MISS F. E. CARROLL
Lady Principal

The Rev. A. C. Tuberville has resigned the charge of the Congregational Church at Hernehill and has joined the Church of England.

The Bishop of Worcester recently re-dedicated the ancient church of Martley, Wors., which has been well restored, the fine tower and the fifteenth century screen being made to harmonize with the old work. During the restoration there were found on the walls various colour-patterns, heraldic work and pictorial cartoons. The original church was built in the time of St. Wulfstan.

Two beautiful windows were lately dedicated in Brompton Parish Church, London. One of these was to the memory of the Rev. Prebendary Covington, who, prior to his going to St. Giles'-in-the-Fields, was for twenty-two years the Vicar of Brompton. The other was erected to the memory of Mr. Charles Cumberland-Ware, who for many years worked as a member of the Church Council, and his wife. Since the Rev. A. W. Gough, the present Vicar, went to Brompton no less than eighteen new windows have been dedicated in the church.

At a meeting which was lately held at Selby it was unanimously resolved to begin the rebuilding of the south transept of the Abbey by at least underpinning the old Norman piers on the south side of the church and by putting in the foundations of the new south transept up to the first plinth. It is hoped that by the time this part of the work is completed funds will be forthcoming to erect the superstructure.

The Rev. E. Gosselin, the Vicar of St. Luke's, Bromley, Kent, announced to his congregation on Christmas Day that with the permission of the Bishop of the diocese (Rochester) an old friend of St. Luke's had offered to finish the building of the church on the following lines: (1) To erect a handsome spire, with provision for, and completion of, a four-faced clock, chiming the quarter hours and illuminated at night by electricity. (2) A first-class peal of bells, to be rung by the parishioners of St. Luke's. (3) The work to be put in hand at once, and all possible labour to be given to the workmen residing in St. Luke's parish.
