

STATISTICAL INFORMATION.

At the time of the incorporation of Belleville in 1836, the population was about 1000. In 1861, according to the census returns it numbered 6227 inhabitants. No census has since been taken of the town, but it would be within bounds to state, considering the rapid progress made since 1860, that the present number of inhabitants is between 9000 and 10,000. If the town continues to progress in the same ratio, it will not be long before it will take its place among the cities of Canada: The following is a comparative return of the imports and exports of Belleville for the eight years ending December 30th, 1863 :
