MR. WARD'S TWO HUNDRED WORDS.

Some men talk too much and others not quite enough. The latter kind are not numerous, but they exist, and Mr. Henry Ward is one of them.

Mr. Ward is a stationer, and lives at Barton-in-the-Clay, near Ampthill, Bedfordshire. On September 19th, 1893, he wrote us a letter of about two hundred words altogether. Ordinarilly we should regard that letter as a model, for brevity is not only the soul of wit, but it is also a delightful quality in nearly all verbal communiquality in nearly all verbal communi-cations and writings. Still, we wish Mr. Ward's letter had been four times Mr. Ward's letter had been four times as long as it is, because the story he has in mind covers a period of twenty years, and two hundred words are hardly more than a guide board on such a long road as that. He will, of course, except what we say as a high compliment, for there are very low years and whom we say "Would high compliment, for there are very few persons of whom we say, "Would they had talked longer," so we will give you his leter just as he wrote it without a syllable omitted.

"Off and on," he says, "I have suffered for twenty years from a sluggish liver. My eyes were tinged of a yellow colour; I had a dull, heavy pain at the side, and a mist seemed to come before my eyes. I had a foul pain at the side, and a mist seemed to come before my eyes. I had a foul taste in the mouth, and pain and fullness after meals. I suffered agonies from colic; when the bad attacks came on I writhed and groaned with pain, and often thought I should die. In August of last year (1892) I became as vellow as a marketid and externed as then, through an occasional dose of the Syrup, I have kept in good health. (Signed) Henry Ward."

Mr. Ward thus gives us a glimpse of an experience of which we are sure the full details would be both interesting and instructive. For, if all the men and women who are oppressed and haif crushed with chronic indigestion, dyspepsia and liver complaint (in England alone) were to move into Bedfordshire, it would crowd that county with the saddest lot of people you ever laid eyes on. And not one you ever laid eyes on. And not one of them but would be glad to read what a fellow victim had to say. Nevertheless thousands of them will see this article in the papers, and find out what cured him, which is the very ub of the case after all.

In fact, one has already heard of it through Mr. Ward himself—personally. It is a lady, living at Sharpenhoe, near Luton, Bedfordshire. She says that the early signs of her cumplaint appeared in the spring of 1886. Her symptoms in many respects resembled those named by Mr. Ward. She was frequently sick, and would strain and vomit for as much as twelve hours at a time. "I had great pain across the stomach," she adds, "and what seemed like a lump would rise into my throat, causing me such agony that the perspiration ran from my face in streams. I got so nervous and frightened that even a knock at the door would startle me. I got little or no sleep of mights, and grew so weak that I could barely get about. The doctor gave me medicines and recommended mustard plasters, but they did not help me. One day Mr. Ward, the stationer of Barton, called at our house and told me what Mother Seigel's Syrup had done for him, and urged me to try it. I acted on his advice, and after I had used the Syrup a short time all pain left me: I could eat and my food gave me strength. By taking a dose once in awhile I have kept well ever since. (Signed) ((Mrs.) Kate Smith."

Now, please mark this. Liver complaint, loss of appetite, sick stomach, constipation, rheumatic pains, nervous prostration, etc., are all one thing, and that one thing is indigestion and dyspepsia. Oure that and you cure them. And what cures that the writ-dyspepsia. Oure that and you them. And what cures that the ers of the above letters have tol. Why will people go on suffering after year when it is easier to be than to be

THE TURKS FIGHTING.

Athens, July 6.—The Turkish troops, after a fight with the inhabitants, have reoccupied the village of Kalabaka, North Thessaly. The attack have reoccupied the village of Kala-baka, North Thessaly. The attack was made last Thursday by Turks and Albanians, two thousand strong. The inhabitants fought desperately, killing many Turks, but were finally overpowered. Most of them fied to the mountains. The others have prob-ably been massacred or been taken prisoners. The Turks after villaging the town destroyed it.
