

When the System is all Run Down

Often All That is Needed is a Tonic To Build up the Blood

There are many women who have been invalids or semi-invalids so long that they accept their condition as a life burden. They have endured broken sleep, stomach trouble, nervousness, headaches and weakness so long that they have given up hope of enjoying good health. In most of these cases a well chosen diet, fresh air and a tonic to build up the blood would do wonders. To all run-down, nervous people the experience of Mrs. H. J. Cameron, Waterville, N. S., will be of deep interest. She says:—"About two years ago I was in a miserable, run-down condition. I was unable to do my work, my head ached day and night, my nerves were all unstrung, and for three weeks I could not eat or sleep. I then decided to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a trial and got six boxes. By the time I had used half of them I felt much better, and when I had taken the six boxes I was as well as ever. I could work again and feel tired and have been strong and healthy ever since. I have never taken any medicine that did me so much good and will always highly recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

You can get these Pills from any medicine dealer, or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

YOUR OWN TOWN

Your own town is where your home is, where your business is situated, where your vote is cast, where your children are educated, where your neighbors dwell, and where your life, or the greater part of it, is spent.

It has a right to your loyalty. It supports you and you must support it. Your town wants your friendship—not partisanship, co-operation—not dissension, sympathy—not criticism; intelligent support—not indifference.

Your town supplies you with law and order, trades, friends, education, recreation, and the rights of a free-born Canadian. You should believe in your town and work for it.

You will always find people who are willing to condemn their own town, their own country, and the world in general. You will also hear people say that the world is a funny place to live in, and that it is going to the dogs. On the other hand you will hear people say that the world is all right, but the people that live in it are all wrong, and we believe there is a great deal in this.

Compare our lives in Canada today with those of our forefathers fifty years ago. In those days there were few railroads, no motor cars, no telephones, no lighting plants, no radio, nor a thousand other things that make life worth living today.

In spite of the fact that conditions are not as good as we would like them to be, Canada is a good place to live in and your town is the best town in Canada.

A woman or a man are not to be known by their looks or outside.

Don't Wait for the Break

When your car is running good—you want to keep it going that way. It is a good plan to have your car looked over periodically, even though it may seem to be in the best of running order. If you do this, you may save many dollars by averting a bad break when on the road. Let us look over your car and do any necessary tightening and cleaning, oiling, etc. As a motorist you will understand the logic of this, and won't hesitate to take the necessary precautions.

We are always glad to help you with your car troubles.

CENTENARIAN PASSES AWAY PEACEFULLY

Harborville's grand old lady, Mrs. Rachael Robinson Morris, relict of the late Isaac Morris, passed away on July 23rd, 1925, aged 102 years, 3 months and 15 days.

The end was simply a peaceful passing away, and occurred at the home of her only daughter, Mrs. Emma Armstrong, at her home in Burlington, a mile or two from the old lady's home, where her grandson had taken her a his car for a few days visit. The remains were removed to her home in Harborville where the funeral was held, being conducted by the Rev. Arthur Hocken, an old time pastor and friend of the deceased.

Rachael Robinson Morris, was probably the last of the Emory Loyalists in this country. Her father, the late Henry Enos Robinson, left the Colony of Massachusetts in 1812, came to what is now known as North Kingston, where he met the family of Benjamin Palmer, who about the same time came out from England and married Rachael, one of his daughters. Rachael was a daughter of record on the books of the Parish church at North Kingston, as having occurred there, March 18th, 1822.

They removed to the Bay Street at Morden where his daughter, Rachael met and married the late Isaac Morris, who died about twenty-five years ago.

Shortly after her marriage, they removed to Harborville and settled on the farm which nearly a century has been the home of the deceased.

When Mrs. Morris was a girl of fourteen, Queen Victoria began her long reign, so that Grandama Morris lived during the reign of three of Britain's rulers.

In her early years and until she was married, there was nothing known of kerosene or stoves. Cooking was all done in fireplaces, and baking in ovens of brick or stone.

She lived to see and enjoy the benefits of the telegraph, telephone, electric lighting, automobiles and even airplanes, although she never enjoyed a ride in the latter.

She was essentially an out-door woman, active to the last day of her life. She leaves three sons: I. Bloomfield Morris, relict of the late Isaac Morris, at Harborville; Lockhart Morris, of Rockland, Maine; Lathrop Morris, of Boston, Mass.; and a daughter, Mrs. Emma Armstrong, of Burlington, this country; besides a score or more of grand and great-grandchildren.

Grandma Morris will be universally mourned by the people of Harborville, who will sadly miss her. Her remains were laid to rest beside those of her late husband in Berwick Cemetery.

Following the Flittin'

Jock's wife was one of those invalids who could never stay long in one place. She was again removing, and as Jock, weary and dejected-looking, was walking behind the van he was accosted by an acquaintance, who asked him, "What are ye gunn doin' Jock?" Jock shook his head sadly, "Man," he said, "I dinna ken; I'm following the flittin'!"

Hope is the dream of a man awake.

Wasting No Shots

While a shooting party was out for a day's sport a raw young sportsman was observed taking aim at a pheasant running along the ground.

As it is unsportsmanlike to shoot a bird while it is on the ground, a companion shouted, "Hi, there, never shoot a running bird."

"What do you take me for, you idiot," came the reply, "Can't you see I'm waiting till it stops?"

THINGS NONE TOO GOOD IN CHINA

According to Dr. Edward W. Kirk, who is Dean and Professor of Anatomy in the Kung Yee University Medical School, Canton, who was in Canton a month ago, the Government there is completely under the control of Bolshevik agents of Soviet Russia. Dr. Kirk is now in Canada on his way to England.

Cable advices from far Western China indicate that the wave of anti-foreign agitation has reached that area, but has not daunted the Canadian missionaries in Szechuan Province. Field headquarters advises that August sailings of missionaries need not be delayed, as the Provincial Government is strong and friendly.

Coincident with the receipt of these reassuring reports there comes word that the general situation in China is very serious indeed. The Russian Bolsheviks and Chinese Nationalists are closely allied and Russia is not only supplying the Chinese with arms and ammunition in huge quantities, but is declared to be urging China to declare war upon Great Britain. Such is the warning conveyed to Premier Baldwin by the General Council of the Trade Union Congress, a body well equipped to get reliable information from Russia.

Twelve foreign warships, including four British and four French, are on watch in Canton.

"The letter to have a peace with two regions than a war in which there is none."

"It was an improvisation," replied the musician.

"Ah, of course!" said the youth. "An old favorite of mine, but for the moment I had forgotten its name."
