THE NEW-YORK WEEKLY TRIBUNE entered on its thriteenth year on the 3d of Suptember, it was enlarged to the size of the SemiWeekly and Daily, adding more than one-fourth to its capacity—also without increase of price. This Enlargement adds at least $20,000 per aname to our expenses, in addition to the previous cost of our Daily Enlargement already effected. All our editions from the 1st of September appeared in entirely new and beautiful type, prepared expressly for this paper.
Our Steam Cylinder Presses are not surpassed by any in the world. Even though our Weekly Edition should be rapidly run up to 100,000 copies, we are prepared to print and mail every copy on the day (Thureday) that the form is put to press, without interrupting or retarding the regular issue of our three Daily editions, amounting to Twenty-edd Thousand copies. We stand ready to adopt any improvements, however expensive, which will enable us to disseminate intelligence more freshly and effectively, and shall especially hall, as we labor to effect
a radical improvement in the celerity and reliability of the Mails.

us to disseminate intelligence more freshly and effectively, and shall especially hall, as we labor to effect a radical improvement in the celerity and reliability of the Mails.

THE TRIBUNE has not now its character to make or to proclaim. It has not been and never can be a misre-party organ. It has supported the Whig party because the distinctive principles of that party appeared to shaver the great ends which it has laboured to subserve; it never advocated a measure because it was proposed or sustained by the Whig party. It holds itself at all times as free to condemn unseound principles, anawise measures or corrupt acts should the two former be propounded or the latter perpetrated by Whigs, as though they had emanated from the hostile camp. In so far as Peace, Liberty, Education, Temperance, Internal Improvement and Industrial Development may be subserved by acting with the Whig party, it must continue to be, as it has been, Whig.

Though never acting with any Abolition or other one-idea party, THE TRIBUNE is and must be the releatless foe of Human Slavery, as of whatever else tends to degrade Labor and obstruct the intellectual and social development of any portion of mankind. Were it able to perceive that a vote in New-York could abolish Slavery in Carolina, it might attach itself to some one of the expressly Anti-Slavery parties: lacking that light, it declines to abandon the substances for the shadow of political good. But while it does not see its way clear of any effective Political action against Slavery in the States which now cherish it, it regards the defeat of whatever effect to extend the giant wrong under the flag of our Union, or to obstruct by its power the progress of Abolition in other lands, as among the most urgent and sacred of public duties, not to be subordinated to any party consideration whatever. And, while it does not propose to make Anti-Slavery the basis of Political action, other than defensive, it will neglect no opportunity, remit no effort, so to diffuse Light and Tru respondence will, as heretofore, be both reliable and satisfactory.

points throughout the world we need not here dilate. Of the fact that our Associate, BAYARD TAY-LOR, is now on the other side of the globe, sending as advices from the seat of war in China, and expecting soon to depict for our readers the physical, moral and social characteristics of jealousy-guarded Japan, the public is already aware. He will probably return by way of Australia and California, in both of which we have several correspondents. Briefly—we shall spare no expense to keep our readers well advised on every subject of interest, and doubt not that the same generous measure of patronage hitherto accorded to us will continue to repay all our exertions. Any friend who believes he will do good by increasing the circulation of THE TRIBUNE is authorised to colicit and receive subscriptions; and, on due proof that money has been mailed and postpaid to our address, we take the responsibility of its safe transmission. Specimen Copies will promptly be sent without charge to those requiring them, and we trust many friends will be moved to ask their neighbours and acquaintances to jois in making up a Club to commance with our Enlarged Sheet and New-Type our the first of September, or at any time thereafter.

A limited amount of space in the WEERLY TRIBUNE will be appropriated to advertising.

The "Philadelphia Saturday Gazetle," says of Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters.

"It is seldom that we recommend what are termed Patent Medicines, to the confidence and patronage of our readers; and therefore when we recommend Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters, we wish it to be distinctly understood that we are not speaking of the nostrums of the day, that are noised about for a brief period and then forgotten after they have done their guilty race of mischief, but of a medicine long established, universally prized, and which has met the hearty approval of the faculty itself."

In this mammon-worshipping Age, it is rare to find a man place his usefulness to the public, before his interest. During a late visit to the 'City of Spindles,' we were presented by a professional friend, to the celebrated Chemist, DR. J. C. Knowing the unpracedent nonularity of his medicines, and the important discovery, my little boy would now have been in another world.

In this mammon-worshipping Ago, it is rare to find a man place his usefulness to the public, before his interest. During a late visit to the 'City of Spindles,' we were presented by a professional friend, to the celebrated Chemist, Dn. J. C. Ayen, whose name is now perhaps, more familiar than any other, at the bedside of sickness, in this country. Knowing the unprecedent popularity of his medicines, and the immense sale of them, we had expected to find him a millionare, and rolling in wealth. But no, we found him in his laboratory, busy with his laborars, among his crucibles, alembics, and retorts—giving his these personal care to the compounds, on the virtues of which, thousands hang for health. We learned, that notwithstanding his vest business, and its prompt returns in cash, the Dector is not rich. The reason assigned is, that the material is costly, and he persists in making his preparations so expensively, that the nett profit is small.—American Farmer, Phil.

Hon. C. D. Hincline, Mayor of the City of Camden, N. J., suys:

"Hoopland's German Bitters.—We have seen many flatering notices of this medicine, and the source from which they came induced us to make inquiry respecting its merits. From inquiry we were persuaded to use it, and must say we found it specific in its action upon diseases of the liver and digestive organ, and the powerful influence it exerts upon nervous prostration, is really surprising. It calms and strengthens the nerves, bringing them into a state of repose, making sleep refreshing.

If this medicine was more generally used, we are satisfied there would be less sickness, as from the stomach, liver and nervous system, the great majority of real and imaginary diseases emanute. Have them in a healthy condition and you can bid defiance to epidemics generally. This extraordinary medicine we would advise our friends who are at all indisposed, to give a trial—it will recommend itself. It should, in fact, be in every family.
