WAS ACCIDENTAL.

That is the Ju y's Opinion of the Injury of Mrs. O'Keefe.

Paralyzed by Sudden Fright She was Unable to Get Out of the Way of a C.P.R. Engine.

The inquest into the death of Mrs. Catharine O'Keefe was resumed in the old town hall at half past seven last evening before Coroner Bray. Walter Dezelia was the first witness. He said that deceased was standing 1 1/2 feet from the C. P. R. track on Wellington street at the time of the accident and never moved. The engine was then 20 or 30 feet away. The buffer of the engine struck deceased. The bell was ringing at the time of the accident. Miss Sarah Kerr, who lives next the track, saw deceased just after the accident.

Mary Young, who is employed with Miss Kerr, corroborated the previous witness. She also said the bell was ringing all the time.

Miss Elizabeth Glover, another of Miss Kerr's employees, corroborated the previous witness as to the ringing of the bell.

C. P. R. surgeon, Dr. Rutherford, gave medical testimony as to the injuries sustained by Mrs. O'Keefe. He said, when he arrived he saw one of the trainmen holding up Mrs. O'Keefe. She was in great agony, talking about the pain in her feet. The bones of her right foot were protruding through her shoe. She refused a cordial and while we were bandaging her wounds she fainted. She recovered shortly and the ambulance arriving we took her to the hospital. Later in the evening Dr. Bray, Dr. Backus and witness amputated both feet. Causes of death were shock and loss of blood due to the injuries to her feet.

To Foreman Hamilton—I think that a person might become subject to paralysis if they were frightened and be unable to move.

Engineer Jas. Reddick, of London, said they were going some three or four miles an hour at the time of the accident. The fireman said, "Stop, a woman," and we went perhaps six or seven feet after the brakes were applied. When seen first she was only four or five feet from the engine. She stopped turned half round and looked up at the engine.

Fireman J. MacAllister corroborated the evidence of the previous witness. Coroner Bray then addressed the jury and they brought in the following verdict:

The deceased Mrs. O'Keefe came to her death by accident and no one is to blame. We would strongly recommend that gates be placed at Wellington street. Signed, W. E. Hamilton, foreman, John Jones, William Owens, Geo. Lane, M. H. McGavin, William Geam, John Douglas, William Stegman, Jos. Savage, John Stover, Albert Kilbreath, Jos. Kime, jr., and John Carpenter.

Shirley Danison, of Toronto, C. P. R. solicitor, attended the inquest in the interest of the company.

DRESDEN.

Dec. 2.—Camp No. 68, Woodmen of World, will attend divine service in the Methodist church at 10.30 to-morrow morning.

The Rev. Mr. Henderson will occupy the pulpit of the Presbyterian church to-morrow.

The December sessions of the county council will open at Harrison Hall on Tuesday next. There is considerable business of importance scheduled to be dealt with.

A full attendance of the members of Christ Church choir is kindly requested for this evening at 8 o'clock.

Mr. Forsythe, the recently appointed organist and choir master will be present.

Court McGregor, No. 6, I. O. F., will hold its next regular meeting on Dec. 14th, and all members are asked to be present, as there is some special business to attend to.

The improvements in the jail and court house are progressing rapidly. It is doubtful, however, whether they will be completed in time for holding of the December sessions at the court house.

The eyes have a potent influence over the mind—first, by strain accompanying impaired vision, and again by the tax on the nervous system. No one knows like a nervous person these peculiar mental conditions. My glasses relieve the strain by removing the cause. E. J. MacIntyre, leading optician, opposite Grand Opera House, Chatham.

Just a bit of silk thread! yet the Corticelli Silk Co. make 13,000 miles of it every day—nearly half-way round the globe.

There are a hundred strands of "neat" or "cocoon" silk in each thread.

Each cocoon strand is a quarter of a mile long.

Means that 4,000,000 silk worms every day spin their cocoons for Corticelli Sewing Silk—then die.

Every mile, every yard is full letter A—smooth and strong, spun on machines which stop automatically for the slightest flaw in one of the hundred strands.
