Waziri Raiders Cross Indo-Afghan Frontier -- Jodhpur Welcomes Prince Magnificently -- Rioters Hoist Red Flag in Vienna--De Valera Makes Declaration.

BRITISH COLUMN OVERWHELMED.
LONDON, Dec. 1. The India office reports that on November 25 a small British column consisting of two officers and eighty Indian soldiers, were overwhelmed by a large band of Waziri raiders from across the Afghan frontier. The fighting lasted four hours, and both British officers and about twenty Indians were killed and the other members were wounded or made prisoners.

THE PRINCE'S WELCOME AT JODHPUR.
LONDON, Dec. 1. The welcome accorded the Prince of Wales upon his arrival at Jodhpur was the most magnificent of receptions so far given His Royal Highness on the tour in India the spectacular viewpoint, according to Reuters correspondent.

RIOTING IN VIENNA.
VIENNA, Dec. 1. Rioting of a serious nature broke out today, following a demonstration before the Parliament Building here where red flags were raised on improvised masts. The crowds then began smashing windows and looting shops dealing in luxuries. Fashionable hotels were also attacked, and costlier furniture and tapestries being hurled out of the windows to cheering mobs. The authorities attribute the disturbance to Communists. The rapid rise of prices of food and clothing and the cold winter together with the Government's announcement that food subsidies would be abolished, are considered to have combined to provoke extremists to disorders. The police failed utterly in the role of preventers of the peace, but it is assumed they were acting under instructions of authorities who feared a riot which had so far been treat have lost $275,000 during the year through the disappearance of 200 automobiles, many of which are supposed to be in the St. Lawrence.

LAWBREAKERS PUNISHED.
NEW YORK, Dec. 1. In the criminal branch of the State Supreme Court to-day penitentiary sentences ranging from six months to three years and fines aggregating $6,750 were imposed on nineteen individual members of the Marble Industry Employers' Association who pleaded guilty of violation of the State and Trust Laws. Twelve firms were given fines totalling $2,000.

CRITICIZES CRAIG.
DUBLIN, Dec. 1. The Irish Bulletin, organ of the Dail Eireann, declares the Ulster Premier's speech rejecting the British Government's proposals for Irish settlement belongs not to the twentieth century but to the days of feudalism. Craig, however, is logical and only executing the British policy, according to the Bulletin.

DE VALERA SPEAKS.
ENNIS, Ireland, Dec. 1. De Valera, to-day speaking in the Town Hall, declared that if peace in Ireland was not achieved it would not be because "there is not will on the part of Ireland to make it, but because those opposed to us in England do not want to make peace with us." Declaring that Sinn Fein had gone as far as possible consistent with the principles for which it has stood for four years, De Valera added that all the power of Empire would not break the spirit of one true nation.

RUSSIA WANTS MORATORIUM ALSO.
LONDON, Dec. 1. Leonid Krassin, Russian Bolshevik Minister of Trade and Commerce, is to take up with Mr. Lloyd George the question of Russia's debt and commercial revival. It is learned in Russian official circles that there is a probability of Mr. Krassin suggesting a moratorium regarding Russia, if such measure of relief is granted Germany.

RATHENAU SEEKING LOAN.
LONDON, Dec. 1. Walter Rathenau, former German Minister of Reconstruction, who is here in connection with reparations, had a private conference with bankers and officials to-day. Only speculation is available as to the form the help for Germany, which is under consideration, will take. While French newspapers were disturbed that such

"MY LITTLE GIRL HAS GAINED 15 POUNDS," SAYS HAPPY MOTHER

Little Rhode Island Girl Is As Bright and Cheery and Her Cheeks Are As Rosy As Ever.

SHE CAN NOW KEEP UP IN HER CLASSES

"Only a Mother Can Understand What I Suffered When I Saw My Daughter Slowly Wasting Away," Says Mrs. Mary Smith.

"Every time I look at my little girl's rosy cheeks my heart goes out in praise and gratitude to 'Tanlac,'" said Mrs. Mary Smith, of Providence, R. I., a suburb of Providence, recently.

"Until Mary was eleven years of age she always enjoyed good health and had a very happy, fun-loving disposition. However, during the past three years she became very thin and frail. She took on a very yellow color, her tongue coated over, she complained of a bad taste in her mouth, dull headaches, and of feeling languid and tired all the time. She lost her sunny disposition and became nervous, irritable and moody. Her appetite got so poor that I had to coax her to eat. Her sleep was fitful, her eyes dull, and her steps so heavy that it seemed she had no strength to lift her feet from the floor.

"She had always stood high in her studies, but now her reports were so bad that her teacher called on me to find out why she had gone back so in her lessons. When I asked her why she had failed so in her school work she cried and said she studied as hard as ever, but couldn't seem to remember. Only a mother can understand what I suffered when I saw my daughter slowly, but surely, fading away each day. I could hardly keep back the tears when I looked at her.

"Six months ago we took her out of school, thinking this might help her, but she continued to grow worse. We were told she would get better when she got older, but I was afraid she couldn't live and have shed many a tear over her condition. In fact, my husband and myself, both, were down-right sick from worry over her, and yet, nothing did her any good.

"One day my husband said, 'Why not have Mary try Tanlac? Each morning I have read in the papers of someone being helped by it and it may be what she needs.'

"Well, I had tried everything else, so as a last resort I had Mary try Tanlac and I have felt thankful a thousand times that I did. Before she finished the first bottle she was eating like I have been wanting to see her eat for three years. Now she is the first to the table and the last to leave. She has gained fifteen pounds and is still gaining, and her face is as round and rosy as it ever was. Her eyes sparkle with health, her steps are light, and she is as full of life as a kitten. It does my heart good to hear her running around, singing and laughing and enjoying life and good health again. My gratitude to Tanlac is unbounded."

Tanlac is sold by leading druggists everywhere.

"Or even a Bath Robe would satisfy me—mine is getting frayed and worn. Or Collars—a dozen, say, with a nice Leather Collar Box to keep them from being scattered around—and for travelling, too. And, say, don't I just yearn for a Shimmering Silk Shirt to wear Christmas Day. I never could afford to buy one. That with a few new Ties would complete the outfit. Another 'pipe dream'. Still, one never knows!

The Weather Grumblers

When it is very, very hot. Folks sweat and wish that it were not; then when the days turn crisp and cold. They growl and grouse and sob and scold. No matter what the weather is, To blame it is their endless biz. They hate the sun—down comes the payment of the January installment of reparations.

They beg it to go up again! It cannot be much of a lark To be the wretched Weather Clerk. If I were he, I'd 'n not I'd send rain till I'd drowned the lot!

Compromise.

Europe is discovering that the only way to settle differences, with the minimum of bad blood, is compromise. The League of Nations in its proposals for a solution of the Upper Silesia problem has hit upon a scheme which we hope time will prove to be the way out. It divides the province industrially, giving not only Rybnik and Pless, but Kattowitz and Konigschutte to Poland, but in order that the division shall not bring economic chaos, the line of demarcation is not to be made a frontier for Customs purposes. The scheme is one of economic unity with political division; the arrangement is to last for fifteen years, and if Germany and Poland can only be brought together to make the most of their opportunities, the solution will be as happy as it certainly is ingenious. Another compromise concerns the Burgenland, that part of Western Hungary which was to be handed over to Austria. The settlement was momentarily threatened by a fresh adventure on the part of ex-King Karl: his arrest by the Hungarian Government and the collapse of his following should dispel a standing menace to peace in South-Eastern Europe. Yet, another direction in which there must be compromise if peace is ever to be achieved is Asia Minor. Greece has proved unequal to the huge military task she undertook; Mustafa Kemal has saved Ankara, and the Greeks, with their long lines of communication, are at any rate sorely pushed. It is in jeopardy. The Greek Prime Minister is visiting Paris and London to seek the assistance of the Allies, which Greece forfeited when she thought she was capable of carrying everything before her—United Empire.

Crime's Headquarters.

Medical men are debating the recently-published conclusions of Dr. William Browning on the subject of the crime centre of the human brain.

It was stated by Dr. Browning that although a person has no "bump" for crime, in the same way that he may have a "bump" for music or mathematics, the seat of the moral sense (the sense which helps us to distinguish between right and wrong) is not in one of the glands, as has always been supposed, but in the right frontal lobe of the brain.

Ever since the days of the great Greek physician, Hippocrates, scientists have been trying to discover the location of man's moral centre. So far, however, they have had to be content with the knowledge that the structure of the head of the criminal has marked features, such as a low forehead, ears situated below the level of the eyes, and so on.

The importance of the new discovery lies in the fact that it may enable crime to be cured by surgical operation.

Keep Fit

Bowel regularity is the secret of good health. Without forcing or irritating, Nujol softens the food waste. The many tiny muscles in the intestines can then remove it regularly. Absolutely harmless—try it.

Household Notes.

Hot soft gingerbread may be served with whipped cream for a simple, yet delicious, dessert.

Raisin sauce is delicious with skirt-steak. Flavor the sauce with a little lemon juice and vinegar.

A delicious garnish for sautéed chicken is large dice of boletus mushrooms, sautéed in garlic butter.

The simple luncheon is composed of a soup, a meat dish, two vegetables, a sweet dish and a hot beverage.

Never remove the bone from a roast; the meat will be sweeter, and more moist if the bone is left in.

Both the plum pudding and the fruit cake will have a richer flavor if made a week or two before using.

How fine cooks make cream soups to-day

Let Your Grocer Be Your Milkman

After eating a rich cream soup somewhere, do you sigh and say to yourself "if I could only afford to use real cream, I could serve soup like that, too!"

The chances are that the soup you would like to duplicate was not made with cream at all. For many fine cooks have learned a culinary secret that makes of cream soups a banquet dish at every day cost.

The secret is—make them with Libby's Evaporated Milk.

For twenty years Libby has worked to give a finer and richer milk to consumers. Their plans were far-reaching. First they sought out the finest pasture lands in America. There they encouraged the breeding of splendid milk herds and the use of all the appliances and practices of scientific dairying. And there they established their milk condenseries so equipped as to assure absolute purity and cleanliness.

At those condenseries the whole milk from the fine herds, with the cream left in, is canned for you. Half the moisture is taken from it by evaporation. Nothing is added to it. So you have in this milk just the rich, pure product of the finest cows, but with twice the food value, twice the butter fat, of ordinary milk.

This milk makes cream soups so smooth, so rich, so mellow that they taste like the soups made by extravagant cooks.

Used in coffee, this milk gives a creamy richness at half the cost of cream.

Try it in your favorite recipe where cream or milk is called for.

Your grocer has it or can get it for you.
