

"The Roberval,"

ROBERVAL, P. Q.

Terminus of the Quebec and Lake St. John Railway,— nearly two hundred miles north of Quebec. The home of the "Ouananische" (land lock Salmon).

The great game section of Canada. Fur and feathered game of all sizes and character in abundance.

The greatest fishing district in Canada. Salmon, speckled trout, and all species of value.

Indian tribes and the most beautiful scenery.

"The Roberval" (as throngs who have already visited it will testify) is a first-class hotel in every particular. Service equal to any first-class city hotel. Cuisine fit for an epicure; table unsurpassed. Magnificent lawns. Uninterrupted lake view. Electric lights. Trains run to hotel grounds.

H. J. BEEMER,

T. KENNA,

Proprietor.

Manager.

"THE STILLMAN,"

CLEVELAND, OHIO.

Nothing like it in Ohio, and nothing to surpass it elsewhere.

Situated on the famous Euclid Avenue, surrounded by beautiful lawns finely cared for; majestic shade trees; electric lights in and outside of hotel.

Table service the production of the highest culinary art, and laden with the best which money can buy.

Furnished in the most modern style. "The Stillman" is absolutely fire-proof. It is virtually a palace hotel, centrally located.

H. F. ROESSER, . . . Manager.
