

PARNELL'S PRONOUNCEMENT. "IRELAND STILL LIVES."

His Defiant Answer to Chamberlain and Hartington's "Impossible."

DUBLIN, Sept. 18.—The Lord Mayor of Dublin to night entertained at a banquet at the Mansion House Mr. Parnell and the members of the Irish Parliamentary Party.

The usual loyal toasts were omitted. The Lord Mayor proposed, "Ireland—a nation."

Mr. Parnell, who rose at ten o'clock to respond to the toast "Ireland a Nation," was received with loud and prolonged cheers.

After the ovation subsided he said—My Lord Mayor, ladies and gentlemen, I shall leave to other and able hands the duty and the pleasure of thanking you for the honor which you have done me in electing me and in inviting me to meet this goodly company.

Mr. Parnell—The deceased wife's sisters (great laughter and cheering), freelanders, and the hundred and one atoms into which the great Liberal party is composed.

THE LAND QUESTION. STUDIES IN IRISH HISTORY.

BY JUSTIN HUNTLY MCCARTHY, M.P. From [United Ireland.]

Throughout the history of Ireland no question has been so fruitful of wretchedness and of conspiracy among the Irish people, and of alternate remedial and repressive legislation on the part of the English Government, as the question of the land.

Eviction produced misery and misery, disaffection—the disaffection gradually organizing itself into secret societies and those famous Ribbon lodges which have such an important connection with the Irish Land Question.

In no other civilized country in the world, perhaps, has such a system of land tenure existed as existed in Ireland. The landlord was absolutely master of his tenant, whom, as often as not, he ground down by depriving, living out of the country, and merely absorbing the rents.

GLADSTONE'S MANIFESTO.

REVIEW OF THE POLITICAL SITUATION.

LONDON, Sept. 18.—Mr. Gladstone to-day issued a four-column manifesto to his constituents in Midlothian. The ex-premier invited a comparison between the work of the recent Parliament and that of the Parliament which preceded it, and confidently appeals to the electors for a verdict.

LONDON, Sept. 19.—The Daily News interprets the manifesto to mean that Mr. Gladstone intends to lead his party in the House of Commons, and not to retire after the elections. His objections to free education, the News thinks, are worthy of deep consideration.

LONDON, Sept. 18.—That portion of Mr. Gladstone's manifesto referring to Irish affairs was received in this city with a feeling of general disappointment. The ground is taken by some that the expressions of the ex-premier are in harmony with those of Mr. Chamberlain as expressed by the latter recently at Glasgow and elsewhere.

LONDON, Sept. 18.—Great expectations are hanging upon Mr. Parnell's next appearance. His first speech will probably be at the Wicklow convention on October 9. Mr. Thomas Dickson, M.P. for Tyrone, the leader of the Ulster Liberals, in a letter to the Irish Times, says: "For the Liberals of Ulster there was no need on the part of Mr. Chamberlain or Lord Hartington for any declaration regarding Mr. Parnell's demands."

LONDON, Sept. 18.—The House of Commons has passed the Land Act, which was introduced by Mr. Parnell in 1881. The Act provides for the redemption of the land by tenants, and for the improvement of the land by landlords.
