"arilament has now well entered upon third week of the session. The House Commons has adjourned daily before 6 lock, and the Senate is in a circonic state holiday, for it will not reassemble until Queen's birthday has been duly obted. The want of work is having a nal effect upon members. It makes a felect upon members, it makes a felet that their time is unnecessarily sited. But provision is now being made their amusement during the impending typell. The magnificent lawns fronting a Parliament buildings have been rolled dwatered and moved. On the eastern alf a tennis court is marked out, and on the west there is a cicket crease, with a baseball appendix. Fractice in the various games is to commence at once, and the registross are tasterned to provide as well as

Mr. Hyman, the new member from Ledon, will unite with Mr. Barron and Mr. Bowdney in the management of the law tennis mechanicary. while Mr. Davies, of Prince Edward Island, and Mr. Dickey will take charge of the cricketing department. The baseball branch of the outdoo sport will fall to the circles that Sir Cheles Tupper was the moving spirit in pronoting the late dissolution of Parliament. He had learned the condition of Sir John Macdonald's health and caused pressure to be put on the Old Man to bring on an election. His active agents in the Cabinst were his son, the Minister of Fisherie, Mr. Foster and Sir John Thompson. They saw that if the Old Man's Health quite broke down and they had to go to the country under other than he old leader defeat was inevitable, and so they subjected Sir John to the stress and fatigue of a campaign, notwithstanding the perilous state of his health, in order to achieve a victory for Tupper; and narrow as the victory was, the strength of the stress and fatigue of a campaign, notwithstanding the perilous state of his health, in order to achieve a victory for Tupper; and narrow as the victory was, of his health, in order to achieve a victory of Tupper; and narrow as the victory was, never did man swagger more oscentatiously and offensively over the result or more completely seize all the glory of the triumph than this same Tupper. Still, it is known that without contributed bribery money he has little influence outside his own Nove Section buildwick. own Nova Scotian ballwick.

Sir Charles Tupper is to represent the Canadian Government at the Postal Union Congress to be held shortly in Vienna.

Untimely Snowfalls Elsewhore.

Washington, D. C., May 18.—The Signal Office furnishes the following: The weather reports show the occurrence on Sunday morning of unusually low temperature for the season throughout Michigan, Ohio, West Virginia, Western Pennsylvania and Western New York. At Parkersburg, Columbus, Erie, Port Huron and Ministee the temperatures were from 2° to 4° lower than any previously recorded for this service during the second, decade of May. Killing frosts occurred generally throughout Michigan and Northern Ohio, and light frosts in the other districts named. No frosts were reported by observers from the Middle Atlantic States and New England.

London, May 18.—The Transatlantic Cattle Trade Committee have completed their report. The report approves of the United States regulations for the inspection and shipment of cattle. Ocean steamships which are occasionally chartered for the ocean cattle trade have in some instances an unsatisfactory class of officers, without experience in this particular trade. The fittings and ventilation of such ships are also frequently unadapted to the uses to which they are put, and the men employed attend to the cattle while traveling across the Atlantic are generally unskilled and often totally unable physically to endure the hardships of a rough voyage. The difficult and dangerous duty of attending cattle in shipment to Europe is badly paid, and the cattlemen are frequently compelled to work ces of the Noted Election in Which the Late Senator Leonard Was Elected.

The death of Senator Leonard removes another of the very small group of men who of late years have sat in the Canadian Senate as the choice of the people, not as the puppets of a political leader. It was in 1862 that Mr. Leonard was elected to what was then the Legislative Council of the United Parliament of Upper and Lower Canada, being the first and only councilor elected from the Malahide division under the short-lived elective system. Yet his election proved the wisdom of the system by proving that men of ability and high standing in the community would considered, under such a mode of selection, an honorable and dignified position. To-day, appointment to the Senate is considered of small value, except to decaying politicians with a childish pride in a high-sounding title, and but a passing ripple of interest is manifested by the public in the announcement that a vacancy in the Senate is to be filled, or has been filled. How different to take any chances of having his wife's letters stolen, do you?
