— The splendid achievement of the Canadian Pacific Railway Co.in.torwarding the mails from Yokohama to London in twenty-one days is attracting much attention on both sides of the Atlantic. It is well that the people of England have at length discovered that the best route to the east is through Canadian territory. If the suggestions of Mr. Waddington, to the British government, made thirty years ago, had been carried out the British people would not have had to wait so long for the knowledge they have now gained.
