Carpentier Given the Decision in His Fight With Gunboat Smith on Account Of Foul by the Latter in Sixth Round

Smith's Foul is Said to Have Been Wholly Unintentional.

MEN'S MERITS NOT DECIDED

As the Contest Was Too Short to Decide the Question.

London, April 16.—George Carpentier, the young French champion, and the only pugilist of premier rank France has ever contributed to the game, was awarded the decision tonight over "Gunboat" Smith, the American fighter, on a foul in the sixth round of the fastest heavyweight fight Londoners have seen in many years.

The match between the two heavyweights was fought at Olympia and was scheduled to go twenty rounds. To Smith and his supporters the finish was a tragedy, because the blow for which the American was disqualified was neither studied or intentional. It was launched in the heat of the whirlwind fighting, when the Frenchman had slipped to his knees, and spectators saw the gaunt sailor recoil and attempt to draw back almost as his arms flew out.

Nevertheless, the ending of tonight's fight adds another to the unfortunate chapter of international sport, because it has kindled bad feeling and is likely to be followed by long drawn out arguments.

The popular judgment awarded Carpentier the better of the fight on its merits. Pitted against such a powerful antagonist as Smith, it was evident that the Frenchman's marvellous quickness had not been exaggerated. He showed a left lead like a flash of lightning and a powerful and equally swift right. His footwork was wonderful, and although Smith was remarkably quick for a big man, he was noticeably slower than his younger opponent.

When the French contingent carried Carpentier to his corner in the sixth round, the utmost confusion reigned. The ring was crowded with excited officials and seconds and thousands of spectators were on their feet shouting and groaning.

Gunboat Smith, tall, awkward and grim, towered over the French youth and appeared relatively bigger than he is because of Carpentier's crouching style of fighting.

The Frenchman Declared the Victor

GEORGE CARPENTIER

In the first round it appeared as if the American's superior strength would tell, but through the next three rounds the Frenchman let himself out and showed power behind his blows apparently equal to the American's and with great swiftness. He landed a number of telling blows on the face and body with both hands, and sent Smith down in a heap with a right to the kidneys in the fourth.

The big American was willing to gain time, getting to his feet only after six seconds, just as the bell ended the round.

Between 12,000 and 13,000 persons witnessed the fight, among them 500 women. Probably another such assembly, representing all classes in England's life, many French enthusiasts and American travellers, has never gathered at a prize fight.

At the ringside the American contingent was betting freely at 5 to 1 on "Gunboat" Smith.

At a quarter to ten Eugene Corri, the referee, stepped into the ring and was introduced. He was followed by Dick Burge, Frank Moran and others. Carpentier then entered the ring in a black silk gown amid great cheering.

Carpentier was kept waiting in his corner while Ahearn, Mattie Wells and other fighters were introduced. Bombadier Wells was given a great reception when it was announced he would challenge the winner. Smith appeared in the ring at 9.53.

The Final Round.

Round 6—Smith was disqualified for hitting Carpentier when he was down. Carpentier slipped when trying to land a hard right hand on Smith. Before the Frenchman arose Smith struck him on the face. Carpentier held his head, apparently in great pain, although it seemed Smith hardly touched him. The Frenchman's seconds took him to his corner while the crowd hooted loudly. The referee decided Carpentier had won. Smith remained in the ring. He and his seconds protested against the decision, the crowd jeered and hooted him. Then the Frenchman came to the ropes and received a great ovation as he pointed to his eye and forehead, indicating that Smith had hit him there.

LARRY McLEAN TO GET HIS CHANCE

On Account of Chief Meyers' Injury the Fredericton Boy Will Be Used Regularly.

Long Larry McLean, the Fredericton boy who is John McGraw's second string catcher on the New York Giants, will be given an opportunity to show what he can do when played regularly.

In Chicago this week the Giants lost the service of Chief Meyers, their star backstop, and McLean will bear the brunt of the catching for the next week or more. The former member of the old Tartars has not been working only now and again during the present season, and as a result his magnificent batting average, obtained earlier in the season, has dropped considerably. When the last averages were published, McLean was hitting .240. He has taken part in thirty games and has been fifty times at bat with twelve hits. Larry has scored only three runs.

With Meyers in the game and putting up the splendid article of ball that he has been showing during the present season, it has been quite a job for McLean to break into the game other than as a pinch hitter. The New York Evening Sun, in speaking of Meyers' injury, says that his loss will not be felt as much as will that of Marquard, who is laid up with tonsillitis, as McGraw has McLean to fill the Indian's shoes.

On the form shown by Pitcher Ben Tincep against the Pirates, Manager Charley Doolin expects his wealthy Indian to be a prominent member of the Phillies' pitching staff.

Before leaving Cincinnati, Armando Marsans closed a deal with a Cincinnati firm to handle a cigar called "Armando Marsans," with the player's picture on the band. Five thousand cigars arrived in Cincy the day after Marsans left and the firm can't sell 'em now.

Pitcher Morton of the Naps was known as the strike-out king in the Eastern Association, from which league the Naps recently got him. He pitched well on his first tryout here, but did not get many strikeouts.

The general situation was discussed and decisions at a special meeting held all the clubs at a special meeting held last night at Sec. Cooper's office in the Journal building.

The features of the day included the lowering of the track record in the 2:17 pace by Clara Walker, the Early Reaper mare, driven by Downer, which Hank O'Day is not letting any pitching talent escape him. He paid $2,500 for Casey Hageman when the Cardinals put him on the market. O'Day figures that a little more strength in the pitching department will make his team a pennant contender, with a strong chance of winning out.

Joe McGinnity, the one-time iron man of the Giants, has quit as bench manager of the Tacoma club. In the future McGinnity will devote his time to the business management of the team and Russ Hall will be playing manager.

The lead picked up by the Baltimore Orioles will not survive very long with the team's stars going at the present rate. But any sort of a team ought to win about half its games for the season under a lead that the Orioles now have.

THE CELESTIAL LEAGUE.

Imperials and Pete Play Tonight—Two Picked Teams Played Yesterday Afternoon.

Two picked teams from the Celestial League played at the College Field yesterday afternoon before a small crowd. The executive of the league gave the Thursday half holiday a try out and like the Fredericton Driving Club, found it was not a paying proposition. The team captained by Bert Hayes defeated the one with "Tril" Edgecombe in charge by a score of 7 to 4. There was some snappy fielding on both sides, but the pepper that is generally shown in the league games was lacking. The winners lined-up as follows: Hall, catcher; Wilson, pitcher; Spencer, first base; V. O'Ree, second base; Coward, third base; H. O'Fee, short stop; Adams, left field; Hayes center field; Carney, right field, while the losers had McLean, catcher; Walker and McAdam, pitcher; Barry, first base; Coy, second base; McAdam and Walker, third base; Robinson, short stop; Edgecombe, left field; Johnson, center field; Kitchen, right field. Umpire, Holly Wandless.

Game Tonight.

What will probably be one of the best games here this season will be played this evening, when the Pets and Imperials clash. All who saw the last game of these two teams, when the latter won by a score of 2 to 1, were convinced that these teams can put up a pretty good article of ball, and there will no doubt be a large crowd on hand.

CLOHECY TO QUIT GAME.

Billy Hamilton May Succeed Him as Manager of the Haverhill New England League Team.

Boston, Mass., July 17.—The New England League was represented by all the clubs at a special meeting held last night at Sec. Cooper's office in the Journal building.

Tommy Raymond, Driven by Bert Lint, Turns a Complete Somersault in the Second Heat of Class A Pace, and Had to be Withdrawn—Jack Leonard Had Shoulder Dislocated in Accident at Springfield Track.

Accidents put an end to the matinee racing at the Trotting Park last evening after three heats had been pulled off in the Class A pace. The Fredericton Driving Club had only one class on the programme last evening, but there was enough excitement provided in that one class as generally the case in three or four races.

Three pacers faced Starter D. J. Stockford, Stella Jewett, Bessie Pardoner and Tommy Raymond, but the accidents made only three heats possible and the race was unfinished. The first heat went off smoothly with Stella Jewett winning, Bessie Pardoner second and Tommy Raymond third. The second heat saw the first accident of the evening. Tommy Raymond was in third place when he made a bad break at the quarter pole. Bert Lint, who was driving, did not make any effort to pull up the little horse, and as a result the gelding turned a complete somersault. Mr. Lint was not even thrown from the sulky. Tommy Raymond was unable to finish the race and did not appear for the third heat. In the last heat of the evening Stella Jewett, who looked like a sure winner, made a break and fell to her knees. Sandy Stewart was able to bring her to her feet, but she fell again, and once more Stewart brought her on her feet and finished the heat. She was unable to start in the fourth heat, however, and the race was declared off. The summary:

Schmidt, the big first basemen of the Braves, is now showing some of the batting form that George Stalling predicted early in the season. After the poorest kind of a start he is now batting between .250 and .300.

According to a St. Louis article, Ollie O'Mara, the young St. Louisian covering short for the Robins, was complimented highly by Manager Robinson several days ago. Robby told him he would get what was coming to him next season and O'Mara is said to have answered: "If I don't I'll get it in the Federal League."
