SITUATION, BUILDINGS, &c.

Sackville, being at the head of the Bay of Fundy, is a retired Country Village, pleasant and healthy, and easy of access from all parts of the Lower Provinces.

The Academy Buildings are elegant, spacious, and comfortable, and delightfully situated upon an elevation of ground, so that they command one of the richest and most extensive views in British North America. A gentleman from Boston, who visited it some years since, thus truthfully described the main Building :—“This building, which is of wood, is a noble edifice, one hundred and fifty feet in length, and about fifty in width, and three stories high above the base-ment. It has a handsome portico in the middle of the facade, with four Doric columns from the ground floor to the roof of the main building. * * * Its internal arrangement is planned in no narrow or stinted measure. The rooms of the lower or ground story,
