

Passing of the Poorhouse is Forecasted in a Village of Hope

A Model Town, to Cost $2,000,000, Will Take the Hapless Poor of Chicago to Its Kindly Shelter.

Chicago, Oct. 26.—Kindness has conquered the old-style poorhouse which in Chicago, as everywhere else in the world, has spelled terror to old age and sorrow for human failures.

There will be no human wrecks there long; everybody, for the first time in their lives, perhaps, will make themselves successful. They will be real men and women because they will be made happy and kept busy. There will be pleasant rooms, and household work for those who cannot do farming.

Prince Ito Meets Death at the Hands of an Assassin

Tokio, Oct. 26.—Gloom prevails in the city following the assassination of Prince Ito at Harbin. Details were lacking tonight and were eagerly awaited. It is said that the Prince received three wounds. When the foreign office received the news it immediately notified the members of the cabinet, many of whom hastened to the foreign office. These included General Terauchi, the Minister of War, the Prince's brother-in-law, and the death of her husband at Oslo, their country home. Their son, Hirokuni Ito, is in London. A younger son, Bunkichi, is engaged to a daughter of Premier Katsura. The foreign office is besieged by inquiries, these including all the diplomats accredited to Japan, among whom the Prince was very popular.

Prince Hirobumi Ito was one of the most prominent, if not the first statesman of the Japanese empire. He was born Sept. 2, 1841, of parents unknown to him. As an orphan he was adopted into the family of Juro Ito, a samurai of the lowest rank in the Choshu clan. Young Ito studied under the great master of the time and developed brilliantly. In 1863 he undertook the celebrated pilgrimage to England in defiance of the laws of Japan, which forbade natives to go abroad under the penalty of death. In 1880 he was appointed Premier and Minister of the Imperial Household Department. He was created a Count in 1884 and Prince at the conclusion of the Russo-Japanese war, which he did his utmost to prevent.

London, Oct. 26.—The assassination of Prince Ito, who was regarded here as elsewhere in Europe, as the maker of modern Japan, though everywhere deplored, is not regarded in official and diplomatic circles as surprising. In view of the bitter enmity of the Koreans over their Japanese occupation of their homeland. It has been a half century since the Prince was in England and so he was known personally to but few here, nevertheless his work in spreading western ideas and the subsequent eminence which he attained in diplomacy and statesmanship made his name a household word. Since the news of the murder was received here the Japanese embassy has been filled with government officials, diplomats and other callers who telegraphed of inquiry and condolence without number are being received.

Washington, Oct. 26.—Diplomatic circles here were shocked at the assassination of Prince Ito. The Japanese Embassy here was plunged into mourning. Officials of the State Department expressed their sorrow for the taking off of so distinguished a personage as Prince Ito, whom they looked upon as one of the foremost of the world's statesmen.

TYPES OF SO-CALLED "PAUPERS" CLEARING SITE AT OAK FOREST FOR "MODEL VILLAGE."

Common Sense. "I'm a Republican," Busse answered, "and if that is socialism it's also common sense. I don't care what you call it, as long as it turns failure into success."

There are about 2000 paupers in Chicago and Cook-co, who are failures by all tests organized society has put on them. But given a chance away from the city, with tools in their hands and clean beds to sleep in, what will they become?

Every one of them Busse pointed out would share in the production of all that the Oak Forest home for the poor is built on a high tract of rolling land beyond the zone of city smoke and grime. At one side of the tract is a forest of oak trees in which the buildings are being constructed, partly by the poor people themselves. The village itself will consist of two broad streets, at right angles, which will mark the location of the various buildings.

COME TO THIS OTTAWA HOME Talbot Fortune Finds Claimants in Capital—History of Property an Intensely Remote One—Who the Heirs Are.

Ottawa, Oct. 26.—As the result of a romantic episode which occurred nearly one hundred years ago in England several residents of Ottawa and the vicinity expect to become possessors of an immense fortune known as the Talbot millions. The presumable heirs to this fortune are J. Bleeks and Mrs. J. Andrews of Ottawa, Mrs. Gideon Taylor, Aylmer, W. H. Bleeks, Gary, Talbot Bleeks, Chicago, W. C. Mann, Stillville and several others.

History of the property is a romantic one. About 1820 Lady Anne Talbot, daughter of a wealthy nobleman of England, fell in love with a man named George Healey. To this attachment, her father was strenuously opposed and he determined to prevent her marriage. The daughter, however, eloped and married the man of her choice. They lived happily together for a number of years, one son and one daughter being born. While on the aid with the Healeys, the former Lady Anne Talbot died. Her husband then came to Canada with his two children and settled near Ottawa.

Upon the death of Lady Anne Talbot's father, the estate passed into the hands of a son, who later died intestate. By process of law the estate properly devolved to the children of Anne, but at the time they could not be found, as Canada was then a comparatively new country and the heirs had been lost track of. Late in the afternoon of the 26th, however, it was discovered that the division of the immense estate is expected to give each of the numerous heirs about $65,000.

DEPUTATION AT OTTAWA IN DRY DOCK PROJECT

A Dry Dock at St. John Would Be to the General Advantage of Canada, Declares Hon. J. D. Hazen.

Continued from page 1. Mr. Dobell urged that the matter was a national and not a local one. Dry docks do not pay for operations, however, the shipping interests of Canada had formed an alliance with other interests and had provisionally formed a company with $1,000,000 capital, subject to the Government granting the aid which they requested, which the company was prepared to build at these two points dry docks of the dimensions already given.

THE ARGUING PARSON COMMON IN ENGLAND

Glancing over the various fishing reports I have been impressed of late with the large number of clergymen who are followers of St. Peter and St. Isaac—real enthusiasts many of them, skilled users of fly rod and roach tackle, and ranking from the highest dignitaries of the church to the humblest of curates.

THE EMPRESS ACCIDENT

Mr. G. M. Hosworth mentioned the recent accident to the Empress of Ireland, saying that if the accident had been a little more severe they would not have known what to do with this immensely valuable vessel. Mr. Dobell supplemented his former speech by stating that as short a time ago as last week, a powerful American candidate had approached Mr. G. T. Davis to try to induce him to sell out this entire interest in his wrecking plant. This would be deplorable to see the only wrecking plant on the St. Lawrence route pass into the hands of an American corporation.

Miss Nan Brennan can be a star when the time comes. She has proven that it is in her. The other night when Mabel Lambert, in "The Midnight Sons," one of the Shubert shows in New York, was ill, the stage manager was accosted by Miss Brennan, who was only just a pretty chorus girl. "Give me a try at it," she begged, "I know the whole part." She'd been using her brains, while she was chorus.

TAFT WANTED BEEF HE GOT TERRAPIN

Washington, D. C., Oct. 26.—News has drifted here from San Antonio that the expressed desire of President Taft to have a boiled dinner at that place was denied him through a misinterpretation of a word in a telegram. The San Antonio people were willing but not anxious, to provide a simple repast for the president at their "banquet" in his honor, and when they read Mr. Taft's appeal in the newspapers for homely viands they telegraphed him to ascertain whether he really would rather have beef and cabbage than the usual array of rich dishes served at formal functions.

MAJOR BULLOCK

Mayor Bullock stated that the same considerations applied to the Bay of Fundy. The clearances of vessels flying from St. John across the Atlantic number 1,300 in the year, while the clearances and water rates, yet with limited in that direction. So far as the city administration was concerned, it was willing to do whatever was reasonable.

THE ARGUING PARSON COMMON IN ENGLAND

My lord bishop here and there yields the salmon rod, Canon So and So is out after sea trout, and the village parson is trying to outwit the wily chub. This season some of our clerical friends have caught heavy baskets of trout in Scotland, and I also hear of their success in salt water.
