GOOD REASON, TOO!

It happened at a Red Cross tea held at a country club. The fussy old gentleman of the white vest tapped the tweed-clad youngster on the shoulder. "My boy," he said, "why are you not in the army?"

The boy smiled. "To be frank with you, sir," he said, "I don't like it. There's all this business of sleeping in the mud, and uncooked food, and rain all the time—dashed uncomfortable, you know."

"Uncomfortable!" The white vest-front heaved indignantly. "Are you not of age, in good health or physically fit?"

"Yes—sound as a drum. Just twenty-two, no dependents." The young man was still cheerful. The inevitable group gathered about them.

"Disgusting! Have you no patriotism—no love of country? What is your reason for not being in the army? Confess, coward!"

"I can't be," said the cheerful youth. "I'm in the navy. Eighteen hours' leave and special permission to wear 'civies.'"

Cares for It.

"And do you care for the theater, Mrs. Murphy?"

"Sure, I do not. My husband does that."

"Does what?"

"Cares for the theater! He's the janitor!"

RIGHT IN IT.

"Virginia is consistent in everything, isn't she?"
"What now?"
"Why, her new mermaid gown is to be made of watered silk."

Gasped.

The perfume of the wildwood flower
Expands across the scene,
And then is wholly smothered by
The scent of gasoline.

A Sleepy Humorist.

Mrs. Timmid—John, wake up! There's a man downstairs; I'm sure I heard a noise that sounded like a yawn.

Husband—Oh, go to sleep. What you heard was probably the rubber plant stretching itself."

His Real Worth.

"Did you see the widow of our late friend?"

"Yes, but when I told her I had called to extend my condolences, she asked my congratulations instead. She had just received his insurance money."

Sad but True.

Mrs. Hickson—Some men are so peculiar.

Mr. Huson—How so?

Mrs. Hickson—They would rather lose $30 playing poker than give their wives $10 for a new hat.

Their Way.

"Average juries remind me of a self-cocking revolver."

"In what way?"

"They go off as soon as they're charged, but nobody knows what they're going to hit."

New Names Wanted.

New names for Arctic lands and seas probably will soon be wanted in Ottawa as a result of the discoveries of Vilhjalmur Stefansson, the returned Canadian Arctic explorer. A board of geologists in Ottawa directs the giving of names to all of Canada's new-found possessions.

Suggestions have been made that "Stefansson's Land" should be the name of the group of islands found by the explorer northwest of Prince Patrick Land. Stefansson, however, says new lands are never named after the men who find them.

Another name will be needed for what has long been called Prince Gustav Adolph Sea, thought to be an arm of the Arctic Ocean. Stefansson found that the sea wasn't a sea at all, but contained the new land he discovered.

Found Wagon-load of Eggs.

Pte. Matthew King in a letter to his people at Colborne, tells of the luck of a Canadian battalion which, in taking possession of a captured town recently found a "wagonful of hard-boiled eggs," which they proceeded forthwith to put to excellent use. King adds: "Fritz has plenty of good food for his soldiers, no matter how those at home may be running short."

Paint For Protection
PAINT YOUR BUILDINGS

High Finance and Paint

A farm with buildings preserved with good paint is from a financial standpoint a better selling proposition than a farm which has buildings left bare of paint to all kinds of weather.

The farmer who preserves his buildings, and keeps them in good repair, will naturally leave the impression with the general public, that his farm all around is better kept than the man who lets his buildings get out of repair.

There are about 63 per cent of farm buildings of all classes in Ontario suffering from lack of paint.

A few dollars spent in painting your buildings will increase the value of your property more than you would ever imagine.

Good Roads and Good Paint

Go a long way towards promoting better farming conditions. Paint suggests general cleaning up, and when protection is the motive for painting, you can rest pretty well assured that such a farmer is taking care of his assets in equally good manner.
