SUPERIOR PAINLESS DENTISTRY!

"There is a world wide cry against the dentists that they torture their patients. Those of strong physique submit and endure the agony. With a second class this is simply impossible, and thousands of teeth are neglected and lost even though the patients may be able to pay for our most skillful services. Then there is a third class who, after months of mental torture in anticipation, finally come into our hands, and, with nerves strung to a painful point, pass through the ordeal, but at what a cost! We do not sufficiently consider the consequences of shock in the dental chair, yet undoubtedly many suffer for months and even years from injuries to the nervous system received whilst in our hands."

The greatest duty of our profession today, is to discover and adopt a mode of painlessly performing our operations."

NOTE.—The above is an abstract from a paper read by an eminent dentist of New York City before a society of dentists in Philadelphia. The famous Hale Method of painless dentistry, for which we are sole agents for Canada is the best Method on earth.

Roy, trade commissioner for Canada in Newfoundland, who is here endeavoring to interest exporters in the development of trade between the dominion and the island colony, says that imports to Newfoundland amounted to $12,000,000 last year. He deplores the fact that few Canadian commercial travelers are seen there. Mr. Roy will meet any exporters who desire to see him in the board of trade rooms this afternoon.

Several parties of hunters are out after partridges, and woodcock and some good bags have been made. Woodcock are plentiful, but because they are moulting and scattered about they are hard to find. Indications according to some of the local sportsmen, are that woodcock will be more plentiful than ever this year. The height of the woodcock season is along about the first week in October, and the large number of birds that can be found now promise many in October. Partridges are still in the swamps where it is impracticable to hunt them, but as cold weather approaches they will be out on the ridges, and present indications point to plenty of them, also.

WHITNEY HAS SEVERAL TIMES VISITED HERE

Man on Whom Much Depends in Peary-Cook Controversy Has Friends Here—His Visits

Much in the Cook-Peary controversy over the discovery of the North Pole will centre in the return of Harry Whitney to civilization, and it will be of interest here to know that Mr. Whitney has visited St. John on several occasions, and that word has been received from him by St. John friends more than once since Peary's just completed pole hunting expedition started for the frozen regions. It will be remembered that Dr. Cook in substantiation of his claim discovery of the top of the earth, said the other day that a duplicate of his records and observations, and also some of his instruments had been given into the care of Mr. Whitney, whom he met in Greenland, the idea being that, if his own set of records should by any mischance be lost, Whitney would have duplicates.

Whitney is a wealthy young man of some 32 years, who spends his time roaming about shooting, hunting, touring hither and thither and as the family are in the millions list, he has all the leisure to indulge his taste for the roving life.

Some five years ago he came to St. John in a handsomely appointed yacht, with several wealthy New York friends.

They went to Bonny River, in Charlotte county, and led good sport. One result was that Whitney had almost induced Andrew Carnegie, with whom he is very friendly, to come here fishing and shooting, but something prevented.

Mr. Whitney, however, has been here twice since, staying at the Royal Hotel, and has also been at Kennedy's in Rochdale.

He had planned another New Brunswick visit just about the time that he was starting for his last expedition to polar regions, and meeting the commander in a New York street, was invited by him to sail on the Roosevelt on its Arctic voyage. He had been twice to the Arctic before, and he accepted Peary's invitation—not, however, to go the whole way with the explorer, but to accompany him to Greenland, where he would enjoy hunting the wild animals of the north land. Whitney had built for the trip the boat, a picture of which was shown in the Times last week.

He left Peary at Greenland and encountered Dr. Cook there, and was given by the doctor the use of his hut as a hunting headquarters. Whitney is now supposed to be somewhere in the Labrador country hunting. When he will come out is not known, but it is thought possible he will return to the states via St. John.

The St. John family to whom he is well known, have received postal cards from him, containing the following interesting "Peary postal," of which there is a series, and have also in keeping for him a handsome set of fishing poles, which he had sent to St. John in their care to await his coming here.

Whitney's arrival in New York is said to have received a letter from him, written before knowledge of the controversy reached him, and in which he wrote—"I am not too bad that Commander Peary should have failed in being the first to get to the pole after all these years and all his attempts."

ARTILLERY BAND TO GO TO MILWAUKEE

The members of the cast and choruses in the production to be given in the Opera House for four days, commencing October 10, by the St. John R. of P. Milwaukee 10 Club, are rehearsing diligently several nights each week. The entire staging is under the personal direction of H. M. Gardner, of New York, and he speaks in the highest terms of St. John's talent.

The proceeds of the entertainment are to be devoted toward paying the expenses of the Artillery Band to Milwaukee on the occasion of the supreme lodge K. of P. convention in 1910, and are not to pay the expenses of the knights, as so commonly thought.

The play to be presented is "A Fool for Luck," a piece that has been produced with great success by Mr. Gardner in many parts of the United States. It is a two act comedy interspersed with specialties and musical numbers. The choruses are being drilled by A. Chip Ritchie, which is a guarantee of their excellence, and he will have a special orchestra of eighteen or twenty pieces from the Artillery Band under F. C. Jones and Allen Crawford.

HAIRDRESSERS TO REAP HARVEST ON OCTOBER 4

The fact that one hair dressing establishment has already booked forty orders for October 4 is some slight indication of the interest which society is taking in the Schumann-Heink concert, which will without doubt be the society event of the season. For this reason alone it will be an event well worth attending, apart from the other features of the program.

hearing one of the greatest singers of the age. Next Wednesday the seat plan will open to subscribers at the box office at 9 o'clock.

MR. MCGAFFIGAN AND PARTY HUNTING

Bathurst, Sept. 23.—J. J. McGaffigan of St. John, was in town for a few days last week arranging a trip to the woods.

On Tuesday last there were with him Dr. M. W. Seagers, of St. Augustine, Florida, and J. F. Greaves of Miami, Florida. They have three guides and a cook to care for the party.

They went in the head of the big Tracade, and after a stay of four or five days there, they will go down that river to Pokemouche Landing and go over to the head of the Pokemouche Landing and go over the head of the Pokemouche waters. From there they will proceed to "Alderwood." Mr. McGaffigan's summer home on the Little Tracade, where they will enjoy some days hunting partridges. Later they will go down to Tracade Bay where F. W. Sisk, of Tracade has made arrangements for an outing and there they will shoot wild fowl, geese, brant and black ducks.

Fairview fishermen have been occupied during the past few days in putting their park and base ball ground in shape and next season will probably see important improvements completed. The ground is being levelled and will be sown with grass seed to provide a good lawn. A grand stand will be erected overlooking the base ball field and next summer the fishermen expect to provide some good sport there.

The Man Who Wants to Spend $20 for His Fall Suit Can Choose From 35 Styles at Oak Hall, Any of Which Would Cost $25 or $28 in Other Stores.

There's no question about the saving. It's evident to any one who makes a comparison of our $20 suits with those sold generally at $25 and $28. Make the comparison as critically as possible. Examine the fabrics, the workmanship, the trimmings, the style. Rip the coats apart and look at the insides. The more thorough the inspection the more you'll appreciate the exceptional value we offer you.

We're sure of our ground. We know that other stores which pay the maker a good profit for themselves must ask at least $25 or $28 for such suits as we sell at $20.

You see, it's because you buy directly of the manufacturers when you buy at Oak Hall and have only one profit to pay that you can buy for so little. But you not only save money in buying at Oak Hall—you also get the best clothing that skill and care can make and you can choose from a larger and better variety of new style than any other store can show.

Where else, for instance, outside of Oak Hall can you find 35 distinct styles at $20? And it's the same at every other price from $5.00 to $30—both assortment and values are matchless.
