

Gleaned by the Way.

Scintillated (on guard)—'Halt! Who comes there?' The Colonel—'Idiot!' Scintillated—'Advance, idiot, and give the countermand.'

He (cautiously)—'What would you say if I should ask you to marry me?' She (likewise cautiously)—'If you knew what I would say would you ask me?'

Her Baby had Eczema. Mrs. P. Clarke, Belmont, Mass., writes: 'My baby had eczema on his neck. The sore was very bad and nothing seemed to help her. Hearing of some remarkable cure Dr. Chase's Ointment had made me begin using it and with the third application the sore began to heal. The cure was thorough and complete and we give all credit to Dr. Chase's Ointment.'

Minister's Wife—'Wake up!' There are burglars in the house, John. Minister—'Well, what of it? Let them find out their own mistake themselves.'

'What is your principal object, anyhow,' asked the visiting foreigner, 'in building that Panama canal?' 'Well,' answered the native, 'we have an idea it will limit the size of future battleships.'

The Pains of the Aged. Are usually due to the tendency of the kidneys to wear out on age advances, giving rise to the accumulation of poisons in the blood and causing backache, headache, itching humors and rheumatism. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Pepper Pills are particularly adapted to aged people because they can be relied upon to invigorate the action of the liver, kidneys and bowels and so remove the cause of pain and ache.

'It is the duty of every man and woman to be married at the age of twenty-two,' said the lecturer.

'Well,' said a woman of thirty, with some asperity, 'you needn't tell me that. Talk to the man.'—Philadelphia Ledger.

'That, sir,' said the jeweller, triumphantly, pointing to a marble timepiece, 'is a magnificent specimen of the clockmaker's art. That clock will go for eight weeks without winding.'

'And how long,' asked the customer, 'will it go with winding?' 'A ticking or dry cough can be quickly loosened with Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy. No opium, no chloroform, nothing unsafe or harsh. Sold by A. V. Rand.

Mrs. Highmore—He preached to an audience of women, did he? And he took for his text, 'Let your woman keep silence in the churches?' That must have seemed like a deliberate insult to all of you.

Mrs. Upmore—Quite the contrary. You ought to have heard how he roasted Paul for writing those words!

CASTORIA. The Kind You Have Always Bought. One evening the head of the household came home earlier than usual and was very hungry. He said to the maid, 'Please tell the cook to accelerate the dinner.'

The maid brought back word to this effect: 'If you please, sir, the cook says she hasn't any in the house but if you can wait a little while she will send for some.'

Over the country he hungrily strode. He swallowed a forest or two at a gulp. And picked his teeth with the fork of the road.

A man came into a police court the other day, carrying a friend on his back. 'What is the matter?' asked the judge. The man answered, 'Judge, this man is a friend of mine, and his name is Gann. Now, Gann is loaded. I know that it is against the law to carry a loaded gun on the streets, so I brought him in here.' The judge said: 'Gann, you are discharged.'

At one time both Montague Matthews and Matthew Montague were members of the British House of Commons. Mr. Matthews was a big, powerful giant of a man. Mr. Montague was thin and emaciated. The Speaker frequently confused the two.

'I can't understand it,' said Montague Matthews. 'There's as much difference between us as there is between a horse chestnut and a chestnut horse.'

At a dinner recently several men were discussing the merits of different kinds of game. One proffered partridge, another woodcock and still another thought a quail the most delicious article of food. The discussion and the dinner ended at about the same time. 'Well, Harry, said one of the men speaking to the water at his elbow, 'what kind of game do you like best?' 'Well, Mr. Jones, to be frank, almost any kind of game suits me, but what I like best is an American eagle served on a silver dollar.'

Why the Salesman Succeeded.

He was neat in appearance. He had dignity of bearing. He was never late in keeping his appointments.

He had no conceited and arrogant manner. He believed in his proposition. He never talked too much. He gave his prospect with respect with gross flattery.

He knew all the fine points of his own goods. He never offended the prospects by undue familiarity. He never attacked his competitor's goods.

He never ridiculed his prospect's ideas and methods. He made a careful preliminary study of his prospect's case. He relied on solid argument based on facts, and not on bluff.

He never got lost in a forest of details, and could stick to essentials. He had not been 'with the boys' the night before, showing the effects.

He never talked too much. He gave his prospect a chance to explain his needs and position. He could answer questions and objections intelligently, concisely and convincingly.

He did not try to close his prospect before he had worked him up to a point of conviction. He never lost his nerve because the prospect presented such a sniveling front, and did not forget that battles are won by hard rallies at the finish.

He knew his business when he made his approach; talked clear cut business after he got in, made it his business to fight all the way through, and do business before he left.

A falling tiny nerve—no larger than the finest silken thread—takes from the heart its impulse, its power, its regularity. The stomach also has its hidden, or inside nerve. It was Dr. Shoop who first told us it was wrong to drug a weak or falling stomach, heart or kidneys.

His prescription—Dr. Shoop's Restorative—is directed straight for the cause of these ailments—those weak and faltering inside nerves. This, no doubt clearly explains why the Restorative has led to such a rapid increase in popularity. Druggists say that those who test the Restorative even for a few days soon become fully convinced of its wonderful merit.

Anyone dropping from the clouds into Les Avants, the delightful and great European summer resort, might well think that he had chanced upon Prosperina's private garden, for he would find himself completely enveloped by a scented sea of blossoms. At this moment, growing in undulating masses, are millions of stalks of the golden-eyed narcissus. Nor are the hillsides covered exclusively by this flower. They are almost equally invaded by forget-me-nots and other flowers whose home is in thick herbage. As a consequence, the place is full of visitors, ascending and descending, and everywhere stooping, their arms laden with the white and splendid bunches. The snapshot shows Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Dixon resting amongst the flowers. Mr. Dixon is a brother of Rev. Canon Dixon, Toronto.

Nothing in the way of a Cough is quite so annoying as a jolting, teasing, wheezing, bronchial cough. The quickest relief comes perhaps from a prescription known to Druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy. And besides, it is so thoroughly harmless that mothers give it with perfect safety even to the youngest babies. The tender leaves of a simple mountain shrub, give to Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy its remarkable curative effect. It is truly a most certain and trustworthy prescription. Sold by A. V. Rand.

An amusing incident occurred in connection with the recent visit of the Prince and Princess of Wales to Aldershot, when Master Wood (grandson of the Princess) presented a bouquet to the Princess. The little fellow had been well coached beforehand, and was anxious to carry out his instructions thoroughly, which, in fact, he did—banding the bouquet and bowing with singular grace. But as he walked away he involuntarily muttered, 'Thank goodness, it's over!' a remark which caught the quick ears of the Prince of Wales, who, laughing heartily, exclaimed, 'That part was certainly not rehearsed!'

Pain can be easily and quickly stopped. Pain Tablets—Dr. Shoop's—stop headache, womanly pains, any pain, anywhere, in 20 minutes. Formulas on the 25c box. Ask your druggist or doctor about this formula—It's New. Sold by A. V. Rand.

One of the anecdotes which Andrew Carnegie is fond of telling concerns a cracked bowl and an aged spinner who one day found themselves at a concert. The selections were apparently entirely unfamiliar to the gentleman, but when Mendelssohn's 'Wedding March' was begun he pricked up his ears. 'That sounds familiar,' he exclaimed. 'I'm not very strong on those classical pieces, but that's very good. What is it?' The spinner cast down her eyes. 'That,' she told him, demurely, 'is the Maiden's Prayer.'

What Think You of This, Young Ladies.

Not very long ago, a number of female educationists in Japan drew up a code of rules by which the girls of the Flowery Kingdom are to guide themselves in the matter of social deportment. These rules certainly do not err on the side of leniency, yet it must be confessed that some of them are replete with that rare wisdom mis-called common sense.

Don't have a talk with young men in a closed room; the presence of a third party is required. Don't visit young men.

Don't see a bachelor at his lodgings except under the guardianship of an older woman. Don't communicate with young men; when necessary, send letters through proper men. Don't open yourself the letters which you have received from a stranger.

Don't exchange photos and other articles with young men. Don't go out, if possible, after sundown; when necessary, be accompanied by a chaperon. Don't travel or put up at a hotel without a chaperon.

Don't live alone in any house without a chaperon, expect relatives or friends. Don't behave vulgarly towards men taking every care in speaking and deporting.

Don't speak with men and receive favors therefrom without being introduced to them in a proper manner. Don't take a walk or play games with a young man without a chaperon.

Don't see young men off or meet them on a trip.

AFTER SUFFERING YEARS

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Fox Creek, N. B.—I have always had pains in the loins and weakness there, and often after my meals my food would distress me and give me nervousness. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done me much good. I am stronger, my digestion is better, and I can walk with many others. I have encouraged many mothers of families to take it, as it is the best remedy in the world. You can publish this in the papers.—Mrs. WILLIAM BOYDGETT, Fox Creek, N. B.

The above is only one of the thousands of grateful letters which are constantly being received by the Pinkham Medicine Company of Lynn, Mass., which prove beyond doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from good herbs, actually does cure these obstinate diseases of women after all other means have failed, and that every suffering woman owes it to herself to at least give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial before submitting to an operation, or giving up hope of recovery.

Mrs. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has cured thousands to health, and her advice is free.

God Bless Our Cause. Bless our national anthem. God bless our sacred cause! We plead for righteous laws. Our homes to shield. Our land has suffered long From an accursed wrong. Whose roots are deep and strong Nor do they yield. Now let the people come, And vote for God and home And temperance laws! We'll be no more deceived; Our land must be retrieved, And from this curse relieved! God bless our cause. —Selected.

Our Thoughts. Every day we are becoming more like our thoughts. If they are mean and selfish, we cannot prevent ourselves from becoming so. If they are unclean and evil, our character and conduct will inevitably be shaped by them. It is true that as a man thinketh in his heart so is he.

As Charles Kingsley says: 'Think about yourself; about what you want, what you like, the respect other people ought to pay you, and then to you nothing will be done. You will spell everything you touch. You will make sin and misery for yourself out of everything which God sends you; you will be as wretched as you choose on earth or in heaven either.'

And on the other hand, loving thoughts will produce loving acts; and a generous, kindly way of regarding others in our own minds will bring us to a generous, kindly treatment of them in daily life.

Ban on Cigarette Smoking. Cigarette smoking by the enlisted men of the United States Navy should be discouraged as much as possible in the opinion of Rear-Admiral Seston Schroder, Commander in Chief of the Atlantic battleship fleet.

Admiral Schroder desires to see a ban placed on the habit and has recommended to the Secretary of the Navy that no cigarettes be sold at the ship's stores to any of the vessels under his command. It is probable that Secretary Meyer will take action on Admiral Schroder's recommendation. With this procedure began his observations as to the effects of cigarette smoking by the Jackies at different times. He believes that cigarettes impair the health of the men and do not increase their efficiency.

Absolute Prohibition for Iceland. A bill prohibiting all import and sale of intoxicants in any shape or form, even in cakes, sweets, or chocolates, has recently been introduced into the Icelandic Parliament. The bill further ordains that ships arriving in Iceland shall have their stocks of spirits and other alcoholic beverages under seal while in Icelandic waters, and that those seals may only be released by the authorities when the ship leaves.

For manufacturing and medicinal purposes alcohol will be imported and sold by the Government in denatured state. It is said that the bill has every prospect of becoming law, as a vote of the people, which preceded its introduction, is in favour of absolute prohibition of any kind of alcohol.

How He Knew Him. A beautiful story is told about Sir Bartle Frere, an English nobleman, who was once the governor of Bombay in India, and of Cape Colony in Africa. He went away from his home on a trip, and on his return his wife went down to the railroad station to meet him. She took with her a servant, who had never seen her husband. When they arrived at the railroad station she said to the servant: 'Now you must go and look for Sir Bartle.' 'But how shall I know him?' asked the servant. 'Oh,' answered the lady, 'look for a tall gentleman helping somebody.'

The answer was sufficient, for when the servant went to look for Sir Bartle he found a tall man helping an old lady out of the car, and this tall man proved to be Sir Bartle himself. There is an example here which every girl and boy would do well to follow. —Selected.

These Wonderful Fruit Juice Tablets Are Winning Friends on Every Side.

Lancaster, Ont., Sept. 15, 1908. I was a martyr for many years to that distressing complaint, chronic Constipation. I tried many kinds of pills and medicines without success, consulted physicians, but nothing did me any real good. Then I began to use your wonderful Fruit-a-tives and the result is that I am entirely cured.

At first, I took five tablets a day, but now I take only one tablet every two days. I am now entirely well, and thanks to "Fruit-a-tives," I give you permission to publish this testimonial.

Vodka Banished from Russian Canteens. The rations of the Russian soldiers have hitherto included a certain amount of vodka distributed after manoeuvres, parades, regimental celebrations, and other special occasions. Despatches state that the Military Council has now decided to replace the vodka allowance by light wine, beer, or an improved quality of food, according to climate and other conditions. The sale of vodka and other spirituous liquors will be prohibited at the canteens and in general, whether in time of peace or war, the soldiers will only be given spirits for medicinal purposes.

New Glasgow, N. S., June 8.—Shot down in cold blood without an instant's warning, Duncan Brown lies cold in death here, while Jack Fraser, the man who killed him, is now in the custody of the police. That he was under the influence of morphine was the only reason that has been advanced why Fraser committed the deed.

Of the despatches from the British Postal service last year, thirty-six per cent. were entirely to drink. And of the reductions of letter carriers' drink caused sixty six per cent. So the Postmaster General stated in a recent address.

HYSLOP BICYCLES Bicycles are rapidly coming back into popular favor, the demand this year being five times what it was five years ago. We have planned for it in two ways—by getting the very best English wheel we can for popular selling, and by saving to our customers all intermediate profits by filling orders direct by mail instead of through agents. In this way we can offer

$50 Wheels for $25 and give better satisfaction all round. The quality of the wheels is all right—only the best materials used and only skilled mechanics employed in their construction. The equipment is right up-to-date and the machine's throughout are such as we can thoroughly recommend. We sell accessories as well as bicycles and our plan is to make wheels serve as a good advertisement to the entire business. Send for illustrated folder.
