WEDDINGS.

Oxford, N. S., Aug. 13.—A very pretty wedding occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Myatt, when Rev. G. R. Kyle united in marriage their daughter, Ethel Georgia, to Russell Bancroft Harvey, of Grand Manan. Promptly at 4 o'clock, to the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March, the bride and groom took their place on the lawn under an arch, artistically garlanded, of ferns and daisies. The bride was becomingly attired in a suit of navy blue serge, with hat to correspond, and carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses and pink carnations. After the ceremony a well-appointed lunch was served. Amid showers of confetti and hearty congratulations, the happy couple motored to Oxford Junction, boarding the train for St. John, where they will spend a brief honeymoon before leaving for their new home at Grand Manan, N. B.

WEDDINGS

Francis-Baird.
Special To The Standard.

Fredericton, N. B., Aug. 20. — A pretty home wedding was solemnized this afternoon at 3 o'clock, when Miss Verna Leola Baird, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Baird, York street, became the bride of Henry James Francis, of Winnipeg. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. S. Sutherland, and took place in the drawing room, which was prettily decorated with flowers and potted plants. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was unattended, and wore a travelling suit of taffeta silk, with hat to match, and furs. The bride is a graduate of the Provincial Normal School, and for some years was on the teaching staff of the Winnipeg schools. The groom owns a ranch just outside of Winnipeg, but at present is engaged with the C. N. R. During the war he was attached to the Canadian Navy. Many beautiful presents were received by the young couple, including silver, cut glass, linen, china and cheques. Among the out of town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Baird, Mr. and Mrs. P. T. Flewelling, of Chipman; Mr. and Mrs. F. D. McMahon, of Minto; Mrs. Fowler and Miss Fowler, of Newcastle; Mr. and Mrs. Willard McNaughton, of Upper Gagetown; Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Gale, of Young's Cove; Arthur Scribner, of Chipman. Mr. and Mrs. Francis left by the C. N. R. at 5:25 o'clock on a wedding trip to Toronto, Ottawa and Niagara Falls, and will be at home in Winnipeg after September 1st.

Not Enamored Over Selection

Farmers' Sun, Leading Agricultural Paper in Ontario, Says, from Agriculture Standpoint, Mackenzie King Falls Short of Requirements of the Case.

The Farmer's Sun, a leading agricultural paper in Ontario, is not enamored over the selection of Mackenzie King as leader of the Liberals.

"From the standpoint of agriculture, this is a very important respect, he falls lamentably short of the requirements of the case. The whole public interest of the new leader seems to be centered in the life of the great cities in which he has been educated and where his associations have been found. His mind is saturated with things connected with the sweat of the workshop and the manipulations of the offices in which financial and industrial magnates spend their business hours. He has never shown the slightest indication of knowledge of, or real interest in, the conditions that have left the concentration, while cities have grown to unwieldy proportions. And a man who is without knowledge of or interest in the foundation of the national structure can hardly measure up to the standard required of a national leader."

Will Atlantic Progressive Liberals.

The Moose Jaw News expresses a western view of the new Liberal leader as follows:

"The election of the Hon. Mackenzie King, by the gathering of partisan Liberals, as their leader, shows that the old policy of Sir Wilfrid Laurier is to be continued, with all the old evil practices of party government still remaining. What this will mean we all know. It is for this reason that the selection of the new leader, an alienate all progressive Liberals, and will certainly not draw into its fold the men who, while holding Liberal principles, still are ready to maintain the strength of Unionism. No support of the returned men, to whom he refused to send help in their time of need, is to be expected. The farmers of the West will look askance at the man who is known to have secured his election by the votes of men of the East, so that in reality he will be hemmed in by antagonism from all sides. Consequently he is far from being the man to whom the Liberal party can look with hope that he may put that party in power. It is true that he has taken a strong stand on the Labor question, but there is little to be found in 'Industry and Humanity' that is not incorporated in the policy of the present government on the Labor question. As John Morley once said, 'We shall see what we shall see,' but from the records of the past of the Hon. Mackenzie King he is hardly likely to prove to be the Moses for whom the old Liberals were looking."

Convention Was Run by Politicians.

The Eastern Chronicle, New Glasgow, whose editor attended the convention, says: "There is no denying that it was run in the interests of the politicians until it came to the election of a leader. Then," says the Chronicle, "the rank and file banded together, and in by antagonism from all sides, they elected their choice as leader in the person of W. L. Mackenzie King."

Altogether, according to the Eastern Chronicle, it would seem to have been rather an astonishing convention. It was meek and subservient to the politicians. "Then it might have done something useful for it by inducing it to select a leader in whom the country could have reposed a confidence instead of an unknown and untried man whose political honesty and ability there is much reason to suspect."

It will be for the Eastern Chronicle to unravel this web of its own and its party's weaving. Its efforts will be watched with considerable curiosity, and, probably, with a great deal of amusement.

W. M. King and Chinese Labor.

(From the Peterborough Review.) On page 62 of his book, "Industry and Humanity," Hon. Mackenzie King relates that when he was in China in 1909 on a labor mission as the representative of the Canadian Government, he found that steel ingots were being exported from Woonching to the United States and that some of the steel eventually found its way into Canada. Mr. King, with refreshing frankness, goes on to say that except for the handicap of tariff and transportation, the workers in the iron and steel plants on this continent might as well have had their Chinese brethren working in adjoining plants, with no regulations as to hours or other conditions of labor, and with standards of living the reverse of such as are maintained by legislation in advanced communities.

Mr. King then explains how it is possible for the Chinese to sell steel products in the United States and Canada in competition with the home manufacturers. It is all a question of the cost of labor and the conditions under which the Chinaman works. Iron workers in the Orient receive the Canadian equivalent of $3.20 to $4.00 a month. The man attending the furnaces is paid $8, and the most highly skilled workman does not receive more than $16 a month. The compensation of the foreman is $24. All men work twelve hours a day seven days a week. At such times as shifts were made from day to night work or vice versa, there were continuous stretches of eighteen hours of labor. There were no Sundays, no holidays, the mills being operated 364 days in the year.

Mr. King says that except for the tariff the underpaid Chinese laborer might as well be in Hamilton or Toronto working in direct competition with Canadian labor and with no restrictions as to hours and living conditions as they are at home.

Mr. King and his party are pledged to reduce the tariff which protects the Canadian workmen not only from the cheap labor of the Orient, but from that of Europe as well. Reducing the tariff, according to Mr. King's own

Chief of Police Has Indorsed Tanlac

North Sydney Official Says Tanlac Did Him a World of Good — He Wants to Help Others.

"Tanlac has done me a world of good and I want the people to know it, for it helps me I believe it will help others," said Daniel A. Cowans, chief of police of North Sydney, N. S., in an interview at the City Hall recently.

"At various times during the past three years," continued Chief Cowans, "I have had trouble with my stomach, but for the past six months I have not been able to eat a square meal without suffering terribly from indigestion. Always after eating gas would form on my stomach and bring on spells of bloating, pain and shortness of breath. At times I would become almost blind, and at other times when these attacks came on me I would always have to sit down until they wore off. I got to where I never ate any heavy foods, for if I did I would pay well for it in suffering. Sometimes I found it hard to get any sleep, as I was so restless I would lie awake at night, and I most always felt tired out in the mornings."

"Seeing Tanlac recommended so highly I concluded to try it and must say it has helped me wonderfully. It certainly is surprising how quickly the right medicine will get anyone to feeling right again. I am eating anything I want now, even pork and cheese, and other things I would not dare touch before, and I never feel the least bad effects afterwards. And since the gas has stopped forming on my stomach I don't bloat up or have any more pains about my heart. I have an appetite like a wolf and enjoy all my meals. I am also getting perfect rest at night, and am just gaining ground all the time. I can recommend Tanlac very highly and am glad to make this statement for what it may be worth to others, especially those suffering from stomach trouble and a run-down condition."

There is not a single portion of the body that is not benefited by the helpful action of Tanlac, which begins its work by stimulating the digestive and assimilative organs, thereby enriching the blood and invigorating the whole system. Next, it enables the weak, worn-out stomach to thoroughly digest its food, permitting the nourishing elements to be converted into blood, bone and muscle.

It overcomes, it is said, that great exciting cause of disease—weakness. It renders the body vigorous and elastic, keeps the mind clear and energetic and throws off the symptoms of nervousness and indigestion. It builds up the constitution weakened by disease and mental and physical overwork, quickens convalescence and is an untailing source of comfort to all suffering from such troubles. Tanlac is sold in St. John by Ross Drug Co. and P. W. Munro under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative.—Advt.

Fine for Skin Exposed to Sun or Flying Dirt

These days the face needs special care and attention. Flying dust and dirt, the beating sun, are severe on any skin. Their despoiling effects are best overcome by the application of pure mercurized wax. This keeps skin and pores in a cleanly condition, the complexion beautifully white and spotless. Reddened, tanned, freckled and roughened cuticle are actually absorbed by it. Once once or mercurized wax, obtainable at any drugstore, is sufficient to completely renovate a soiled complexion. It is used like cold cream, allowed to remain on over night, and washed off in the morning. It is simply splendid for use after a motor trip, an afternoon at the tennis courts or on the golf links.
