Entertainment at the Institute.

Last night the Pierrot Troupe of H. M. S. Cornwall assisted by the warship's full brass band gave a most successful concert at the Grenfell Hall of the New Seamen's Institute. From start to finish continuous rounds of applause were given the entertainers. All those who gave vocal and instrumental selections had to respond to encore's whilst the jokes and dialogues listened to were mirth-provoking. A feature of the performance was an excellent exhibition of club swinging by the gymnastic instructor of the warship. The concert, which was in aid of the Institute, will be repeated to-night.

Tried To Suicide.

Yesterday afternoon the police were informed by parties on the Blackmarsh Road that a woman there was acting in an erratic manner. Inspector Colbin drove to the place indicated but found that the people about had given the poor creature shelter. She had waded out into the lake, but young boys swimming there kept her from getting over one of the overfalls which would for the woman mean a fatality. The Inspector took her to the city, when Dr. Cowperthwaite after examination sent her to the Lunatic Asylum.

Kyle From Labrador.

The S. S. Kyle, Capt. W. Parsons, arrived here yesterday at 5 p.m. Since the ship left she had bad weather it being foggy with a temperature which at times dropped almost to zero. The ship went down as far as Nain and her reports as regards the codfishery are that the stationers are doing poorly but that the floaters have reported a great improvement. Those who brought their schooners to the far North will make fairly good average catches. Nearly 400 Conception Bay fishermen were landed at different ports in the Bay by the ship.

CHARLES J. FOX died 1806, aged 57. English statesman. Burke calls him "the most brilliant and accomplished debater that the world ever saw," and Mackintosh says "he certainly possessed, above all moderns, that unison of reason, simplicity, and vehemence which formed the prince of orators."

CLARA WIECK born 1819. One of the greatest pianists of her generation. She became the wife of Robert Schumann in 1840 and during her frequent concert tours did much to familiarize the public with her husband's compositions.

QUEBEC TAKEN— WOLFE DIED 1759. Wolfe's little army, having descended the St. Lawrence in boats and stealthily scaled the Heights of Abraham was discovered at dawn by the astounded French Commander, Montcalm, drawn up in battle array before Quebec. The fighting was desperate but the capture of Quebec wrested Canada from the French. Wolfe was but 32.

DUKE OF WELLINGTON died 1852, aged 83. He learned the rudiments of war at the French academy in Angers. In 1787 he entered the Army. His supreme gift was his indomitable firmness and grand strength of character. As a statesman, his wisdom, his moderation, his high sense of duty, his perfect integrity, won the heart of England.

The Expatriate.

Jack Johnsing's gone to dwell in France, to come back never more; no more in twelve-foot rings he'll prance, on this, his native shore. The other pugs may swap hard knocks, and strive to gain a pile, but never more shall Johnsing box or smile his golden smile. The horrid news came o'er the wires: "Jack Johnsing won't return! The thankless country of his sires he evermore shall spurn! He clasped that country to his breast, and made it what it is, and then it bit him on the chest—he's done with it, gee whiz!" And yet our flag waves just the same in sunshine and in fog, and e'en the age-old fighting game has not yet slipped a cog; the rivers ramble to the sea, and in the sunbeams dance, although Jack Johnsing says that he will not come back from France. Our bulwarks stack up just as high as in the days of yore; palladiums you cannot buy much cheaper than before; our grand old Constitution still has prestige in the land; it seems that swords of Bunker Hill are largely in demand. Undaunted by one dire mischance, our divers paths we'll roam, and Johnsing may remain in France until the cows come home.

News by the Kyle.

By the Kyle we learn that on August 21st the Stella Maris rescued a crew of fishermen belonging to the schooner 'Ben Hur,' Capt. Jabez Winsor, of Wesleyville. The men were taken from the "lun" side of an island near Cut Throat on Northern Labrador. At 4 a.m. that day, four men in a motor boat towing two other boats went to their traps and when coming back encountered a N. E. gale. One of the fish-laden boats turned over and was smashed on the rocks. The motor boat was run in under the "lun" of the land and sheltered there, but the water containing many icebergs, the men on board were chilled until the Stella Maris picked them up. Mr. Alfred Ward Birdsall, of Pittsburg, who was on the ship, made photos of the occurrence.

Girl's Nerves Fully Restored

Was Never Able to Obtain Lasting Benefit Until Dr. Chase's Nerve Food Was Used.

Too many girls grow up with weak, anaemic bodies and exhausted nervous systems. Indoor life and too much application in school are sometimes the cause.

The blood needs enriching and the nerves need strengthening by such treatment as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. This food cure is doing wonders for many thousands of girls whose parents had almost despaired of their ever developing into strong, healthy women.

Mrs. J. Bagnall, 395 Woodville avenue, Toronto, writes: "My daughter suffered from nervousness since childhood, and any medicines she tried did not do any lasting good. We read in the papers about Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and my daughter used it with wonderful results. This treatment has built up her system and so strengthened the nerves that she feels like another girl."
