IS OUTSTANDING IN BAPTIST MINISTRY

Presentation on Eve of Departure to Church in Needham, Mass.

The congregation of Victoria street Baptist church tendered a farewell social to the pastor, Rev. G. B. MacDonald, Mrs. MacDonald and family last evening in the schoolroom of the church. Many of the local clergy men were present as guests. W. H. MacDonald, superintendent of the Sunday school, was the chairman and extended a cordial welcome.

During the evening the chairman on behalf of the Golden Chain class presented to their pastor, Mrs. G. B. MacDonald, a very beautiful reading lamp in appreciation of her services.

The chairman on behalf of the congregation then presented to Rev. and Mrs. G. B. MacDonald a purse of money and Frank E. Dunfield, clerk of the church, on behalf of the congregation, presented to Mr. MacDonald an illuminated address, enclosed in a bronze frame. The address expressed appreciation of the services of Mr. MacDonald as pastor to the church, to his people, Sunday school and community, referred with respect to his departure and extended good wishes for his success in his Ducey, Mrs. C. Galt, Mrs. W. Robertson, Mrs. J. Johnston, Mrs. J. Christie, Mrs. W. Murphy, Mrs. E. Henderson, Mrs. W. Mackenzie, Mrs. W. Sherwood, Mrs. W. McAlley, Mrs. L. Mabey, Mrs. J. Corbett, Mrs. E. Monteith, Mrs. A. Powe, and Miss Pearl Johnston.

OUTSTANDING MINISTER.

The Rev. George B. MacDonald, D. Sc., is one of the outstanding and best known Baptist clergymen within the Maritime Baptist Convention. Mr. MacDonald has held three important pastorates, all in the Province of New Brunswick.

For three years he was pastor of the Andover church, in the northern part of the province. In 1912 he received and accepted a call to the Baptist church of Sussex. He remained as pastor of that church for eight years. In many respects this was a notable pastorate. It was during Mr. MacDonald's ministry in that town that the union took place between the two old and long-established churches, both of which had filled a large and important place in the religious life of the town for many years. The union of two churches of the same denomination characterized the relationship of these two congregations. Largely through the diplomatic leadership of Mr. MacDonald they were, under his ministry, united under the name of the United Baptist church of Sussex. The new church had a membership of about 500 and a Baptist constituency something like 1,000 persons. During Mr. MacDonald's pastorate in Sussex, the offering for denominational purposes increased steadily from about $800 a year, given by the two churches previous to the union, to $1,600, raised by the united church during the last year of his pastorate there.

WENT TO HALIFAX.

Mr. MacDonald's next pastorate was in the West End church in the city of Halifax, N. S. This church is one of the strongest churches in Nova Scotia. Mr. MacDonald's ministry of three years in this church was outstandingly

She Waited

When Ray H. Foor (below) entered the Victoria street Baptist church for a two-year term for marriage, Miss Averill Gray (above) of Wichita was the only one who went to bid him goodbye. During his imprisonment they corresponded, and when he came out she was waiting for him. Now they're married.

successful from every angle. The work was consolidated and put on a better basis than ever before. A large local floating indebtedness was liquidated, while his eloquence and convincing preaching drew to the congregation a large number of the more thoughtful type of Baptist people. Mr. MacDonald has been in his present pastorate almost three years. The Victoria street congregation is one of the largest congregations in the city of Saint John. During his ministry in Victoria street, Mr. MacDonald has won for himself an increasingly large place not only in the religious life of this city, but in those departments of the city's activities which promote the general welfare of the city's life.

Mr. MacDonald is at present a member of the Amity Board, of the Maritime Baptist Convention, and also a member of the Board of Promotion and Finance. He is a minister of more than ordinary public eloquence. His preaching is known for the beauty of its English and the clearness of its diction. Personally he is a man of fine qualities around whom friends readily gather.

The Baptist denomination is meeting with a very distinct loss in the departure of Mr. MacDonald from Saint John to accept the pastorate of the First Baptist church of Needham, Mass. His outstanding gifts, together with his qualities of leadership, should win for him in a very short time a large place in the Northern Baptist Convention, in which the Needham church is situated.

Social Notes of Interest

Mrs. H. V. Barry, 24 Charles street, gave a delightfully arranged bridge of four tables at her home on Wednesday evening. Clusters of jonquills decorated the drawing room and dining room. Prizes for the best scores were awarded to Mrs. Frank Wey, Mrs. L. D. Spence, and Miss Melita Martin. The guests included Mrs. R. O. Bond, Mrs. C. P. Burn, Mrs. Frank Wey, Mrs. L. D. Spence, Mrs. George McKel, Mrs. George Higgins, Mrs. Charles Brown, Mrs. Everett Atterton, Mrs. I. MacDonald, Mrs. L. McAfee, Mrs. Jack Howard, Miss Melita Martin, Miss Elsie Wilkins, Miss S. McAldine, Miss Alda Crocker, Miss Mildred Brown and Miss Florence Bagell. During the evening the hostess served delicious refreshments and was assisted by Mrs. R. O. Bond and Mrs. C. P. Burn.

Miss Audrey Kerr, 175 Duke street, was the hostess at a very enjoyable bridge at her residence on Wednesday evening. The fortunate prize winners were Mrs. William Dodge, Miss K. Flood and Miss Dorothy Tapley. The guests included Mrs. Edward Mason, Mrs. Gilmour Armstrong, Mrs. William Mackenzie, Mrs. John Armstrong, Mrs. Frederick Thompson, Mrs. William Dodge, Mrs. Arthur Gilmour, Miss George Bustin, Miss Helen Pattison, Miss Edith McFarlane, Miss Ruby Logan, Miss Daphne Ross, Miss Anne Jennings, Miss Marion Belding, Miss Margaret Gilmour, Miss Louise Bond, Miss Dorothy Tapley and Miss Helena Magnuson.

Mrs. B. Haines, 98 High street, entertained a number of friends last evening at her home in honor of Miss Willa Carvell. Spring flowers were effectively used in the decoration of the drawing room. A pleasant musical evening was spent and the hostess was assisted by Miss Florence Carvell in serving dainty refreshments. Those present were Miss Willa Carvell, Miss Florence Carvell, Miss Agnes Delong, Miss Edith Carvell, Miss Marion Carvell, Miss Nan Wilson, Miss Marion Blackley, Miss Vera Brooks, Miss May Brooks and Miss Alice Leggett.

Miss Edna Franklin, of East Saint John, was one of the seven young ladies chosen to serve at the luncheon given Wednesday at Fredericton by the household science department of the Provincial Normal School in honor of Mrs. W. P. Todd, wife of the Lieutenant-Governor, and her friends.

The many friends of Mrs. Gordon Emerson will be glad to know that she is improving in health after an operation for appendicitis performed at the Infirmary on Monday.

The regular meeting of the Eclectic Club was held at the residence of Mrs. Gordon MacDonald, King street East, last evening. The hostesses for the evening were Mrs. MacDonald, Mrs. Margaret Lawrence, Mrs. Richard J. Hooper and Mrs. Corlanti Robinson. The program which was in charge of Mrs. Alfred Morrisey dealt with the literature of the sea.

Mrs. G. Heber Vroom, regent of the Municipal chapter of the I. O. D. E., received word yesterday morning through Mr. Arthur N. Carter, secretary for the local branch of the National Council of Education, that Lady Allenby is happy to accept the invitation of the I. O. D. E. of Saint John to be present at a reception at the Admiral Beatty Hotel on Wednesday afternoon, March 31. It is hoped that a large number of the members will avail themselves of the privilege of meeting this distinguished guest.

No. 512—Up or down— or coated out— this three way cuff is decidedly smart. Colour pearl, mode, pleasant, pongee.

No. 519—At graceful as the lovely butterfly embroidered above it, is the tiny ruffle outlining the three wide scalloped cuffs which form the cuff of this model.

No. 510—Seen as the Decollet opening in Paris, where it is gilded with a contrasting color exactly matched a smart street frock of Kasha.

Go forth . . . gloved in Silk

The very essence of Spring sunshine is in these new Kayser glove modes—so gay the little frills and ruffles—so demure the folds and bands that cuff the hand so becomingly—so bright the occasional flash of color in the embroidery, or perchance the facing of a clever little inverted flare which meets a long sleeve to perfection.

You may choose here—in your own town—the self-same styles shown by the smartest specialty shops in Paris, and the prices are moderate indeed.
