

Could Not Digest His Food

Suffered for Years From Indigestion Until Cured by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Mr. J. D. S. Barrett.

If you suffer from chronic indigestion, forget about the stomach and pay attention to the condition of the liver and bowels. Ten to one that is where the real trouble lies. The liver gets sluggish and fails to filter the bile from the blood; the bowels become constipated and the whole digestive system is upset. As to cure, you cannot do better than to read of Mr. Barrett's experience with Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. There is no treatment so prompt and thoroughly effective. Mr. J. D. S. Barrett, Nelson, B. C., and formerly of Twillingate, Nfld., writes:—"For several years I was a great sufferer from indigestion. The least bit of food caused me considerable trouble and often I could scarcely eat a meal a day. The many remedies I tried proved futile until in 1906 I began the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and after using about eight boxes I was completely cured. Since that time I have not been troubled with indigestion, which I consider a great blessing." Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, one pill a dose. 25 cents a box, all dealers or Edmondson Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

On Mysterious Disappearances.

BY RUTH CAMERON.

Ruth Cameron.

Do mysterious disappearances like that sometimes happen to you? And afterwards do you usually have reason to be sorry for any unkind suspicions you have entertained? I fancy so, for that is the experience of almost all of us. As I look back I can see that I have very seldom been suspicious of anyone in this way without having had reason to regret my suspicions. If it is a choice between accounting for a loss by the dishonesty of some person who, according to all other appearances, is honest, or by the cussedness of inanimate objects that have a mysterious way of taking to themselves wings, isn't it infinitely better to take the latter alternative? For in the first place, it is really the more likely explanation; in the second place it is infinitely kinder. If we grow older successfully—

This shocking lake of misery was being constantly fed by rivulets of snot and tears bringing in fresh victims from the camps and forts, and by others who crawled in of their own accord, seeming to prefer to end their days in company with their fellow men, or else expecting to find succor or release from their immediate torments.

All the tracks leading to this impromptu morgue were dotted with the bodies of those who had died on the road. From time to time empty bullock waggons would pass through and the bodies of those in whom life was extinct would be dumped into them, carted out of the village and thrown into great pits, where sleep thousands of poor Asiatic peasants.

Incompatibility.

BY H. L. RANN.

H. L. Rann.

Incompatibility is a long, eloquent word which is used to separate people who would like to exchange the married yoke for a better fit. Sometimes people try four or five different yokes before they find one which will not balk at the word "obey" in the ring service. A man is said to be incompatible when he lies abed in the morning and argues until noon as to who shall build the kitchen fire. When a woman is afflicted with a husband who is so incompatible that he can't empty a pail of water or fill the coal hod without being urged by a stove leg, she is perfectly justified in giving him back his freedom and the second-hand bedding suite which he contributed on the wedding morn.

The courts have declared that a woman is incompatible when she interferes with her husband's rights as a free moral agent and objects to having him play Kelly pool until his knees buckle together. Nothing will discourage a man so much as to discover that while he has been blowing in the uric acid of a sealskin coat on gin rickies and police court dues, his wife has developed a case of incompatibility which cannot be cured by anything except a thorough divorce.

Incompatibility usually attacks people first in the temper, which rises violently to the surface and indulges in playful remarks. These remarks are always jotted down and used with great effect by the attorney for the plaintiff. If it were not for the temper, the jury would never know how incompatible the defendant had been unless they noticed the swelling behind his left ear.

There would be less incompatibility rushing into the divorce court if more people would give and take. The trouble is that some want to give a whole lot more than they take. Incompatibility which shows itself in front of the children can't be wiped out by saying grace or attending revival meetings. The only cure for it is to sweeten up and stay there.
