To Mr. Osler, witness said: "Carwothers met me one day at the Bos-well House and said he had not given me money for my vote. He said he would sign papers to that effect. I said, "Let's see you do it!" He took me to Mr. McPhillips' office and signed a paper. I signed one, too. I did not swear to it.

To Mr. Hellmuth, witness said Tracey was with Carrothers at the Boswell House. Witness said neither Tracey nor Sharkey had paid him anything for his vote. He had made a declaration to that effect.

"BULLDOZED."

To Mr. Osler, witness said, after bigning the declaration exonerating Tracey and Sharkey in McPhillips' office, he was asked why he objected to including Carrothers in the declaration. Witness told McPhillips that Carrothers had given him $5. Carrothers called the witness outside and said he had given him no money, and would sign a statement to that effect. Witness said: "All right, let's see you do it." Carrothers signed it witness followed suit. Mr. Osler-And that's the way you Witness-He pulled out a $5 bill and Mr. Hellmuth declined to cross-examine the witness. Mr. Osler-I need not arrue about Carrothers' agency. It is admitted in Brgument.

Judge Ferguson-I think so.

Mr. Osler showed that Arthur Ray and James Murphy were voters. Mr. Hellmuth said Carrothers was not in the court room to reply, but would be there in the morning.

PATRICK QUIGLEY. Patrick Quigley, examined by Mr. Macbeth, said he was a voter, but did not vote. He knew Robert Carrothhe saw Carrothers at his (Carrothers') residence on Horton street. Q.-Were you in the house?

A.-Yes. Q.-What took place? A .- He asked me if I was working Toothe said, "Will you vote for Beattie?" I said, "I will not promise." He said, "Will you promise you won't vote for Hyman?" I said, "Yes." Toothe said, "That's all right: that's just as good." Then Toothe gave me some money—$4.

Witness described exactly how he, his brother, and Toothe stood at the time. Toothe gave him a small roll of bills and he did not look at it until he left the room. He found two $2

Q.—Had you any other dealings with Toothe during the election? A TUPPER DRUM CORPS.

A .- Yes; he hired me to get up a drum corps for the Tupper demonstration. Mr. John O'Hearn first spoke to me about this. We went to the Conservative Club and saw Mr. Toothe and Mr. Graydon. Mr. Toothe said he wanted me to get up the corps and that it would be a permanent thing. I agreed to get up the corps, and the night of the Tupper proces-sion I got $2 from Toothe. I got $1.50 more, the night before the nomination. Q.—What was the $1 50 for?

An Interesting Wedding and Two

Funerals. Exeter, Jan. 27.-The man, Wm. Becker, of Blake, who was arrested in Detroit, on a charge of forgery, was brought to Exeter Tuesday by Chief Gill, and lodged in the lockup. where he awaits a preliminary hearing as soon as the various witnesses can be brought in. A very interesting event took place at the residence of Mr. Thomas Greg-ory, on Wednesday, being the mar-riage of his daugnter, Annie E., to Luther E. Gill, M.D., of Gibsonburg. Ohio, U. S. A. Miss May Gill, sister of the groom, assisted the bride, and Mr. Will A. Gregory, brother of the bride, assisted the groom. Both of the contracting parties claim Exeter as the home of their childhood, and are most highly respected throughout the community. The bride has, for a number of years successfully taught in one of the departments of our public school, and has also taken a verv prominent part in church work, being a member of the Main Street Methodist Church, the congregation of which presented her with a beautiful silver tea service as a testimonial of esteem and appreciation of her interest in church work. The popular pastor of Main Street Methodist Church, Rev. Locke, performed the service. Mr. and Mrs. Gill left on the evening train to visit in London, Detroit and Toledo before returning to their home in Gibsonburg, O., where the doctor has established a first-class practice in medicine. The remains of the late Leonard Curley, who died in London, were brought to Exeter per G. T. R., on Wednesday, and interred in the Exeter Cemetery. Mr. Carley was well known in this vicinity, having resided here for a number of years with his a mistake to bring such a matter up mother and brothers and sisters The funeral of the late Mrs. Robert Frayne, which took place to the Exeter cemetery, was largely attended on Tuesday.
