LETTER FROM W. A. HARE. Halifax, Jan. 19, 1900.

To the Editor of The Express. DEAR SIR, - As I understand from father that you would like to hear The STORE FOR from us, I take this opportunity-probably the last in Canada, to write you. On my part, I reported for duty at Drill Hall, Ottawa, 10 a.m.. Jan. 5, and went to barracks on exhibition grounds, where we were drilled every day, D. Battery all counted, then about 166 men and 136 horses, six waggons, and one blacksmith shop. On January 12th had a hoe-down as they called it, and I can say for myself that there was plenty of fun and excitement. A Scottish dancer and Long ago began planning and buying for this sale. In several instances we cleaned up odd lots away below the market values, and by so doing we were enabled to obtain splendid Goods for less money than we probably can at any future time, and every visitor to this sale may share in the savings thus effected. The goods we put on sale are :--Ladies' White Wear, White Cottons, Factory Cottons, White Quilts, Table Linens, Table Napkins, Lace Curtains, &c. bagpipe, a string band, and some good men for recitations were there. Everybody enjoyed themselves.

On January 13 the guns were loaded on flat cars after a grand parade through the city, and cheering was deafening. Also had some fun with new horses on cannon. During the evening No. 405 sub division barracks were entertained by music by some club from the city. On the 14th we had parade, etc., during the day. In the evening a partly silly fellow came to the barracks under the impression that he would like to enlist. It was very comical and amusing to the regulars who played many jokes on the poor fellow. On the 16th, as I suppose you have heard, we left Ottawa about 11 a. m., and I understand that one of the largest crowds ever seen at an occas ion of this kind was at the station, but as I was picket in horse car, I did not see much. Was relieved from duty as picket near Montreal, but we swiftly passed outskirts of city, passed Lachine Rapids and out long bridge in Southern Quebec. We travelled nearly all through this Province at tight, as we were near St. Lawrence Gulf next morning The country seemed mountainous and very poor. As we had a special train, 16 cars drawn by two Moguls, we travelled very fast. Also had regular colonist sleepers and dining car on train nothing except kill time.

Campbeliton, in New Brunswick, was reached at 2:10 p.m. The people seem more loyal than in Quebec, as everywhere we were met by brass ands and large crowds. Reveille at 6:30 a. m., Jan. 17th, found us at Truro in Nova Scotia. Arrived at Halifax at 10 a. m., 17th, and unloaded horses, stabling them at Willow Park. Our quarters are in armories in city. Also loaded D Battery guns and carriages on Laurentian, as that is the vessel we leave on to morrow at 10 a. m., nearly 24 hours for us in Canada yet. Some of the mounted police are here, and although all fine men, their horses are not very pre-possessing, as I think we can make a better showing in that respect. They will be loaded on boat to-day. Halifax does not appear to be nearly so fine a city as Octawa or London. Houses are shingled to son Aylmer.

There's about the same difference between the rightly made Underwear and the usual store kinds, as between the old and new method of photography. The right kind is sold in very few places. There may be people who have lots of money to whom this Underwear sale would mean nothing special, but everybody isn't rich, and to those ladies who have the least money, this White Wear Sale appeals to space; will not permit us to use cuts, or even mention all the different lines we have in stock. We have from the least to the most expensive varieties in our collection. "See our show windows."
