MAGNIFICENT DISPLAY OF STATUARY.

The finest array of statuary ever exhibited in Ontario is now on view at the show-rooms of W. E. Blake & Son, Toronto.

Those at all interested would find it well worth while to call and note the newest features which the genius of the most progressive manufacturer has incorporated in this statuary.

Among these features will be noted the use of crystal eyes which give the statues a very life-like and devotional expression, the effect being enhanced by the aid of the most artistic art in drapery, the painting being so clearly executed as to make the representation of the natural fabric complete.

In addition to the stock of general statuary have also arrived handsome sets of Stations of the Cross, presenting a varied selection in relief, half relief and full relief.

Marble altars of various sizes and designs are also handled by this enterprising firm whose representatives will deem it a pleasure to wait upon any prospective customer from any part of Canada.

The firm has also added recently to their list of select agencies, that of Messrs. Paecard, the great European Bell Founders, a magnificent sample of whose work may also be viewed in the ware-rooms of Messrs. Blake & Son.

Wide and sincere sympathy is felt for Mrs. Patrick Maloney of Brantford, in the death of her two sons, George who died in Texas a few days ago, and the other, William, who met so sad and awful a death in the terrible railway disaster near Hamilton.

The sincere sympathy of the Catholic Register is extended to Mrs. Wm. Maloney of Hamilton, and her six children, who were bereft of husband and father by the same disaster.

Gifts have been received from all parts of the world by the Roman committee which presented to Pope Pius X. on the occasion of his Jubilee a great gold chalice in the name of the Catholic youth of the entire world. The presentation was made on September 17th, and the Pope used the chalice on that day in celebrating a special Jubilee Mass.

SUBJECT OF THE HOUR

(Continued from page 1.) God had preserved them in extraordinary ways from their enemies, and how when He was come into the world to complete their redemption, they refused to believe in Him, and, blinded by pride, fell into infidelity. Then He concluded with these terrifying words, announcing their sentence for not having guarded the gift of faith: "The kingdom of God shall be taken from you and shall be given to a nation bringing forth the fruits thereof."

And the pages of history that relate the sad story of this once favored people are burdened with their terrible chastisement—their abandonment by God. The people of Israel, exiled from the land of their fathers and scattered over the face of the earth, mistrusted and hated and persecuted, without a temple, without an altar, without a priesthood, bear for now two thousand years the seal of a reprobate people, and are a warning, a living, permanent, universal warning to all people of how God chastises them who guard not their faith.

Fearful warning this, dear people, and may it serve to spur you on to be diligent in guarding your faith in yourselves and your children. The faith has had a glorious history in your own native land, that land that has ever been synonymous with Catholicity, and it is my most sincere wish and prayer that you may live here, in the country of your adoption, lives worthy of your traditions in your own native land, so that future generations may be able to speak of your ancestors in Italy—with sincere Catholic pride.
