

relevance to the ongoing operational requirements of the Canadian Government.

- Funding may also be considered for the publication and dissemination of information stemming from these projects.

Note:

Contributions are not normally provided for:

- an organization's start-up costs (i.e., "seed money");
- an organization's ongoing activity or for administrative costs such as salaries, office rental or telephone charges;
- the costs of overseas conferences or projects;
- projects oriented toward introducing arms control and disarmament material into public or secondary school curricula;
- the payment of speaker's fees at conferences or seminars.

B. Grants Component

- Speaker's fees and writer's salaries (in the case of publications) may be covered by the grants component. Requests for grants to cover specified operational or organizational costs may be considered on a case-by-case basis but only in exceptional circumstances.

Note:

- Grants are not provided for cultural/education/research exchange programmes or public relations projects or programmes which serve primarily to promote the internal activities of the grant applicant.