AUSTRALIA'S NEWEST WARSHIP LAUNCHED

Fifty Thousand Enthusiastic People Greet the Warrego as She Glides into the Water, —A Fine Vessel.

Sydney, May 20.—Already a glow of pride has warmed the heart of all Australia by the advent of the first boat of the Australian Navy "The Warrego" and "The Parramatta," already thousands of Australians over seas have sent back a "Coo-ee" of approval and everywhere they glory in the fact that the "Navy of the Southern Cross" has been born. These boats were something to boast of, but now the third "The Warrego," the destroyer, the first unit of the new navy to be constructed in the Commonwealth, lies majestic on the placid waters of "our beautiful harbor," reflecting the determination of Australia to provide adequate assistance to the Motherland when the Empire calls and show to the world that the defence proposals of the Commonwealth are not a toy thing.

Named the Warrego. In time of danger may thy movement be swift." Smaah went a bottle of Australian champagne as the words were pronounced by Mrs. Jones, wife of the Minister for Defence, and the third ship of the Commonwealth navy slid gracefully into the water.
