BODY OF ALBERT J. GORHAM FOUND IN RIVER SUNDAY

Moncton, Oct. 7.—The mystery surrounding the disappearance of A. J. Gorham has been solved by the finding of the body of the missing man in the Pettesville river this afternoon, about eight miles above Moncton. About 4 o'clock a young man named George Hoar, son of William Hoar, who was at Manal Steeves', went down on the marsh for the cows. It was high water, and he saw a body floating in the river face down. He sent word for assistance, and Steeves' soon arrived and after following the body down river for a mile, the high wind drove it ashore and it was secured. The body was brought by Steeves to the city about 9 o'clock tonight and taken to Undertaker Tardif's rooms, where it was positively identified by friends.
