ONE-ARM PEDDLER SPREAD SMALLPOX

41 Persons Quarantined in Toronto Salvation Army Mt. opole.

Toronto, July 29.—The medical health department of the city is doing a large business these days in the matter of taking the strictest precautions to prevent any further spread of the smallpox epidemic.

Following the removal of the man from the Salvation Army Metropole, or man's lodging house, at the corner of Wilton avenue and Victoria street, Dr. Sheard has now 41 men quarantined in the building.

Eight of these were lodgers when the man was removed yesterday, and the rest had been at the house during the past few days.

Dr. Sheard traces the last case also to the one-armed peddler who was taken to the Isolation Hospital some three weeks ago.

He had slept at the Metropole the night before being taken in charge by the health department.

The apartment in which he had slept was fumigated and closed up, and the Salvation Army officers were advised to keep a careful watch of the men and notify the health officer if any of the men appeared to be afflicted with the disease.

Brigadier Collier, who has charge of the men's social department of the Salvation Army, says that notice was given last week of a man who was thought to have taken the disease, but on examination it was found not to be smallpox.

Last Saturday night the spots began to appear on one of the men, and yesterday he was examined and at once removed.

A good deal of vaccinating is being done at the city hall these days.

OLDFIELD GOING FAST

Breaks Two World's Automobile Records at Fargo, N. D.

Fargo, N. D., July 30.—Barney Oldfield, at the Fargo Inter-State Fair yesterday, broke two world's automobile records on a half-mile track, going the first mile of a three-mile race in 1:15 1/2, and the three miles in 3:51.

His mile record beat that made by himself at Winnipeg ten days ago, by four and a half seconds, and his three-mile record was 18 seconds faster than that of his Winnipeg record.

THAW PLAYS HANDBALL

Is Induced To Take Up Vigorous Form of Exercise.

New York, July 29.—Harry K. Thaw has been induced by his physician, counsel, relatives and friends to quit thinking about his forthcoming trial.

Heretofore he has stubbornly refused to take any other exercise than a vigorous walk through the Tombs corridors, but in the last week he has been prevailed upon to take up handball.

The game was played in the court yard, the ball pooming against the gray stone walls that about the prisoners from the world outside. It was a remarkable game, because the three men who participated are indicted for murder, in the first degree.

Thaw was one of them. The other prisoners, each awaiting possible electrocution in the death chair at Sing Sing, looked on.

There was no somber aspect to this game—it was played with human gaiety that flouted itself before the very laws of the ghastly spectacle—extermination. The exercise is said to have done Thaw a world of good, for he slept unusually well in his cell that night and has arranged for another go with fellow occupants of what the prison attaches call "murderer's row."

CYCLIST CATCHES RUNAWAY

Odd Experience of a St. Thomas Couple at Port Stanley.

Port Stanley, July 30.—As a young couple from St. Thomas were driving into the village yesterday afternoon, their horse became frightened at the approach of an auto-cycle. The buggy was upset and the occupants thrown into the ditch, leaving for the young lady's arm.

The horse broke away from the buggy and fled towards St. Thomas. The gentleman on the motor bicycle set his machine running after the horse. The race continued for about a mile and a half, when the animal was captured and brought back to the village.

CHIEF FLATMOUTH DIES

Escorted From Life by the Tribes' Ancient Ceremonies.

Walker, Minn., July 29.—Flatmouth, head chief of the Leech Lake and Pillager bands of Chippewa Indians, is dead at the old agency near Walker.

The tribal customs of the Chippewa Indians were carried out in full. As soon as it was known that the head chief was about to leave for the happy hunting grounds the time-honored medicine dance was commenced and continued several days up to the time of his death.

Boatloads of Walker citizens and summer tourists thronged the vicinity throughout the entire time, and although the drowning of the dogs, the dog feast and grotesque dances were gruesome in the extreme, none who witnessed the ceremonies were inclined to ridicule or scoff, as they were impressive and solemn in every particular.

CONFESSES FORGERY.

Kenton, Ohio, July 29.—Thomas Black, the most prominent lawyer in the city, a leading Republican politician and mayor for two terms, gave himself up to the sheriff today, confessing the forgery of $20,000 of National Bank currency during a period of nine years.

NEO MOTOR MAN SAVES LITTLE GIRL

Sweeps Her From Death Under Car Wheels, Losing a Leg in Gallant Rescue.

New York, July 29.—David Godfrey, a motorman, of No. 249 West One Hundred and Forty-ninth street, yesterday almost gave his life to save that of a golden-haired girl of 4 years, and through his heroism furnished one of the most remarkable scenes in the memory of New York railroad men.

Godfrey boarded a Third Avenue surface car for uptown. The trolley was in charge of Motorman Otto Hansen, of No. 342 East Eighty-fifth street, Bowling along the south-bound track toward the Seventy-third street Hansen saw half a dozen children in front of him, frolicking. He pounded his bell furiously and jammed down the brake.

Godfrey was standing on the running-board at the time, and realized that as there is a steep slope at that point in the road, the momentum of the car would sweep it along despite the application of the brakes.

One little girl, dazed by the danger, stood still less than half a foot from the track. It seemed certain that the running-board would strike her. But in an instant Godfrey's left hand was grasping a stanchion and his right was thrust far ahead. As the car sped up the man literally brushed the child to one side. She fell, but her fall caused her to roll away from the wheels.

Before Godfrey could pull himself to an upright position again the car sped past at full pillar and the heroic man's head struck it. He dropped as if he had been shot, and one leg went under a wheel. It was almost severed, and just when a score of persons who had heard the cries of the children and the motorman's shout to cheer him, were grasping at the car, which had stopped, and hundreds gathered around. Dr. Dubois arrived in an ambulance from the Presbyterian Hospital, and in the presence of a thousand persons, who did not utter a word, he amputated the injured leg, and the hero was taken to the hospital, where the doctors, who know the story, are fighting with all their skill and strength to save the man's life.

ADVENTURESS DUPER "400"

Woman Who Posed as Earl's Daughter Is Believed To Be in Toronto.

Toronto, July 30.—A beautiful Englishwoman about 35 years of age, a friend of many fashionable New Yorkers and eagerly sought after by many New York hotelkeepers with unpaid bills, is believed to be in Toronto.

In New York she was known as Miss Eva Fox-Strangway, which name she appended to a good many checks which later proved worthless, and the charges now registered against her are leaving hotel bills unpaid and issuing worthless paper with intent to defraud.

This Miss Strangway has had a brilliant career in New York, and made her way into the most exclusive friendships with some of the smartest people in New York and Philadelphia. She is no longer in New York, but is believed to be resting after her social successes in Toronto.

The Toronto detectives, at the request of the New York police, are on the lookout for her. They have already had one young woman under surveillance, whom New York detectives thought was the much-sought-for adventuress, but she has satisfied themselves, however, that the young woman in question has had nothing to do with the meteoric career of Miss Eva Fox-Strangway.

Miss Strangway in New York was known as the daughter of the Earl of Hchester. When she had been in New York only a few weeks she became known to some members of the board of education, who impressed with her wide information, asked her to give a course of lectures in the public schools in the coming autumn.

The young woman also became acquainted with prominent leaders in the fashionable world in New York and Philadelphia. She first put up at the Waldorf. Private information caused the management of that hotel to ask her to leave the day after her arrival. She stopped at several hotels, with mysterious intervals between the various visits. She generally left in a hurry and always left either an unpaid bill or a worthless check. When she paid with a check there was generally a goodly sum returnable to her in cash. The Savoy Hotel holds a worthless check for $75.77; the Park Avenue Hotel one for $80; the Bellevue-Stratford, of Philadelphia, one for $50.

Besides this there is an unpaid bill of $150 at the Westminster Hotel, New York, and another for $300 at the Manhattan Hotel, New York.

While living on her nerve and bad checks, this resourceful Englishwoman was making her way further into the hearts of well-known names in both cities. By using their names she was able to victimize store keepers, costumers and private individuals so that after her raids in New York not only had she dressed well and lived well, but also had a considerable cash balance to her credit, which she took good care to carry away with her.

She was lavishly entertained at Philadelphia early this month, but left suddenly, having paid a $40 hotel bill with a worthless check for $50. Since then she has been sought for, but as yet in vain.

She is a pretty woman about 35 years of age, but retaining much of the freshness of youth. She is a woman of refinement, and displays a wide knowledge of affairs. A brilliant conversationalist, she won the heart of New York as a good English accent.

SAIL AWAY TO WIN SOUTH POLE

English Antarctic Expedition Party Leaves for Southern Waters.

London, July 30.—The Endurance, originally a Newfoundland sealing vessel of 227 tons, but which has been refitted as a steam barkentine, sailed down the Thames today with the English south polar expedition, commanded by Lieut. E. H. Shackleton, on board.

Lieut. Shackleton was a member of the Discovery Antarctic expedition under Commander Scott.

Winter quarters for twelve persons, with provisions for two years, will be established on King Edward VII Land and an attempt will be made to reach the south pole during the summer of 1908. The equipment on board the Endurance includes a motor car provided with different sets of runners for travel over surfaces of varying softness, twelve Siberian ponies, and twenty-four dogs. Several scientists with elaborate apparatus accompany the expedition.

The Endurance is commanded by Lieut. Rupert England. He plans to pick up the explorers
