why this is? I am sure there are plenty of young ladies of mature years who are readers and who could make the columns more interesting for many of us bachelors. I was pleased to see Rosemary's letter in behalf of her nurse friend. I will be pleased to hear from her friend as she is just the sort I've been looking for these many years. Wishing your paper every success.

Would Become Somebody's Sweetheart.

August 12, 1908.
 Editor.—I have been very much interested in the letters of the correspondence column of the W. H. M. so would like to join the circle. All I will say about myself is that I am 21 years, fair, but if any of the bachelors would care to write to me I will answer all questions. Kindly forward enclosed letter to "Kipling No. 2" and I would like to hear from "A Farmer," if he will write first. My address will be safe with the editor. Thanking you for space and wishing you and your paper every success.
 "Nobody's Sweetheart."

Short but to the Point.

Olds, Alta., August 16, 1908.
 Editor.—Kindly forward the two enclosed letters as per names upon the envelopes and oblige.
 The correspondence column is surely the "right thing in the right place," especially for a lot of us old bachelors and older maids. What's the use to live alone anyway? Our lives are what we make them. No sour bread, muddy coffee or shirts without buttons for me. I'll spend my money without stint on a woman every time but I want a pleasant smile and a sweet voice when coming in from a hard day's work.

Getting His Money's Worth.

Borden, Sask., Aug. 16, 1908.
 Editor.—I like your paper very much, it is always full of good things and suitable for all classes of people. I read it from one end to the other and often read articles several times. I wish I had taken it long ago. I have only taken it three months and think I have got the worth of a year's subscription out of it already.
 I am also interested in the correspondence department and have written and received several letters from correspondents and would be pleased if you will kindly address and forward enclosed letters; you will find each one marked on the back of the envelope, so you will not make any mistake in the one each is intended for.
 I see that "Ally Ann" has given you permission to send her name and address to anyone asking for it. I would be greatly pleased to get it from you. I enclose stamp to pay return postage, etc.
 "Sage Brush Pete."

Charlie of the Auburn Locks.

North Portal, August 16, 1908.
 Editor.—I have been reading your correspondence column for some time and decided to join the happy circle. Nearly all the contributors start by giving a description of themselves. I am too modest to give definite particulars as to looks, etc., but will pass in a crowd, if the crowd is a large one.
 I have been amused by the variety of letters which appear in your columns. Some of those lonely bachelors that want a better half to look after them do not seem to think of the lonely, lonesome time a bright, popular, happy young lady would put in after pledging to stand by them through better or worse. The mere reading of some of the letters would make a person feel sad. As for the ladies, I do not approve of young girls corresponding with all sorts of young fellows who send them a card. This matrimonial question is too serious to be trifled with. Now, I don't want all the young ladies to think I am ugly or stupid because I did not give a fine description of myself. I am popular and can trip the light fantastic with the best of them. I like the style of "Blythe Bridget," whose letter appeared in the April number. Please forward enclosed letter to her.

From a Maid in Glengarry.

Glen Robertson, Ont., Aug. 13, 1908.
 Editor.—I have read with interest the letters in the W. H. M. and have decided to join with the rest. I have taken the magazine for some time and think the correspondence column very interesting. I am 5 feet 2 inches tall, weigh 105 pounds. I have dark brown hair and brown eyes. I would like to correspond with some nice young men for pastime. I am 23 years old and would not like to hear from anyone over 30. I will stop, hoping to see this in print, wishing the paper every success.

Tired Batching, Want Helper.

Quill Lake, Sask., Aug. 18, 1908.
 Editor.—Kindly permit me to a small space in your correspondence column of your valuable magazine, of which I am an interested reader.
 I am a bachelor, 21 years of age, height 5 feet 9 inches, weight 175 pounds, brown hair and hazel eyes. I am considered fairly good looking. I am good at music and always like to have a good time. I do not use tobacco and never drink liquor. I have a homestead two miles from town and have 120 acres broken and 40 acres pasture. I own 4 horses for working and a team of drivers. I would like to correspond with any young ladies between 18 and 30 who do not object to matrimony. I am tired of batching and want a helper, not a slave. I would not ask or expect any woman to milk cows or do any of the outside chores. I will now conclude, with best wishes to the W. H. M. and also to the girl looking for me.

Not in Matrimonial Market, But—

Falk, B. C., August 16, 1908.
 Editor.—For over six months I have been an ardent though silent admirer of the W. H. M., particularly interested in the cupid correspondence.
 May I give some of my impressions of Canada to your readers. I have been in Canada over two years. Am a native of the great commercial centre of Scotland, Glasgow.

There seems to be a great many difficulties between English settlers and native Canadians. I myself think it is pure incompatibility of temper. However, I don't mean to dwell on this subject. Allow me only to say that there are grumblers everywhere in this world and in every nationality.

Having been around quite a bit, I have seen much and learned a little, I hope, and gained some experience though it has been at my own expense often.

Tiring of the many and tedious conventionalities in the Old Country, I decided to come to Canada, and can't say I regret doing so. I am quite happy and contented in Canada, though there is often just the faintest suspicion of homesickness when I chance to meet a Glasgow Westender from my old home. However, I hope soon to make a trip to "Auld Scotland." I have no parents to go home to and see but many sincere and valued friends.

I think when a person emigrates to another land their first duty is to do their best to assimilate themselves to the natives so far as it does not hurt their feelings or their dignity. One can be proud of one's country, of its various good institutions and at the same time respect other people's usages and method of living. Now, to conclude I must say I have found the native English speaking Canadians very kind and broad minded.

A few months ago I was a stenographer in Calgary but since then I have ventured further into the Golden West. I may say my designation is somewhat altered, but am pleased to say for the better. I like my new home and environments. It is all a very delightful change after Calgary. Though the place is small, one need not tire or feel dull. There are innumerable pastimes, such as boating, riding, shooting and there is endless scenery around where one can indulge in sketching and photography to their heart's content.

Now, in closing in may say I am not on the matrimonial list—just yet—but if any of the city or country bachelors care to write to me I shall be delighted to be remembered amongst their correspondents. I hardly think it is essential to give my description. I am 22 years of age, 5 feet 4½ inches tall, weight, accurately unknown, fair hair, hazel eyes, fair complexion. I am afraid this sounds a rather ordinary sort of girl. Yours sincerely,
 "Lady Cora Damtry."

Farmer's Daughter, Likes Farm Life.

Manitoba, Aug. 20, 1908.
 Editor.—I have been a silent reader of your splendid magazine for some time and have become interested in the correspondence columns. I think some of the girls are rather hard on the bachelors. Some girls say they would not like a man that smokes. I have no objection to a man smoking a little after he has done a hard day's work.
 I am a farmer's daughter and like farm life very much. I have had my turn at mowing hay and driving the binder, but I think it's very tiresome to be out in the hot sun all day. I don't see any harm in a woman doing a little work out of doors when she has finished her housework, such as milk a few cows, attend the chickens and weed the garden.

I notice it is the custom to give a description of one's self. I am 5 feet 6 inches tall, am fair with brown hair and charming brown eyes, and am considered good looking; as for my age, I am in the teens. I am a splendid cook and good housekeeper. Am fond of dancing, horseback riding and all kinds of sports. If any good looking young farmer wishes to correspond with me my address is with the editor.
