The fishery news brought along by the S. S. Susu from Fogo District and neighbourhood is far from encouraging. There is a sign of fish at Tilton Harbor, but it does not take the bait, and there is also an improvement at the Wadhams but bait there is very scarce. Traps down the shore are catching no fish and the fishermen are fearful of a poor voyage. One man named Collins had 30 qts. in his trap last week, but this is the only haul made at Tilton Harbor. In some places boats have been getting a couple of qts. daily. From the Wadhams south there is no fish and at Wesleyville the people cannot get fish to eat.

Fishing Crafts Arrive.

During the past week four fishing schooners arrived here from Trinity Bay and anchored on the South Side where they will fish during the season. Saturday afternoon seven other vessels arrived from Trinity and Bonavista Bays to fish out of this port. This makes a fleet of ten vessels; all use traps, were here last year, and hope to do as well as they did last summer when they had all the fish they could handle.

Are You Wise?

There are two ways of seeing things. One way is to see them as they appear; another is to see them with the mind. One may see the sun causing nature to appear brilliantly and enchanting the eye; one closes the eye and see all in one's imagination. That is what Solomon meant when he said, "The wise man has his eyes in his head." Therefore every wise man is getting his clothing, dry goods and Furniture for Cash or Credit from

Took a Header.

Saturday afternoon a man who had imbibed too freely went down on Steer-Bros. premises, and going too near the edge of the wharf took a header into the water. Men around quickly fished him out but he was drenched and chilled, and after being brought to the lock-up by the police he was stripped of his clothes, which were dried at the stove in the station, while the inebriate was rolled in blankets and placed in a cell.

Susu From Fogo.

The s.s. Susu, Capt. Baxter Barbour, arrived here from Fogo District at noon yesterday. She left here at 4.45 p.m. Tuesday and made a record round trip, for she was delayed some hours by fog and made all her ports of call. She had fine weather on the run north and reached Change Islands Friday morning, leaving there on the run south the same day. She had good weather returning also, except for little fog. Her passengers were: A. G. Goodland, W. Thistle, Jessie L. Reynolds, Jas. Mills, Miss R. S. Dawa, Geo. Hicks, Geo. Bages, Mrs. (Ensign) French, Elias Abbott, George Davis, Jno. Donny and one steerage. The ship carried 78 passengers on the round trip.

Boy's Narrow Escape.

We learn by the s.s. Susu that Charlie Kean, the little 8 year old son of Capt. Jacob Kean, came near being drowned at Brookfield, B.D. Saturday forenoon. He was out alone in a boat going about the harbor when he tipped and fell out of her. He managed to grasp the gunwale of the boat when his cries brought his father quickly to his side in a motor boat. The lad was very much fatigued when rescued.
