Early Closing.

Yesterday in the House of Assembly the Bill for the further amending of the law in relation to the Sale of In toxicating Liquors was laid before the members in the form proposed by Hon. D. Morison. On Friday it had been read a first time before it had been given an express form. This is not an unusual course. When the printed Bill was distributed, it was seen that it had several objects. The most important was to stop the sale and consumption of intoxicating liquors on licensed premises between 6 p.m. and 9 a.m. Such licensed premises as were not grocery stores were to be closed absolutely during these hours. Grocery stores, however, were permitted to open at 8 o'clock in the morning and to close at 9 o'clock at night. but were ordered not to sell or deliver intoxicating liquors between the hours of 6 p.m. and 9 a.m. At the suggestion of Mr. Bennett this proposition was changed and under the final form; which the House adopted, grocery stores with retail licenses must be closed absolutely siderate and unfair.

As to the 6 o'clock limit for the sale of intoxicating liquors, there is no room for doubt that the weight of public opinion is in favor of it. The extraordinary number of signatures attached to the petitions favouring the o'clock closing and the absolute absence of counter petitions settles this beyond peradventure.

There was a number of other amendments to which we have had no time to give consideration, but which at the first glance appear to be declaratory of the meaning of the Act of 1906, and which on the whole seem to be fair and proper

We cordially agree with the provis ion for open session of the Licensing Board and for the right of persons to appear at such sessions in opposition to any application for a license.

We also agree with the provision for an appeal to the Supreme Court in case any person feels aggrieved at the granting or refusing of a license. We append a copy of the Bill in its amended form:-

Destruction in Its Wake

to Evening Telegram PHILADELPHIA, To-Day. An electrical storm, accompanied by high winds, swept over the northern section of the city, leaving death and destruction in its wake. Buildings were demolished, houses unroofed and the New York division of the Pennsylvania Railroad placed out of mmission temporarily by the de polition of its tower at Holmesburg which cut off telegraphic communication. In the Talcony section greatest damage occurred and it cut off from the rest of the city. As the evening squad of policemen was preparing to leave for their beats, roof of the building was blown off and every window broken by the sudden burst of wind. At Talcony station a man was killed and a portion of a structure blown away. Many houses in this section were unroofed and completely demolished. In the manufacturing section of Kingston several factories were damaged, trolly wires are down and roofs of houses were harled into the streets
