And a Camera--It, too, is a Motorist's Need

If it's to be a spin in the country by motor, you'll surely want to make photographs of the beautiful rural scenes. If you intend spending the day picnicking at some favorite suburban spot, you'll want to "snap" the frolicking kiddies and make picture stories of all the interesting incidents for every member of the party. These three models are good, dependable cameras, which are inexpensive to buy and inexpensive in upkeep.

The Folding Scout at $12.00.

A Light Weight and Very Compact Camera, made of aluminum, with reinforced wood sides. It is covered with waterproof seal grain leather, and its equipment includes a shutter with three speeds to the slot, a time and a bulb movement, a single lens, and focussing gauge, and an adjustable view finder. Price $12.00.

The New Ansco "Vest Pocket" at $9.00.

When you see the pictures it makes and compare its size, you'll concede that this Ansco "Vest Pocket" is one of the most compact cameras you've seen. It takes pictures 2 1/4 x 3 1/4 inches, has single achromatic lens, three speed and bulb and time shutter, and two tripod sockets, adjustable table rest, and adjustable view finder. One of its distinct advantages is that focussing is not necessary.

Price $9.00.

Postcard Size Camera at $23.50.

The postcard size is 3 1/4 to 5 1/2 inches. This camera is equipped with a shutter of unusual range, for it has five speeds to the snap and a bulb and time movement. The lens is a good rapid symmetrical (double). The body is made of aluminum and covered with grained composition leather. A camera of distinctly superior workmanship in every detail. Price $23.00.
