ATHENS, May 1.—The Greek campaign now in progress in Turkey was undertaken as the only way to avoid the possible loss to Greece of Thrace and Smyrna and at the same time to give King Constantine the credit of a great military movement.

The decision of the Supreme Council at the conference in London in February to send a commission to Thrace and Smyrna to inquire into the composition of the populations there filled the Greeks with disappointment and despondency.

Under the proposed revision of the Treaty of Sevres, Greece saw itself about to be reduced to its 1912 proportions, its prowess as a Mediterranean power nullified and its friendship with the Allies alienated. It considered the territorial losses with which the country was threatened a staggering price to pay for Constantine's return to the throne.

All classes awakened to the realities of his situation. They recognized that without financial support from the great powers, the country must become an impotent peninsula state. The absence of recognition by Greece's great neutral friend, the United States, was a particularly painful realization to the people. Many Greeks, even some of the most ardent Royalists, were willing to sacrifice their King if it would win back the goodwill and support of the big nations, particularly the United States and England.

The Venizelist press has taken a sombre view of the situation ever since the London conference and accused the government organs of having intentionally misled public opinion.

The Royalist newspapers naturally endeavored to minimize the effect of the decisions of the Supreme Council and attributed the change in the attitude of the powers toward Greece to every reason except the real one. They inferred that Great Britain's leniency toward Turkey was the result of pressure brought to bear upon England by her Mussulman subjects.

Closing their eyes to the Allied edicts regarding Smyrna and Thrace, the same journals declared that the war against Turkey must go on. Greece, they said, must take matters into her own hands and fight the Kemalists alone and not only advance to Ankara but also to Sivas.

The question of money has been barely mentioned. Hints are thrown out that there will be no difficulty in finding the necessary funds in America and England.

In the meantime the cost of living is mounting and commercial Greece faces a serious prospect. Imports exceed exports fourfold, the treasury is depleted and the Greek drachma has been selling at 14 to the dollar. The poor man, and even the people who were comfortably off before the present chaos, find it burdensome to pay for the common necessities of life.

The Greek people did not grudge the sacrifices made during the last five years so long as they felt it would result in a greater Greece. But today they are becoming convinced that they have been led into a situation which has reduced the country to a fourth-rate power, prostrated its economic life and forfeited to Greece the friendship of the nations of the world.

UMBRELLA MUST MATCH

NEW YORK, May 2. (By Canadian Press).—Four memorials of George Washington will be dedicated in Great Britain during the next three months, according to an announcement made by the Sulgrave Institution, an organization composed of prominent citizens of Britain and the United States. Three of the memorials are busts, presented by the Institution, and the fourth is a statue which is the gift of the people of Virginia to the people of England.

One of the busts which was executed by William Ordway Partridge, will be put in St. Paul's Cathedral, near the tombs of Wellington and Nelson. Another, also by Mr. Partridge, will be placed in the Town Hall at Liverpool. The third, a statue in Paris on an order from Tiffany & Co., will be unveiled at the dedication of Sulgrave Manor, the ancestral home of George Washington. The statue will be placed in Trafalgar Square.

John A. Stewart, chairman of the board of trustees of Sulgrave Institution, sailed for England on the Olympic recently carrying with him not only the Partridge busts but also two bronze memorials of Abraham Lincoln containing the Gettysburg address. One of these will be placed in the old church in Hingham, England, where Lincoln's forebears worshipped.

How Scotian Town
Settles Own Problem

NEW GLASGOW, N.S., May 2.—With characteristic Scotian County enterprise and generosity New Glasgow has set about solving the problem of unemployment for her citizens. The civic government proposes to raise funds by popular subscription to carry on public works, and to pay a living wage to those who are employed in that connection.

The situation in the little steel city of eight thousand persons has not yet reached what might be called "serious" proportions, but unless industrial conditions improve there may be hardship in store for the less fortunate of the population in a few weeks. Forehanded in the matter Mayor Thomas Magon seized the opportunity of adopting preventative measures and called a general meeting at which a number of proposals were put forward. The Mayor informed the meeting that every man was his brother's keeper and it must not be said that any person in New Glasgow was in want or felt any lack of the necessities of life. The time was at hand, he said, when the more wealthy citizens of the town must go down into their pockets. He suggested that twenty or twenty-five thousand dollars be raised by popular subscription and placed in the hands of the City Treasurer. The Town Council would undertake such work on the streets and parks as would be a fitting memorial to the generosity of citizens. The suggestion was adopted with enthusiasm and three thousand dollars was pledged on the spot. A committee was appointed to canvass the town.

The rate of wages to be paid will depend on the size and requirements of the bread-winner's family. Doubts were expressed as to whether unemployed men would work for one dollar or one dollar and a half a day, but the Mayor declared this was to supply bread and was not calculated to provide luxuries or amusements.

FOR QUEEN'S CONVOCATION
Graduates of 1890-1894 To Attend.
Some Interesting Ceremonies.
Kingston, April 23.—In connection with the annual arts and sciences convocation, which takes place at Queen's University on May 11th, the authorities are planning a new feature. For some years there has been a feeling that from time to time reunions should be held of the different graduating years. Principal Bruce Taylor said that it had been arranged that a reunion of the graduating years 1890 to 1894 be held this spring. It is expected that about fifty of the graduates will be present for this event. Chancellor E. W. Beatty will be in attendance. If this reunion proves successful, it is the intention to have events of this kind each year. The graduates will be billeted at homes in the city.

One item of the programme for the reunion will be the meeting of the Alumni, 1890 to 1894, at the city clerk's office on the morning of May 11th at ten o'clock. The graduates will have an opportunity to inspect the memorial windows in the City Hall, and will later take an automobile drive about the city.

TIPS TO HOUSEWIVES

NEW FABRICS IN GOWNS.
British gowns that have just reached this country are of a new fabric. It's called chinelle but is far more interesting than the name implies, the chinelle being knotted into marquisette and giving opportunity for many novel designs.

Plain colored gowns are in many shades, and there is a wide range of color combinations.

The indications of worms and restlessness, grinding of the teeth, picking at the nose, extreme peevishness, often contractions. Under these conditions one of the best remedies that can be got is Miller's Worm Powders. They will attack the worms as soon as administered and they pass away in the evacuations. The little sufferer will be immediately eased and a return of the attack will not be likely.

Start Road Contracts.
Brookville.—Work has been commenced on bridge and culvert contracts Nos. 189 and 191 on the Ottawa-Kingston provincial highway held by John Dillion, Sealey's Bay. There are 59 bridges and culverts on the two contracts which extend from Washburn, in the township of Pitsburg, to Morton, in the township of South Crosby. A BIRD OF A SHOT
Roanoke, Va., April 30.—Robert P. Stone, University of Virginia, student, is a claimant for the 1921 freak golf shot. In a recent game he made a literal "birdie" with a drive shot and brought down a dove flying high in the air. The ball broke the bird's wing but was hardly slowed by the impact and Stone made par on the hole.

Decoration for Long Service.
Brookville.—Thos. A. Reynolds, Brookville, has received from the governors and committee of the Hudson's Bay Company a gold medal with three bars. The medal itself represents 30 years' service and each bar has five years engraved on it making 45 years. Only six other medals of this rank were struck off in commemoration of the 250th anniversary of the founding of the Hudson's Bay Company.

Refuses Harvard's Offer.
Kingston.—Hartley Thomas taking a post-graduate course at Harvard University has been offered a position on the staff of the American university, but declined it to accept the position offered by Wesley College, Winnipeg, preferring to teach in Canada. Mr. Thomas is a graduate of Queen's University. When the war broke out he was in his final year, but dropped his studies to enlist in the first month of the conflict. He served in the air service, and was overseas until October, 1919. After his return he published a volume of poetry entitled "Poems of An Airman," which attained much popularity. Although he had five years of hard service overseas, Mr. Thomas immediately plunged back into his studies. He re-entered Queen's after the term had begun, but managed to finish at the head of his class, winning the university gold medal and a scholarship at Harvard.

May Tour To Toronto.
Ottawa.—There is some prospect that the reliability auto tour of the Ottawa Journal will be to Toronto and back. Hector Carruthers points out a run to Belleville on the first day would make an ideal stretch, finishing the tour in Toronto next afternoon, the return trip being started on the morning after, and possibly spending the night at Kingston, ending the tour in Ottawa again.

Ban German Films
In the United States

New York, April 30.—(By Canadian Press).—The Motion Picture Directors Association here has started a campaign against German-made films charging that they contain an insidious form of propaganda. David W. Griffith, the foremost independent picture producer in the United States came out in favor of some sort of restriction against Toronto films.

The directors at a recent meeting passed a resolution unanimously voting to discourage the exploitation of German films in the United States for an indefinite period, and charging that the Teutonic feature photographs, so far shown here, have shown unsavory phases of English and French history.

Re-Stocking Waters.

Campbellford.—Mr. J. Adams, who has for the past year been a special patrol officer for Campbellford and district, last spring obtained ten thousand bass fry which were freed in the rapid waters of the Trent, and again this spring he managed to secure 200,000 pikelet fry which were evenly distributed between Crow Bay and Percy Boom. Of course all the fry will not live but allow one-quarter to die and the rest to attain an average of two pounds. It would mean that 105,000 lbs. of fish could be procured from this section of the Trent.

A very pleasant and enjoyable social gathering was held at the Ritchie Co. Limited last evening, the Mantle Department being appropriately decorated for the occasion. Mr. C. M. Reid, the President of the firm, was in the chair. The speaker and guest of the evening was Mr. O. H. Scott of the Hydro Commission of the city, his address being both instructive and entertaining. The programme consisted of solos, both instrumental and vocal and readings. The Ritchie male quartette contributed to the enjoyment. Community singing was heartily indulged in. A big feature of the programme was a vaudeville sketch by Pete and Repeat imported from Paris for the occasion. During the evening a presentation was made by Mr. J. H. Bryant in a fitting manner to Mr. and Mrs. Blakely on the occasion of their recent marriage. Mr. Blakely's response was most pleasing. Mr. C. Douglas also shared in the honor of the night in receiving a handsome bouquet. It being the anniversary of his birthday. After the programme a most appetizing lunch was served followed by dancing and cards. The happy event was brought to a close by the singing of Auld Lang Syne and the National Anthem. The Lindsay Piano Co. very kindly loaned an instrument.

A 13-year-old Loran, O. boy was after a record for Sunday school attendance. After 411 consecutive Sundays he was quarantined for smallpox.

Presbyterian Church of New York has voted against the proposal by the last General Assembly that women be permitted to serve as elders.

The annual service of praise will be held in St. Andrew's Church, London on Monday evening, April 26th.

LIBERTY AND LICENSE

A Maritime View of Ontario
The Moncton Transcript

Ontario might very well be described as the key-stone of Canadian confederation. Geographically it forms the backbone of the Dominion; it contains Ottawa, the heart of Canada, and Toronto, the head, brains or nervous centre of Canada—in the opinion of some Toronto folk at any rate. Moreover being bound on one side by the French of Quebec and the English Scotch and Irish of the Maritime Provinces, and on the other side by the rather mixed population of the west. Ontario occupies a strategic position ethnologically and ethnically, and is under special obligations to set a good example to the other provinces, as it did in the recent referendum. Upon his ample shoulders old man Ontario supports the arch of Confederation; and we have every right to expect that he will not also support on his shoulders a bone-head. Therefore it is with surprise and regret that we noted Ontario staging some bone-head plays during the recent referendum on the liquor question; we refer to the attempts to suppress free speech. Some of these attempts were made, if not under the auspices of the "Liberty" League, then by partisans of that organization. Evidently they doubted their ability to find an answer to the arguments of the prohibition speakers when they thought it necessary to try to break up temperance meetings.

The rights of free speech and free assembly have long been regarded as serious matters in British countries—neither to be lightly abused nor refused. Where a speaker is discussing a public question he should be prepared to recognize the right of his audience to heckle him, but the audience should also recognize the right of the speaker to be heard, and the authority of the chairman as to when questioning was or was not in order.

When attempts are made to interrupt public meetings simply because the views there being presented are not acceptable to some people, we abandon the possibility of applying reason to public questions and leave their solution to the passions and caprices of the mob of the moment.

SWEATER MONOGRAMS.

Sweater pockets this season will bear the usual monogram that once was used only on handkerchiefs, and later on scarfs and pajamas.

GINGHAM BATHING SUITS.

Gingham bathing suits for women. It's the latest wrinkle showing in New York.

The checked fabrics have a sprightly touch that dealers say will commend them.

The majority of the bathing suits shown, of course, are the old-fashioned taffeta and satin types.

Dealers predict a big demand this season for one-piece suits owing to the growing inclination of Milady to do her bathing in the water instead of along its edge.
