CHARMING DESIGNS IN FALL HATS

Some of the Latest Novelties From Art Centres of England and the Continent.

In cruder days, "some next year. "The Spiritual Aspect of Y.M.C.A." was the leading feature disranked first in importance, and beauty, the a consideration, seemed to be of minor importance. But for fall, 1901,

The Berlin Plano and Organ Company, continues to be one of the chief points of interest. It is in the care of capable piano men, and if the list to date of sales made, shown The World representative, is any criterion of what the company may expect for the remaining days of the Fair, the exhibit truly has been a great succession of the most admired, both as to tone, quality and appearance, is of colonial design, or, as the catalog describes it, style 24, and this is only singling out one of the many shown—for every instrument is most artistic in design and possesses that rich Limited, exhibit in the musical pavilion many shown—for every instrument is most artistic in design and possesses that rich durable tone and quality that prospective purchasers appreciate and seek. In their selection the Berlin people have made an eviable reputation in the piano world. They make a special feature of seling direct to the trade, and the factory record of sales has been next to phenomenal. To the dealer looking for a pianor right down to the minute in construction and improvements, and one that meets the great demand for an everlasting instrument at a popular price, the Berlin will most certainly prove to him a trade winner. Also their beautiful display of organs has commanded the attention of the many dealers who have visited the exhibit.

Miners Esteemed Nurse.

Miss Amy Scott, one of the three nurses who went to the Klondike in 1898 for the Victorian Order, has returned to the city. The strain and exposure resulted in serious injury to Miss Scott's health, and compelled her to return after a year's service. On leaving there she was presented with a bracket of gold nuggets from the miners as a tribute to her faithful nursing during the typhoid scourge. She has spent the last two years at her home in England, and now intends re-entering the nursing profession.

THOUSANDS IN THE TOWER.

When there were over 1000 visitors to the City Hall tower every day, the elevator men and other caretakers' officials were busy, but the indications are that this week will show an average of over 2000 visitors a day to the big clock. So great has been the crush for the past two or three days, that men are stationed in the corridors leading to the tower to keep the passages clear. The courtesy and attention shown to visitors at the hall is often favorably commented upon. The view from the tower is generally considered to be the best advertisement Toronto ever had.

These laws at present conflict, the Dominion regulations prestricting the catch of foreigners alone. Commissioner S. T.
