Broomhills cables: Famine conditions have been declared in the United Provinces of India and over the famine expected, as bad as the famine in the year of 1896, the crop in that year amounting to only 184,000,000 bushels, in 1906 a yield of 280,000,000 bushels.

The following is the weekly summary by Broomhills of European conditions of crops.

United Kingdom, France and Italy—The weather is unseasonably wet and seedling is progressing slowly.

Germany and Spain—Rains have fallen and seedling advanced under favorable weather.

Austria-Hungary—The weather is very unfavorable, being droughty and cold.

Romania—Light, but general rains have fallen, which have improved the outlook. Increased exports are expected.

The market is firm, with light supplies.

Russia—Rains have fallen in the south and southwest, and seedling is expected.
Supplies of wheat are very light and firmly held. The north is impeding small lots.

North Africa—Good rains have fallen.

The Cincinnati Price Current, in its weekly review of the grain trade, says:

"The weather of the past week has been favorable for promoting the drying out of corn, and some of the early plantings are being harvested, and some harvesting has been done, but generally little of this work has been accomplished as yet. It is too soon to judge of the reliability of the quality of the grain and the yield, but indications favor the view that farmers are not expecting disappointment, and are more inclined to the belief that earlier anticipations will be fully realized. The irregularity of the planting and resultant various stages of development of the crop in the same section makes it difficult to form opinion. Until husking becomes general and the outcome of the latest plantings is indicated more positively, results will remain an uncertainty. Some soft corn is reported in scattered localities.

"The sowing of fall grain, particularly winter wheat, is practically completed, and the early sowings are making a good appearance. Recent rains should prove beneficial to the late sowings, and the start of the winter wheat remain as regarded satisfactory. The indication of acreage devoted to this crop is likely to be about equal to that of the previous year. Weather has favored the result of the seasonable farm work.

"In the grain market financial conditions have tended to unsettle and disturb prices by hampering trading, and the situation of the market is not as settled as it was some time ago. It is necessary to withhold the accommodation to which grain has been accustomed, thus hampering the trade in purchase business in the usual manner."
