

How Good Roads will benefit You.

THEY BENEFIT THE FARMER, because they increase the value of his farm; enable him to raise more profitable crops; his cost of hauling will be low; he can reach markets when prices are best; his children can get to school every day in the year, and he will have more social life and better conditions generally.

THEY BENEFIT THE CONSUMER, because they reduce the cost of living in proportion to what the farmer saves, and by bringing new industries to the community, enable a larger proportionate amount to be paid out in wages, and with increased population, more amusements and better stores.

Public roads are commercial feeders of the city, and every improvement of these roads means a greater prosperity through increased agricultural production and greater stimulus to all industries.

Economical Good Roads

Concrete roads are best from the start and cheapest in the end. They are free from ruts, mud and dust. They give good footing to horses and easier traction to every class of vehicle, but most important is the fact that they require practically no expenditure for upkeep.

Complete information of concrete road construction is yours for the asking, without cost or obligation.

ZION

Zion, Feb. 11.—I guess the weather man has some pretty cold weather in store for us.

Mr. Fred Steinberg who has been seriously ill with pneumonia is improving slowly.

Mr. Arthur McKay and sister Miss Olive McKay of Norwood have returned home after spending a week with their uncle, Mr. H. G. Gordon. The W.M.S. held their meeting at Mrs. H. Casey's and a good number was present.

We are pleased to hear that Miss Clara Hills is recovering from her severe illness.

Mr. Robert Reid entertained some friends on Sunday last.

Mr. Fred Steinberg had a box cutting wood one day this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Jackson Brenner of Alberta have returned home after spending a few weeks with his sister, Mrs. J. Wilson.

Miss Cora Gordon has gone to Norwood to spend a few weeks.

The Misses Wilson entertained a number of their friends on last Friday evening and a good time was had in this vicinity when death called at the home of Mr. Will Armstrong and claimed his beloved wife Bertha. The deceased was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Howard, who reside at Zion's Hill. In relation she was a Methodist. She leaves to mourn her loss a husband and five small children. The remains were interred in Cannifton cemetery. The deepest sympathy of this community is extended to the bereaved ones.

Earth has lost its look of gladness Heaven seems to us more bright Since the spirit of our dear one has taken her heavenly homeward. Even as the winter breezes kill The blooming summer flowers So death did rob with icy chill This fond heart of its joys.

The golden days were open And with farewell unspoken She calmly entered home.

BELLEVILLE WILL HAVE PEACE CELEBRATION

From Thursday's Daily

It was decided at a meeting last evening in the city hall to observe the Peace Centenary Celebration in 1915 in conjunction with the Old Boys' Reunion. Mayor Willis presided and the following managing committee was appointed to strike the permanent committee, on which there will be one representative of every activity of every municipality joining in the celebration in Belleville—Mayor Willis, chairman, pro tem, Lt. Col. W. N. Ponton, Hon. Sec. pro tem, A. McGinnis, P. C. MacLaurin, J. E. Lott, A. J. Smith, H. F. Ketcheson, J. Peppin, Hon. Senator Corby, J. W. Johnson, M.P.E., Rev. R. C. Blagrove, Rev. W. G. Clarke, H. S. Ward, Col. Rathbun, Dr. Kidd, Warden Hubbell, W. S. Herrington, K.C., R. P. Coulter, Major Barragar, Mrs. Willis, Mrs. Armstrong.

Mr. Rossmell, secretary of the Peace Celebration Commission, gave a brief outline of what had already been proposed for the celebration at the different places selected. He first referred to the fact that the celebration, as already has been stated, is to commemorate one hundred years of peace between Canada and the United States. The general committee had already decided on a portion of the program, which included the erection of monuments, thanksgiving services in the churches an educational propaganda with public festivities.

Regarding the monuments, it has been decided that one should be erected in each of the three capitals London, Washington and Ottawa. Two arches were also proposed, one for the east and one for the western international boundary. At various places it was proposed to have monuments erected to mark the international boundary.

HANDS ACROSS THE SEA.

Not a volume of The Youth's Companion is published that does not contain a number of contributions by British contributors—Mr. Gladstone, the Duchess of Sutherland, Rudyard Kipling, Lord Tennyson have in years past written for this great family paper.

During 1914 the Duke of Argyll, formerly Governor General of Canada, will have something to say about "The Scot"—his character and characteristics; Jane Barlow will tell of the "Big Houses of Ireland"; Sir Ernest Shackleton will describe the quantities which lead to success in an explorer; Sir William Ramsay, the great chemist, will write upon "Waste and How to Remedy It"; Sir John Murray will tell about "The Deepest Parts of the Sea"; Dr. C. W. Saleeby, eminent English physician, will describe "The Beauty That Endures."

This tells very little of what The Companion will bring its readers in 1914. As it is today, The Companion is as entertaining as you may remember it. But its larger now, with special Family Pages, Boys' Pages, Girls' Pages. There are fifty-two issues in a year, not twelve.

If you do not know The Companion as it is today, let us send you sample copies containing chapters from Frank Little Pollock's great Canadian serial, "The Timber Treasure" with the Announcement for 1914.

Every new subscriber for 1914 in Canada will receive free all the issues for the remaining weeks of 1914—From the time of subscription until January, 1915—all for $2.25.

Winter in Algonquin Park

Hundreds of Canadians and our cousins across the border have been enjoying the pleasures offered by Algonquin Provincial (Ontario) Park during the past two months. The Highland Inn, the Grand Trunk Hotel in this beautiful territory has been the scene of jolly crowds from all parts of the continent. In the past a southern trip seemed to be the best, and to seek for heat where the cold proved unendurable, but more recently there has been a keen appreciation of the dry frigid of the north, and Algonquin Park is becoming more popular every winter for those who desire rest and recreation. The territory is 2,000 feet above sea level and the air is always dry and cold and the days usually bright. Write any Grand Trunk agent or to the Resident Manager of the Highland Inn, Algonquin Park Station, Ontario, for handsome descriptive booklet.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Lindsay, Feb. 12th '13
Editor Belleville Ontario.

Dear Sir—I noticed in the columns of your well edited paper that your city council is considering the question of permanent roadways, and that the choice of material used will either be concrete wood blocks or asphaltic concrete.

I have made a study of permanent pavements for several years, and have inspected the different pavements used and laid in Windsor, Detroit, Buffalo, Philadelphia and other centers, and the result of my observations of my observations and investigations has convinced me that asphaltic concrete is by far the cheapest as well as the most satisfactory pavement on the market from the standpoint of cost as well as durability. Lindsay and Peterboro laid stretches of asphaltic concrete in 1913 and the people are not only satisfied but delighted as well. I have no axe to grind in advocating asphaltic concrete. I take an interest in Belleville affairs because my late parents were residents of the city for a great many years, and I am anxious to see your citizens get the best in a paving material.

Allow me to suggest that you write His Worship Mayor Beal of Lindsay and Mayor Bradburn of Peterboro, ex. Beeve R. Kyles, chairman of Board of Works, Lindsay.

Yours sincerely,
Thomas J. Bigley

ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION

A very pleasing event transpired at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Honeywell, of Carmel last Monday evening, when the friends and neighbors to the number of about 65 people dropped in to wish good luck and prosperity to them as they are shortly to remove to Cannifton, as Mr. Honeywell has recently bought the shops and business there, formerly owned and operated by Mr. G. Kerr of Belleville. After an hour of visiting and wishing, Miss Pearl Honeywell was called and the following address was read by Mrs. Walter Gilbert—

To Miss Pearl Honeywell—

We the members of the Central Congregational Church, in the great heart of thanksgiving for the great work you have done for us, as organizer for the Sunday School during the past two years. We regret very much your leaving our neighborhood for we will greatly miss your presence and assistance in the great work of the Master in this capacity. We hope that participating in the great cause you have not only been a blessing to us, but also have been greatly blessed in the performance of this duty.

Please accept this present as a slight token of your esteemed services and we hope you will look upon it with kind remembrance of your old associates in Carmel.

Signed in behalf of the Central Congregational Church, 9th day of February 1914.

Mrs. Geo. Vanderwaters then presented Miss Pearl with one dozen beautiful silver knives and forks.

Mr. Honeywell in behalf of his daughter made suitable reply after which refreshments were served, as only the people of Carmel can serve them. Games were indulged in until midnight and a happy gathering was dispersed, remembrances of which will be pleasing in years to come.

OFFICERS OF 14TH WON

INDOOR BASEBALL GAME WITH FIFTEENTH OFFICERS.

The Score Was Twenty-One to Nineteen—First Defeat of the Season For the Officers of the Belleville Regiment.

(British Whig.)

Kingston teams continue to be the "Jonah" for Belleville. Last week's hockey sting had not altogether abated when the baseball team of the officers of the 15th Regt. of the city came down here trailing with it a string of visitors similar to the junior O.H.A. septette before Frontenac finished it. But the military men's record was also broken, for the officers of the 14th regiment trounced the visitors to the tune of 23 to 13 runs. From "only" last the local 14th officers were in to win. In the first three innings they scored 13 runs to the 15th's 3. The Belleville officers steadily improved but their brothers-in-arms were also in action and the eighth and eighth innings were responsible for the major portion of the difference to the total score. Each team played in its usual batteries. The line-ups were

14th	Catcher	15th
Lt. J. W. Stagg	Pitcher	P. Ketcheson
Capt. Campbell	First Base	capt. Cook
Capt. Mills	Lt. B. L. Hyman
Capt. E. Sparks	Second Base	Lt. Middleton
Lt. A. W. Winnett	Third Base	Capt. Hudson
Lt. P. d'Estere	Short Stop	Capt. A. P. Alton
Lt. G. Bawden	Left Field	Lt. R. D. Ponton
Lt. L. C. Lockett	Center Field	Lt. White
Lt. Wrightman	Right Field	Lt. R. E. Orr
Umpires—G.M.S. F. Ludlow, 14th; Lt. L. M. Hughes, R.C.H.A., 15th; Capt. Sergt. Anderson, 14th; D. Hanna, 15th.

FINE CONCERT IN CITY HALL

Beaver Self Help Society Inaugurates New Scheme.

From Thursday's Daily

A new social organization inaugurated its work in Belleville last evening when it held its first concert in the city hall. The new association is known as "The Beaver Self-Help Society. The officers are—

Pres.—W. F. Peake
Vice Pres.—W. J. Huffman
Treas.—E. A. Ridley
Sec.—Ed. G. Young

The society is a body of young men who are laying the foundations of a self-help society, its members' duty being to assist in worthy causes of lack of employment and distress.

The concert which was fairly well patronized in spite of the inclement weather was for the purpose of creating a foundation fund. This society's aim is a sort of insurance guarantee against unemployment of its members.

Mayor Willis occupied the chair at the opening and delivered a few words of welcome.

The talent was among the best that Belleville has produced. Nearly every one of the artists have been heard on the entertainment platform. A new musical organization in the Excelsior Male Quartette, composed of Messrs. G. Dalmege, W. H. Wrightmyer, Ernest Mouck and G. Stallworthy. Their first number was "The Bridge" then came their "Basket of Chestnuts," "Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep" and "The City Choir."

Mr. G. Stallworthy has been heard in the concert and in the church choir, but last evening he stood forth on the entertainment platform. His first selection was "Glorious Dawn" sung in a rich baritone voice. His "Soldier Jim" was also deeply applauded.

Mrs. E. A. Edwards' ability as a reader is already known in Belleville. Her selections were "Mrs. Snob at the Club" and "The Irish Philosopher," both rich in the demands upon the interpreter. Mrs. Edwards made these very elegant studies in various species of human follies very interesting.

Mr. Ernest Mouck was down for two solos "Sweet Vale of Avoca" and "Flow, Flow, Merrily Flow."

Mrs. A. J. Allen was heard in a number of beautiful selections in which she displayed the fine qualities of her soprano voice. They were "Swing My Cherub," "Cariacina," and an encore.

Mr. W. H. Wrightmyer sang the ballad "In Dreams My Own" and "Aileen Allannah" accompanied by the trio Messrs. Stallworthy, Dalmege and Mouck.

Ab. Wheeler shone in all his old time minstrel glory in darkey studies. His first success was a monologue full of Wholesome wit—"Introducing—'Months, Months and Months'—'Parson Jones' Three Reasons'—'I have accepted a call as chaplain in the penitentiary and I go to preach a place in any American'—'Taking down the house. Ab did all this in costume and wig. Nothing less than an encore 'I'm the father of a little black cow satisfied the crowd. Ab played the old darkey to perfection in language, gait and action. No one would take William Doyle for an amateur. Too polished for that! His stage career shone out at every point in the numbers he gave. He sang an oddity "Get out and get under" an automobile love story, as an encore he gave a song from "The Enchanted Garden," a new opera composed by his brother, Mr. J. Nevin Doyle. In his negro dialect songs, his professional training gave him the landmarks of the coast. A monologue "I only came down for the day" was roundly applauded. Mr. Doyle's ease and nonchalance, dramatic ability and fine speaking and singing voice make him a platform favorite.

The accompanist of the evening was Miss Edna Wallace, who performed her duties with much ability.

Eighty acres of woods figured in the transaction. Most of it was parcelled off in four acre blocks.

MYSTERY OF TRACK TRAGEDY

HOW DID JOHN S. DICKSON GET TO FRANK STREET?

Jury Found at Inquest, That He Was Struck by Train Engineer Saw Nothing on Track—Dickson Had Not Flashed Much Money.

From Thursday's Daily

How John S. Dickson of Campbellford reached the spot at Frank street crossing of the G.T.R. where his mangled remains were found on Friday morning last, will likely never remain a mystery. Why he was not seen in the clear moonlight night on the track is another mystery for an engineer Mike of the 12:25 midnight train from the west says that he saw nothing on the rails and that he was keeping a sharp lookout.

The jury convened by Coroner Boyce concluded its jury last evening. Evidence was given by conductor G. Adam of the Peterborough train who saw Dickson with his brother and another man safely arrive in Belleville from Hastings. Ridley Cole, undertaker, who saw money with the remains; John B. Archibald, undertaker, who found a five dollar bill, a one dollar bill and five cents in the trower pocket.

Edgar Smith, at the baggage office saw Dickson with two men at the depot at 4:30. One, the brother went west for Port Huron on the 4:47 for which he had a ticket. This man had asked the third to take his brother John S. Dickson west at the depot at 4:30. At various times Mr. Smith saw Dickson, the last being at nine o'clock, when he was capable of looking after himself. He still talked of going to Paris on the train at 2 a.m. Friday.

When Mr. Smith saw of him was when he went into the gent's waiting room.

Mr. J. L. Tickell produced the money found on the body, and various other articles.

Dr. J. L. Dickson was at the 10 o'clock train at the Hotel. He did not want a room, he said he was going to Paris. Although Dickson had a drink or two, he was sober. At the hotel Dickson did not display any quantity of money. He left a few minutes after 11 saying he was going to the depot.

Leo Murray in company with a boy named Eugene Doyle were walking up the track shortly before 12 midnight on Thursday and in the clear moonlight met a man wearing a black hat and fur-lined coat, walking west between the rails of the Grand Trunk. They passed him about 200 feet east of the Cannifton Road crossing. The boy Murray told the man to watch out, there might be a train coming. This man was wearing a black hat. Engineer Mike of the passenger No. 18, said he could see for a mile or more on a straight track that night. But he saw no man. An engine of 100 tons would not show any jar. When he arrived at the station, at the depot, he saw blood and so forth on the foot board of the left side of the pilot. But not seeing anything he did not think he had struck a human being.

There was nothing to prevent his seeing and he could not account for the fatality. He felt he had done his duty. He had whistled at the first overhead bridge. The train arrived at the station at 12:30 a.m.

Evidence was given by others among them William Craig, who related how the engineer had told him of having hit something and how he had himself seen marks on the engine.

The jury brought in a verdict that John S. Dickson had come to his death on Feb. 6th, 1914, by being struck by an eastbound G.T.R. train, probably No. 18 near the Frank St. crossing. "In our opinion no blame can be attached to any Grand Trunk Railway employe."

Queen Victoria's Nightgown

Mrs. Percival of Kingston an aged lady living on Brock street, has in her possession one of the most interesting relics in that city, and probably the only one of its kind on this continent. It is a nightgown which once belonged to the wardrobe of Queen Victoria, and was often worn by the late queen. The relic is an object of interest to those who have seen it, and is much prized by Mrs. Percival.

Sale of Land Grants

The Grand Trunk Pacific Railway are calling for tenders for land along their railway between Fort William and Graham in the Province of Ontario. This land amounts in all to over 625,000 acres and is divided up into ten blocks of from 44,000 to 70,000 acres each. Maps showing the position of the blocks in question and statements of the rights to be conveyed may be obtained from G. U. Ryly, Land Commissioner, Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, Winnipeg, Manitoba.
