

In Conclusion

As a Canadian detained or imprisoned in a foreign country, you will be subject to living conditions that may be physically harsh and emotionally depressing. Family or friends of a Canadian detained or imprisoned in a foreign country often carry a considerable financial and emotional burden over an extended period. Canadian consular officials have extensive experience in dealing with these problems, and understand how difficult the situation can be for everyone. They are there to help. Stay in touch with them, keep them informed about your situation and call on them for the assistance you need.